Soviet Offers Plan On Border Disputes

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has put to the nations of the world a proposal to sign an international agreement renouncing the use of force in settling territorial and frontier issues.

A Tass digest of the message said Khrushchev had told world leaders in messages delivered Thursday:

"At the present time such a situation has arisen when it is possible to practically pose and solve the problem of excluding from international life the use of force in territorial disputes between states."

The message says the international agreement should contain four main provisions:

First, a solemn undertaking by the parties not to resort to force to alter existing state frontiers;

Second, acknowledgment that the territories of states should not, even temporarily, be the object of any invasion, attack, military occupation or any other forcible measure directly or indirectly undertaken by other states for whatever political, economic, strategic, frontier, or any other considerations;

Third, a firm statement to the effect that neither differences in social and state systems, nor refusal to grant recognition or absence of diplomatic relations or any other pretexts may serve as a basis for the violation by one state of the territorial integrity of another;

Fourth, a committment to solve all territorial disputes solely by peaceful means such as negotiations, mediation, conciliatory procedures, and also other peaceful means chosen by the parties concerned, in conformity with the United Nations Charter.

The Tass summary of the message added:

"The Soviet government is deeply convinced that an undertaking by states to settle territorial disputes by peaceful means only would go a long way toward putting international relations in order.

"It can be said with confidence that in the new situation created by the conclusion of an agreement on the renunciation by states of the use of force to settle territorial disputes it would be much easier to find a solution to other fundamental international problems. This applies above all to the problem of disarmament.

"The Soviet government has arrived at the conclusion that while continuing to work tirelessly for the solution of the problem of general and complete disarmament it would be useful simultaneously to redouble our efforts in eliminating acute frictions in relations between states and centers of tension."

Tass said Premier Khrushchev pointed to Formosa:

"This island since ancient times is a component part of the Chinese state. The unlawful occupation of Taiwan (Formosa) by American troops must be terminated. The island is an inalienable part of the People's Republic of China and would have been reunified with it long since were it not for the external interference of another state." (meaning the United States.)

Top U.S. Officials Study New Soviet Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials began a careful study today of a reported new proposal from Soviet Premier Khrushchev for a worldwide pact pledging peaceful settlement of international disputes over territory.

The proposal was made by the Soviet leader in messages Thursday to President Johnson and other world leaders. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said while it was being translated into English that in its emphasis on peaceful settlement it seemed to be in line with a long establsihed U.S. policy.

The message evidently is part of the Soviet peace offensive which Khrushchev undertook with the beginning of the new year. This parallels a peace drive opened this week by Johnson with a call for breakthroughs toward East - West agreement.

Rusk told a news conference Thursday that the United States will begin work shortly with the Allied governments principally interested in German issues — West Germany, Britain and France—on possible "new initiatives" which the Western powers may put forth in future discussions with the Soviet Union. The whole U.S. disarmament policy is also under review in a search for new ideas and revamped proposals to be made when the Geneva disarmament conference is resumed Jan. 21.

Cypriots Agree To Meet With Britain, Greece And Turkey

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots agreed to join in a conference with Britain, Greece and Turkey in London late this month in an effort to end the bloodshed on Cyprus and preserve the island republic.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, Turkish Cypriot vice president, agreed Thursday night to send representatives. Their decisions came after a day of intensive diplomatic activity by Britain's on-the-spot mediator, Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys.

Sandys flew back to London for a personal report to Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the British Cabinet.

"There will be problems and things may go wrong," Sandys told newsmen in London, "but I think the situation is under control."

He warned of the possibility of more fighting, saying, "there is a large number of irregulars who are not controlled by any

Hopes To Cut Red Ink Spending

Johnson Budget Expected To Be Record $100 Billion

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson's new budget will be in the neighborhood of a record $100 billion, but he hopes to cut red ink spending below the current level.

The budget estimate for fiscal 1965, disclosed Thursday night by a White House source, is less than anticipated. Still, it will be a new peak for government spending.

Soon after taking office Johnson suggested he would have difficulty keeping the spending total below $102.5 billion or $103 billion. He blamed unavoidable increases already authorized by Congress.

The reduced figure is in keeping with the economy drive he has called for since then.

Balanced against the $100 billion spending total for the government year that begins July 1 will be forecast revenues of more than $90 billion. Johnson will tell Congress that revenues on this scale are dependent on early enactment of an $11 billion tax cut retroactive to Jan. 1.

The combination of Johnson's spending and revenue predictions would yield an indicated deficit of less than $10 billion.

A year ago, the late President John F. Kennedy recommended fiscal 1964 spending of $98.8 billion, a new high. Kennedy forecast revenues of $86.9 billion and a deficit of $11.9 billion.

Johnson kept his economy campaign rolling Thursday. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski was called to the LBJ Ranch to confer with the President and then told a news conference his department planned some savings.

The postal payroll will be trimmed by 5,000 workers in the next six months, Gronouski said, and fund requests for expansion and modernization of facilities will be reduced from $43 million to $10 million.

The President also conferred

Rockefeller Hits Political Trail Again

Certain Goldwater Will Be His Chief Foe In GOP Race

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York returns to New Hampshire today, convinced that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will be his chief opponent for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller is reopening his campaign on the day that Goldwater is to announce in Phoenix, Ariz., whether he, too, will seek the nomination and enter New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary on March 10.

A source close to Goldwater said in Phoenix Thursday night the senator will make the race.

There was little, if any, doubt of it in the Rockerfeller camp. Ex-Gov. Hsoh Gregg, campaign chairman for Rockefeller in New Hampshire, renewed a challenge Thursday for Goldwater to meet the governor in a series of public debates.

Gregg said he was doing so "on the eve of Sen. Goldwater's long-delayed decision to announce his candidacy."

Announcement Due Today

Goldwater's Set To Make GOP Bid

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater—whose name means conservatism across America—will declare himself a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination today, a source close to the Arizona lawmaker said.

At the same time, the Goldwater associate said, the senator will announce plans to file for his third Senate term.

Goldwater will make his twin declarations at a private meeting with Arizona Republican leaders and a patio news conference at his sprawling, hillside home overlooking Phoenix.

The senator was said to feel he must formally enter the presidential race because of the groundswell of support and the hundreds of thousands of campaign dollars raised by his conservative followers across the nation.

But the source said Goldwater plans to hang onto the insurance of another Senate bid. Filing deadline for the Arizona primary is July 10—three days before the GOP National Convention opens in San Francisco to choose the party's presidential standard bearer.

Goldwater called 27 top Arizona Republicans to his Phoenix home to tell them of his plans. After he talks to them in his spacious study, he'll hobble to the patio to tell the nation his decision.

The private gathering was scheduled for 11 a.m., Mountain Standard Time, the outdoor news conference a half hour later.

Should Goldwater capture the presidential nomination, the source said, he would withdraw from the senatorial field.

Arizona Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell has ruled Goldwater could run for both offices.

But the senator has said repeatedly he will not. When then-Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson ran for both the vice presidency and the Senate in 1960, Goldwater accused him of political trickery.

Word of Goldwater's plans confirmed what political oddsmakers had assumed all along —that the senator would carry his conservative banner into the race for the White House.

Trio Indicted In Kidnaping Of Sinatra Jr.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal grand jury — after hearing testimony which reportedly included that of Frank Sinatra Jr. — dealt swiftly and impartially with three men accused of kidnaping him.

All three were charged with six counts of kidnaping, conspiracy, placing ransom calls, and possession of ransom money.

No quarter was shown John William Irwin, 42, first of the trio arrested, who was reported to have helped the FBI after having his own brother turn him in.

In fact, it was disclosed, the FBI didn't need Irwin's help to crack the case.

U.S. Atty. Francis Whelan, who announced the indictments, said that the matter was all but settled when Irwin was arrested Dec. 13 near San Diego.

The grand jury concluded its hearing on the case Thursday with the presentation of a true bill against the three men — Irwin, Barry Worthington Keenan and Clyde Joseph Amsler, each 33.

The three defendants will be arraigned Monday.

The Jordanians hung the ancient walls of Jerusalem's Old City with flags. Jordan's government called out a fourth of its security forces, including two brigades of tough desert troops, to patrol the papal routes.

In the Israeli sector of Jerusalem, yellow and white Vatican flags were mingled along main streets with Israel's blue and white Star of David flag. Police Minister Bechor Shitrit toured the Pope's itinerary in Israel inspecting security and traffic arrangements.

Rhodes Says He'd Accept Offer As 'Favorite Son'

Gov. James A. Rhodes' statement Thursday that he would accept an offer of Ohio "favorite son" status for the national party convention this summer answered in advance a question the committee was expected to ask.

Informed sources said the party chiefs would take Rhodes up on his availability for the leadership of the 58-vote Ohio delegation to the presidential nominating convention in San Francisco.

Rhodes was not expected to attend the luncheon today. He planned to leave for Port Clinton on an industrial development mission at about the time of the state committee session.

Simplifies GOP Problem

Rhodes Says He'd Accept Offer As 'Favorite Son'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Republican Committee went into today's luncheon meeting with one of its main problems, if it ever existed, greatly simplified.

Gov. James A. Rhodes' statement Thursday that he would accept an offer of Ohio "favorite son" status for the national party convention this summer answered in advance a question the committee was expected to ask.

Informed sources said the party chiefs would take Rhodes up on his availability for the leadership of the 58-vote Ohio delegation to the presidential nominating convention in San Francisco.

Rhodes was not expected to attend the luncheon today. He planned to leave for Port Clinton on an industrial development mission at about the time of the state committee session.

But the governor's statement figured to blunt any possible debate among state committeemen over what attitude they should assume officially concerning Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. — provided Goldwater's

Midland Due Valuation Dip For Tax Uses

The borough of Midland and the Midland school district face a big problem in 1964 — the loss of $1,078,000 in assessed valuation.

Crucible Steel Co., the borough's largest taxpayer, has for five years voluntarily paid the machinery tax repealed by the State Legislature several years ago.

It will have no effect on the county's assessed valuation since Crucible paid the tax only to the borough and school district to help with their financial problems.

A preliminary study of the 1964 budget indicates no change in the present 11 - mill tax rate in the county, Commissioner James E. Ross said today.

The preparation of the budget is eased by a cushion of slightly more than $2 million with which the county ended 1963.

However, most of the surplus already is earmarked for improvements, including a 200-bed addition to the County Home and Hospital which when finished will be completely paid for.

Adding to the cushion is an estimated increase of $4 million in the county's assessed valuation over the 1963 total of $275,425,645.

A breakdown of the assessments by municipalities is expected to be available in about two weeks, Assessor Michael Van Doren said.

In preparation of the budget, commissioners must realize the county may lose from $2 to $5 million in assessed valuation contingent upon tax appeals filed by industry. The appeals now are pending in the courts.

If granted, the appeals would be retroactive. The disputed items include sintering plants, crane ways and tanks.

Fishermen Missing

SUVA, Fiji (AP)—The New Zealand air force searched without success today for 23 Korean fishermen missing since Dec. 28 when their boat foundered in the South Pacific. Two survivors were landed at Rakahanga, in the Cook Islands, Thursday.

Almost 5 per cent of the murders committed in the United States remain unsolved.

in front of me doing 60 miles an hour," police said. Keith Smith reported he saw that the cars of Amedeo and William Smith were going to collide and as he turned his head one of the cars hit his auto.

William Smith told police he was headed south on Washington St. about 20 miles an hour and attempted to halt at the junction with E. 3rd St., but his car slid into the intersection.

There was extensive damage to the front end of the Amedeo car and the left side of William Smith's auto. The crash also damaged both left fenders and a door of Keith Smith's car.

After the collision, one of the autos struck a utility pole at the intersection.

Two other crashes Thursday also were blamed on skids.

A mishap on Park Way yesterday afternoon damaged a 1956 four - door sedan driven by Jeannette Nease, 23, of 911 Armstrong Ln. and a parked 1958 two - door owned by Donald McCune of Substation Rd.

The woman told police she was driving south on Park Way when another auto pulled onto the street in her path. In swerving to the right to avoid the unidentified car, her auto skidded on ice and hit the McCune car, which was parked on the west side of the street.

A 1962 sedan driven by Leonard L. Autner, 59, of Poland was damaged at 2:57 p. m. Thursday when it skidded and struck barrels set up as lane dividers at the junction of the Freeway and Dresden Ave.

Autner told police a car ahead of him halted, but he could not stop because of icy pavement. Rather than hit the rear of the halted car, he steered his auto into the line of barrels, he said.

Boys Nabbed In Theft Case

Several boys have been charged in connection with a theft at a Pleasant Heights service station in which 15 assorted tires and 50 gallons of kerosene were taken, police reported.

The holiday theft occurred between closing time Tuesday night and resumption of business Thursday morning at a Standard Oil Co. station on Lisbon St. operated by Richard Chadwick, police said.

Patrolman Paul Blevins, who made the investigation, said the intruders broke the lock on a storage tank, removing 50 gallons of kerosene.

Chief A. J. Radeschi said the charges face three boys, ranging in age from 13 to 16. They have been cited to appear before Juvenile Probation Officer James Miller, he said. All three are residents of the Pleasant Heights area.

The chief said the tires which were taken evidently were old casings stacked outside the station. There was no indication of a forced entry of the station.

Patrol Lists Mishap Rise

An increase in the number of accidents investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon was revealed in the annual report for 1963 released today.

The patrol said there were 898 accidents, up from the 765 in 1962, which officers investigated on state, county and many township roads.

There were 28 killed in 18 fatal accidents, also up from the 21 killed in 15 mishaps the previous year.

A total of 537 people were hurt in 319 injury accidents.

Officers made a total of 2,079 traffic arrests, including 560 at accidents and 36 for drunken driving. There were 291 misdemeanor arrests and seven felony citations.

The patrolmen issued 6,202 warnings, solved 12 of 34 hit-skip mishaps — many of the uncleared area of minor nature involving mail boxes or lawns —and made 167 school bus inspections, both regular and spot checks.

The boy was rushed to City Hospital and later transferred to the Youngstown hospital, where he expired at 3:30 a. m. today of head injuries.

Police said he was not run over by the car, but one runner of the sled was badly bent.

Truck's Skid Halts Traffic

A Pennsylvania trucker escaped injury this morning when his rig skidded into guardrails along the Fredericktown Hill, the double tanker outfit jackknifing and blocking traffic for some time.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the truck driven by Cecil Forrest Kerr, 40, of Edinburg, Pa., was headed south uphill on Route 170 when it skidded into the railing at 6:10 a.m., about a mile south of Fredericktown.

There was minor to moderate damage to the guardrails, officers said.

Two Columbiana children received minor bruises when a car in which they were passengers was in a sideswipe mishap on County Rd. 414 about three miles north of Route 45 Thursday afternoon.

Cars driven by Joeanne F. Ziegler, 28, of Columbiana and Ethel Fieldhouse, 58, of Leetonia R. D. 1 sideswiped. Doreen Zeigler, 9, and Bradley Ziegler, 7, children of the Columbiana driver, were to be treated by a physician for bruises.

Three new members will be seated and new officers will be elected when the Board of Education reorganizes Monday night at 7:30.

Receiving the oath of office for four - year terms from Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, will be Samuel W. Brown, William C. Heasley and John R. Woomer.

The present board will meet briefly to hear the minutes of the last meeting, receive a financial report and transact any unfinished business before adjourning.

After the new members are sworn in, the board will elect officers, set a meeting date and adopt temporary appropriations to operate schools until permanent appropriations are approved in March.

Among its first items of business will be consideration of a replacement for Merrill Hall, who resigned his school post to become mayor.

Midland Due Valuation Dip For Tax Uses

The borough of Midland and the Midland school district face a big problem in 1964 — the loss of $1,078,000 in assessed valuation.

Crucible Steel Co., the borough's largest taxpayer, has for five years voluntarily paid the machinery tax repealed by the State Legislature several years ago.

It will have no effect on the county's assessed valuation since Crucible paid the tax only to the borough and school district to help with their financial problems.

A preliminary study of the 1964 budget indicates no change in the present 11 - mill tax rate in the county, Commissioner James E. Ross said today.

The preparation of the budget is eased by a cushion of slightly more than $2 million with which the county ended 1963.

However, most of the surplus already is earmarked for improvements, including a 200-bed addition to the County Home and Hospital which when finished will be completely paid for.

Adding to the cushion is an estimated increase of $4 million in the county's assessed valuation over the 1963 total of $275,425,645.

A breakdown of the assessments by municipalities is expected to be available in about two weeks, Assessor Michael Van Doren said.

In preparation of the budget, commissioners must realize the county may lose from $2 to $5 million in assessed valuation contingent upon tax appeals filed by industry. The appeals now are pending in the courts.

If granted, the appeals would be retroactive. The disputed items include sintering plants, crane ways and tanks.

Fishermen Missing

SUVA, Fiji (AP)—The New Zealand air force searched without success today for 23 Korean fishermen missing since Dec. 28 when their boat foundered in the South Pacific. Two survivors were landed at Rakahanga, in the Cook Islands, Thursday.

Almost 5 per cent of the murders committed in the United States remain unsolved.

in front of me doing 60 miles an hour," police said. Keith Smith reported he saw that the cars of Amedeo and William Smith were going to collide and as he turned his head one of the cars hit his auto.

William Smith told police he was headed south on Washington St. about 20 miles an hour and attempted to halt at the junction with E. 3rd St., but his car slid into the intersection.

There was extensive damage to the front end of the Amedeo car and the left side of William Smith's auto. The crash also damaged both left fenders and a door of Keith Smith's car.

After the collision, one of the autos struck a utility pole at the intersection.

Two other crashes Thursday also were blamed on skids.

A mishap on Park Way yesterday afternoon damaged a 1956 four - door sedan driven by Jeannette Nease, 23, of 911 Armstrong Ln. and a parked 1958 two - door owned by Donald McCune of Substation Rd.

The woman told police she was driving south on Park Way when another auto pulled onto the street in her path. In swerving to the right to avoid the unidentified car, her auto skidded on ice and hit the McCune car, which was parked on the west side of the street.

A 1962 sedan driven by Leonard L. Autner, 59, of Poland was damaged at 2:57 p. m. Thursday when it skidded and struck barrels set up as lane dividers at the junction of the Freeway and Dresden Ave.

Autner told police a car ahead of him halted, but he could not stop because of icy pavement. Rather than hit the rear of the halted car, he steered his auto into the line of barrels, he said.

Boys Nabbed In Theft Case

Several boys have been charged in connection with a theft at a Pleasant Heights service station in which 15 assorted tires and 50 gallons of kerosene were taken, police reported.

The holiday theft occurred between closing time Tuesday night and resumption of business Thursday morning at a Standard Oil Co. station on Lisbon St. operated by Richard Chadwick, police said.

Patrolman Paul Blevins, who made the investigation, said the intruders broke the lock on a storage tank, removing 50 gallons of kerosene.

Chief A. J. Radeschi said the charges face three boys, ranging in age from 13 to 16. They have been cited to appear before Juvenile Probation Officer James Miller, he said. All three are residents of the Pleasant Heights area.

The chief said the tires which were taken evidently were old casings stacked outside the station. There was no indication of a forced entry of the station.

Patrol Lists Mishap Rise

An increase in the number of accidents investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon was revealed in the annual report for 1963 released today.

The patrol said there were 898 accidents, up from the 765 in 1962, which officers investigated on state, county and many township roads.

There were 28 killed in 18 fatal accidents, also up from the 21 killed in 15 mishaps the previous year.

A total of 537 people were hurt in 319 injury accidents.

Officers made a total of 2,079 traffic arrests, including 560 at accidents and 36 for drunken driving. There were 291 misdemeanor arrests and seven felony citations.

The patrolmen issued 6,202 warnings, solved 12 of 34 hit-skip mishaps — many of the uncleared area of minor nature involving mail boxes or lawns —and made 167 school bus inspections, both regular and spot checks.

The sled hit the right front of Dold's Corvair. He told police he saw the youngster momentarily, and applied his brakes, but it was too late to avoid the collision.

The boy was rushed to City Hospital and later transferred to the Youngstown hospital, where he expired at 3:30 a. m. today of head injuries.

Police said he was not run over by the car, but one runner of the sled was badly bent.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, will conduct a formal investigation, police said.

Truck's Skid Halts Traffic

A Pennsylvania trucker escaped injury this morning when his rig skidded into guardrails along the Fredericktown Hill, the double tanker outfit jackknifing and blocking traffic for some time.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the truck driven by Cecil Forrest Kerr, 40, of Edinburg, Pa., was headed south uphill on Route 170 when it skidded into the railing at 6:10 a.m., about a mile south of Fredericktown.

There was minor to moderate damage to the guardrails, officers said.

Two Columbiana children received minor bruises when a car in which they were passengers was in a sideswipe mishap on County Rd. 414 about three miles north of Route 45 Thursday afternoon.

Cars driven by Joeanne F. Ziegler, 28, of Columbiana and Ethel Fieldhouse, 58, of Leetonia R. D. 1 sideswiped. Doreen Zeigler, 9, and Bradley Ziegler, 7, children of the Columbiana driver, were to be treated by a physician for bruises.

Everything's On Schedule

Among the things that turned out the way they were supposed to in 1963 was income on the Ohio Turnpike.

The Ohio Turnpike Commission reports income of $26,850,000, up nearly $600,000 from the 1962 total.

Yet, while more vehicles were using the Ohio Turnpike, the accident rate of 71.5 per 100 million miles was below the best previous rate—72.3.

The Turnpike Commission is ahead of schedule on retiring the revenue bonds that made the original construction possible. Besides being abreast of its obligation to keep the superhighway itself in A-1 condition, it has undertaken extensive improvement of its 16 restaurants.

In total, the Ohio Turnpike is continuing to be a thumping success. It is getting easier all the time to forget the frustration and travail that preceded the success—the litigation, legislative cackling, engineering problems and the perversity of public opinion once the project had been laid out for popular inspection.

EVERY CONCEIVABLE obstacle was put in the way. Even after the superhighway was opened for use midway in the '50s, truckers, whose revenue was supposed to make it feasible as a private investment, boycotted it to force down toll rates.

But gradually the problems were dealt with, and the Ohio Turnpike became a success story. Some lessons were learned, and lest they become commonplace the most important ones should be reviewed from time to time.

1. High-speed, well-engineered highways make money by saving money for their users. Turnpike tolls are less expensive than the extra cost of using ordinary roads.

2. Modern highways attract the traffic that will use them. The need for them cannot be determined in advance by traffic surveys. How can a traffic survey determine the need for a road that hasn't been built? Quarrels over the location of the Ohio Turnpike were silly. Once a superhighway has been located traffic will gravitate to it.

3. Maintenance is the prime secret of superhighway attractiveness. Without high-quality maintenance made possible by tolls, roads like the Ohio Turnpike and Pennsylvania Turnpike quickly would show evidence of wear and tear.

THE OHIO TURNPIKE, incidentally, will be turned over to the state of Ohio when its revenue bond holders have been paid off. Ohioans have a direct interest in its success.

Waiting For The Balloon

It is possible this country may get through a year-end spatter of forecasts without ever using the word "boom."

It is possible the word "boom" is passing out of the vocabulary of Americans. In a world that is undergoing continuous change, the circumstances that once kept Americans teetering between a boom and a bust may have been outgrown. The possibility is interesting.

One of its most engaging features is the psychological stability that could be generated if the idea takes root that something has happened to the boom-bust cycle once standard in U.S. economics.

This would be comparable to an unbalanced individual breaking out of a pattern of alternate moods of elation and despondency by learning to control himself at both extremes and bring himself back to a normal state without undergoing a mental crisis. He would be back within striking distance of sanity.

IN RECENT YEARS, the nation's moods of despondency have not been as black and deep as these moods used to be. Its moods of elation have not been as wild and extravagant as they used to be, either.

It would be hard to imagine anything now as extreme as the Mad '20s or the Miserable '30s. Since the war, most of the terrible things that could have happened didn't happen, though they were talked about as if they were imminent. Slumps weren't as deep nor peaks as high as they used to be.

In 1964, the peaks may be even lower and the slumps even shallower than before. Certainly it is significant that the most worrisome thing at the moment is the bugaboo of automation, the supposedly magic formula for efficiency.

BUT ONE DAY son, the impact of automation will have been discounted. The day might come this year.

Only a few days ago a business executive was quoted as saying the most efficient device he ever ran across was a woman secretary who could do all kinds of chores and, in addition to everything else, think for herself. He didn't think a computer would be a reasonable substitute.

Those who have been waiting for the balloon to go sky-high are still waiting, along with all the people who have been waiting for the thing to blow up.

May both groups continue to be disappointed in 1964.

During Visiting Hours Only

Nothing could have made it plainer that East Germany is being operated as a prison camp than special dispensation for Christmas visitors.

Tens of thousands of West Berliners were allowed to go through the Berlin Wall to see relatives in East Berlin. But when one young East Berliner tried to reach West Berlin, he was killed for trying to escape from the prison camp. His companion was shot at but not killed. Other shooting incidents occurred, but no one knows how they turned out.

Involuntary residence in a state that assumes life-and-death power over its citizens is one of the characteristics of Communist government. This is not to say that all people who live in Communist countries would leave if they could but only to say that people who do live in Communist countries are not permitted to go and come at will for fear more of them would go than would come back.

East Germany actually had no choice but to build the Berlin Wall in April 1961. Without some way to stop the exodus of East Germans via East Berlin all its best people ultimately would have fled to West Germany via West Berlin.

By the same token, East Germany had no choice but to admit that it had become a prison camp under the Ulbricht regime. Long before the Berlin Wall, there was the "Iron Curtain" for the same reason—to aid in incarcerating millions of people who otherwise would be inclined "to go west."

If there now is going to be an easing of rules, let no one give the Communists credit for being tender-hearted. Permission to let relatives and friends see each other only during visiting hours in a maximum security prison is hardly a humanitarian act.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Cheer up, Chump. This is the year you may get what you deserve. Or is that what you're afraid of?

As you know, your aunt and I pay no attention to calendric crises, if you get the message. A new year means nothing to us — no more than another birthday.

We go by facts, not calendars. We think people get old according to how they act, not by their birthdays. Things change according to circumstances a thousand times more important than calendars.

PEOPLE have lost their appetite for dollar-doggling. Be patient while I tell you what I mean.

It was a great discovery in the '30s when people found out what could be done with public money. They were like kids with a new watch. They couldn't let it alone.

They dollar - doggled everything they could think of in this country, with no effect, except to change the affiliation of millions of hungry voters who liked the taste of federal handouts.

Then World War II broke out. Dollar-doggling was forgotten while the United States had a munitions boom. Finally, the war was over.

Dollar-doggling took on a new form.

It was called foreign aid.

THE PURPOSE now was to save the world, instead of just the nation, or the Tennessee Valley, or East Slovovia.

It was ever nobler than that, the way it was presented to taxpayers. The world had to be saved from Communists.

This was the fastest pitch since Americans made the world safe for deomcracy in World War I. But one had the crust to revive that one, not with so many dictators pocketing U.S. aid. So we made it unsafe for Communism.

We shifted the emphasis. And to add zeal to what might have seemed a humdrum caused our leaders of opinion said we were fighting to save freedom. Freedom for the Yugoslavs? The Pakistanis? Come, come, now.

Our zeal was comparable with that with which we formerly fought heathenism, when our missionaries surged forth to put brassieres on Hottentot ladies and preshrunk shorts on boy bush-leaguers.

But chiefly what we were doing was good old dollar-doggling, on the all-American assumption that if you sow enough U.S. dollars some good is bound to come out of them and in any case it's a sure way to get the attention of reluctant Yankee fans like Yugoslavia's Tito and the disenchanted visionaries who have been running India.

The American people now know what dollar-doggling is all about. It's a way for politicians to live above the national income and pile up IOUs for future generations to pay.

The end of an era has come. There will be something to celebrate when the government quits dollar-doggling. It will signify that the American people have come to their senses. Happy new era. And regards to your brood.

All Right–Now What?

Lakes Strike Looms In March

By Victor Riesel

A punch in the mouth of a man going to his car in a darkened parking lot in the Canadian community of Owen Sound, Ontario, some 400 miles southwest of Montreal back in 1957 has triggered a chain reaction which may cut Russia off from a heavy tonnage of wheat, isolate Canada from the maritime world and paralyze Great Lakes shipping in a few months.

Victor Riesel

The chap hit was Capt. H. F. Walsh, a union organizer. None of his bones were broken. None of his teeth were smashed. He drove a long way home that evening.

Now, some seven years later, his rival, Hal Banks, head of the Seafarers International Union of Canada has been charged with conspiring "to commit assault with intent to wound, maim or disfigure" Walsh.

During the seven years between the punch and the charge —punishable by a sentence of 14 years imprisonment — the following developments occurred.

A FEUD developed between the Upper Lakes Shipping Co., Ltd. and the Seafarers International Union (S.I.U.) whose international headquarters are in New York. There were strikes, picketing and freezing of docks, locks and cargoes.

The Canadian government appointed a one-man "Industrial Inquiry Commission." It sat for almost a year. It had 100 days of open hearings. It found that Hal Banks was, indeed, a tough man with a prison record. But it did not come up with any illegality in the actual workings of the S.I.U.

After the report was in, I was pressured by a socialist member of the Canadian Parliament to write a column involving Banks and others in a Christine Keeler - type episode. That left-wing member of Parliament wanted me to involve other members of Parliament.

After the industrial commission's report was published, the government appointed a board made up of two nationally prominent lawyers to go over the findings.

THIS SECOND board was instructed to find out if anyone involved in the long previous hearings had violated the law. The two lawyers spent several months on the huge record containing 2.5 million words and 1,000 exhibits. They came up with the recommendation for the prosecution of Hal Banks on the 1957 "conspiracy" charge.

This is what many union leaders are calling the "punch in the mouth case."

On Oct. 11, '63, the Canadian government passed a law creating a Board of Trustees to govern all five maritime unions in that country. It began operating on Oct. 23. Union property and records were taken over.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police raided the homes of SIU officials and took personal property into custody. The trustees then set up controls over picketing and possible strike action. They created a subcommittee to censor all union publications.

This enraged the seafarers. In no democracy has there been so tight a control of freedom of the press.

ON DEC. 4, the trustees said the following:

"All further publications of any kind, whether newspapers, magazines, bulletins, circulars or otherwise, and whether published by a maritime union or some other person, body, or institution on its behalf will require trustee approval before publication of distribution.

"You are to bear in mind that distribution includes delivery of such publications to members or other persons or making them available to members or other persons by placing them in union halls or other places where they may be picked up . . ."

During this period, the seafarers' ally, local 418 of the International Longshoremen's Association, refused to load an Upper Lakes Shipping Co., vessel on the Chicago piers. A federal judge fined them. They still refused. He has threatened to jail all 250 members of the local. They still refuse.

THAT IS HOW it stands today. Everyone is waiting for late March. Then the lakes will begin unfreezing and the longshoremen will be ordered to load the ships of the company feuding with the seafarers. They will refuse. If they are jailed all longshoremen will quit work on the Great Lakes as well as other Canadian ocean and river docks.

At about the same time, Hal Banks will go to trial on charges linking him to the assault of seven years ago. If he is convicted and jailed, the Seafarers, who man 85 per cent of Canada's ships—including those going over with wheat — will quit work.

Said one high union official: "We will tie up anything and everything that can be tied up. It's all one long exhibition of intense anti-U.S. sentiment and we are not going to stand for it."

This "rumble" could spill over into U. S. ports! The idea of March bodes ill for those shipments of wheat to Russia.

The perennial reminders nevertheless serve their purpose, if merely to awaken memories of men who have left a legacy of human gospel for the guidance of generations to come.

The name of William G. Farrow, of Darlington, S. C., probably means nothing to the American people today. No monuments have been erected in his memory. No words of his pen are proclaimed in the schools. He was neither poet nor scholar, just a lieutenant in the U.S. Air Corps who, at the age of 23, gave his life for his country. He flew in the famous Doolittle raid on Tokyo in April 1942, but his plane crashed afterwards in Japanese-occupied territory in China. He was executed by the Japanese in 1943.

While preparing to go into aviation in 1940, Lt. Farrow had written a memorandum, a copy of which this correspondent obtained from one of his friends just after the Tokyo raid occurred. It was presented in these dispatches on Oct. 22, 1942, and was reprinted at the time in leaflet form by a number of individuals and institutions.

IN THESE DAYS of annual resolution-making, it deserves a wider reading. For, as Longfellow once wrote, "The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts." Lt. Farrow's memorandum, entitled My Future, is as follows:

"The time has come to decide what rules I'm going to set myself for daily conduct. My aim is decided — I'm going into some branch of aviation. I have only to apply myself daily toward this end to achieve it.

"First I must enumerate my weaknesses and seek to eliminate them. Then I must seek to develop the qualities I need for this type of work. It's going to be hard but it's the only way. Work with a purpose is the only practical means of achieving an end.

"FIRST, what are my weaknesses?

"1. Lack of thoroughness and application.

"2. Lack of curiosity.

"3. Softness in driving myself.

"4. Lack of constant diligence.

"5. Lack of seriousness of purpose—sober thought.

"6. Scatter - brained dashing here and there are not getting anything done—spur-of-the-moment stuff.

"7. Letting situations confuse the truth in my mind.

"8. Lack of self-confidence.

"9. Letting people influence my decisions too much. I must weigh my decisions—then act.

"10. Too much frivolity—not enough serious thought.

"11. Lack of clear-cut, decisive thinking.

"SECOND, what must I do to develop myself?

"2. Search out current, past and future topics on aviation.

"3. Work hard on each day's lessons—shoot for an "A."

"4. Stay close to God—do His will and commandments. He is my friend and protector. Believe in Him—trust in His ways—not to my own confused understanding of the universe.

"5. Do not waste energy or time in fruitless pursuits—learn to act from honest fundamental motives—simplicity in life leads to the fullest living. Order my life—in order, there is achievement; in aimlessness, there is retrogression.

"6. Fear nothing—be it insanity, sickness, failure—always be upright—look the world in the eye.

"7. Keep my mind always clean—allow no evil thoughts to destroy me. My mind is my very own, to think and use just as I do my arm. It was given me by the creator to use as I see fit, but to think wrong is to do wrong!

"8. Concentrate! Choose the task to be done, and do it to the best of my energy and ability.

"9. Fear not for the future—build on each day as though the future for me is a certainty. If I die tomorrow, that is too bad, but I will have done today's work!

"10. Never be discouraged over anything! Turn failure into success."

Some Notable Gaps

By James Marlow

Premier Khrushchev makes a habit of sending best wishes for the New Year and hopes for peace to American presidents although there have been some notable gaps between his wishes and performance.

He did it with Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy. Now he has done it with President Johnson. He gave Kennedy some miserable days. He seems to have quieted down a bit since then. But that's only maybe.

If Johnson takes his cue from Kennedy he will have a summit conference with the Russian before the 1964 presidential race next fall. Whether or not it relieved international tensions, it would be good American politics.

Khrushchev, after meeting Kennedy face-to-face, must have figured he had a soft touch because he didn't lose any time trying to break the President's back. He began putting on pressure to drive the Allies out of Berlin.

Then, on Aug. 15, 1961, Khrushchev's Communists began building their famous—or infamous — wall between East and West Berlin. If Kennedy had ordered it battered down, there might have been war.

He did the next best thing. He assured the West Berliners this country would stand by them.

While all this was keeping the world edgy, Khrushchev hit Kennedy from another direction. He announced Aug. 31, 1961, Russia would resume nuclear testing. And it did. So did the United States. That got everybody upset.

Nevertheless, on Jan. 1, 1962, Khrushchev sent Kennedy another one of his New Year's greetings. And it was that same year he tried to slip his missiles into Cuba. That was in the fall of 1962. Kennedy backed him down.

And on Jan. 1, 1963—just as if getting caught with his missiles in Cuba was hardly more than getting caught with his hand in the jam pot, which is what it may have seemed like to him—Khrushchev sent Kennedy New Year's greetings.

By this time Kennedy had about given up hope, it seems, that Khrushchev would ever agree to a nuclear test ban treaty. But Khrushchev did, and a treaty was wrapped and delivered by Oct. 7, 1963. It banned tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under the sea.

Khrushchev did more, too. He agreed with Kennedy to set up a "hot line"—a direct teletype communication — between the White House and the Kremlin so the two men could get in touch fast in case of crisis. That was in 1963, too.

By this time some other forces, with which Kennedy had nothing to do, were working on Khrushchev. His economy was in trouble — for instance, he needed a lot of wheat—and the split with his Red Chinese allies was wide open.

Khrushchev, who often appeared to be causing trouble just for the sake of it, began to look a little more reasonable. If Kennedy had lived, the two men might have made more progress. But Johnson is a new man.

He and Khrushchev probably want a close-up of each other, too, even if nothing comes of it soon. Johnson, a comparative unknown because of his vice presidency, is now a world leader. And he wants to act like one, as he has demonstrated in less than two months in office.

One good way to demonstrate it, as Kennedy decided early, is to have a summit meeting. That would attract the world's attention in a way Johnson's hammering on domestic economy never could.

And the summit—provided it didn't turn into a disaster—would give Johnson at home a stature none of his Republican competitors for the presidency could match if only because they're not in a position to.

It wouldn't cost Johnson anything to meet the Russian and, if they didn't settle anything, issue a joint communique expressing good intentions.

Everything's On Schedule

Among the things that turned out the way they were supposed to in 1963 was income on the Ohio Turnpike.

The Ohio Turnpike Commission reports income of $26,850,000, up nearly $600,000 from the 1962 total.

Yet, while more vehicles were using the Ohio Turnpike, the accident rate of 71.5 per 100 million miles was below the best previous rate—72.3.

The Turnpike Commission is ahead of schedule on retiring the revenue bonds that made the original construction possible. Besides being abreast of its obligation to keep the superhighway itself in A-1 condition, it has undertaken extensive improvement of its 16 restaurants.

In total, the Ohio Turnpike is continuing to be a thumping success. It is getting easier all the time to forget the frustration and travail that preceded the success—the litigation, legislative cackling, engineering problems and the perversity of public opinion once the project had been laid out for popular inspection.

EVERY CONCEIVABLE obstacle was put in the way. Even after the superhighway was opened for use midway in the '50s, truckers, whose revenue was supposed to make it feasible as a private investment, boycotted it to force down toll rates.

But gradually the problems were dealt with, and the Ohio Turnpike became a success story. Some lessons were learned, and lest they become commonplace the most important ones should be reviewed from time to time.

1. High-speed, well-engineered highways make money by saving money for their users. Turnpike tolls are less expensive than the extra cost of using ordinary roads.

2. Modern highways attract the traffic that will use them. The need for them cannot be determined in advance by traffic surveys. How can a traffic survey determine the need for a road that hasn't been built? Quarrels over the location of the Ohio Turnpike were silly. Once a superhighway has been located traffic will gravitate to it.

3. Maintenance is the prime secret of superhighway attractiveness. Without high-quality maintenance made possible by tolls, roads like the Ohio Turnpike and Pennsylvania Turnpike quickly would show evidence of wear and tear.

THE OHIO TURNPIKE, incidentally, will be turned over to the state of Ohio when its revenue bond holders have been paid off. Ohioans have a direct interest in its success.

Waiting For The Balloon

It is possible this country may get through a year-end spatter of forecasts without ever using the word "boom."

It is possible the word "boom" is passing out of the vocabulary of Americans. In a world that is undergoing continuous change, the circumstances that once kept Americans teetering between a boom and a bust may have been outgrown. The possibility is interesting.

One of its most engaging features is the psychological stability that could be generated if the idea takes root that something has happened to the boom-bust cycle once standard in U.S. economics.

This would be comparable to an unbalanced individual breaking out of a pattern of alternate moods of elation and despondency by learning to control himself at both extremes and bring himself back to a normal state without undergoing a mental crisis. He would be back within striking distance of sanity.

IN RECENT YEARS, the nation's moods of despondency have not been as black and deep as these moods used to be. Its moods of elation have not been as wild and extravagant as they used to be, either.

It would be hard to imagine anything now as extreme as the Mad '20s or the Miserable '30s. Since the war, most of the terrible things that could have happened didn't happen, though they were talked about as if they were imminent. Slumps weren't as deep nor peaks as high as they used to be.

In 1964, the peaks may be even lower and the slumps even shallower than before. Certainly it is significant that the most worrisome thing at the moment is the bugaboo of automation, the supposedly magic formula for efficiency.

BUT ONE DAY son, the impact of automation will have been discounted. The day might come this year.

Only a few days ago a business executive was quoted as saying the most efficient device he ever ran across was a woman secretary who could do all kinds of chores and, in addition to everything else, think for herself. He didn't think a computer would be a reasonable substitute.

Those who have been waiting for the balloon to go sky-high are still waiting, along with all the people who have been waiting for the thing to blow up.

May both groups continue to be disappointed in 1964.

During Visiting Hours Only

Nothing could have made it plainer that East Germany is being operated as a prison camp than special dispensation for Christmas visitors.

Tens of thousands of West Berliners were allowed to go through the Berlin Wall to see relatives in East Berlin. But when one young East Berliner tried to reach West Berlin, he was killed for trying to escape from the prison camp. His companion was shot at but not killed. Other shooting incidents occurred, but no one knows how they turned out.

Involuntary residence in a state that assumes life-and-death power over its citizens is one of the characteristics of Communist government. This is not to say that all people who live in Communist countries would leave if they could but only to say that people who do live in Communist countries are not permitted to go and come at will for fear more of them would go than would come back.

East Germany actually had no choice but to build the Berlin Wall in April 1961. Without some way to stop the exodus of East Germans via East Berlin all its best people ultimately would have fled to West Germany via West Berlin.

By the same token, East Germany had no choice but to admit that it had become a prison camp under the Ulbricht regime. Long before the Berlin Wall, there was the "Iron Curtain" for the same reason—to aid in incarcerating millions of people who otherwise would be inclined "to go west."

If there now is going to be an easing of rules, let no one give the Communists credit for being tender-hearted. Permission to let relatives and friends see each other only during visiting hours in a maximum security prison is hardly a humanitarian act.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Cheer up, Chump. This is the year you may get what you deserve. Or is that what you're afraid of?

As you know, your aunt and I pay no attention to calendric crises, if you get the message. A new year means nothing to us — no more than another birthday.

We go by facts, not calendars. We think people get old according to how they act, not by their birthdays. Things change according to circumstances a thousand times more important than calendars.

PEOPLE have lost their appetite for dollar-doggling. Be patient while I tell you what I mean.

It was a great discovery in the '30s when people found out what could be done with public money. They were like kids with a new watch. They couldn't let it alone.

They dollar - doggled everything they could think of in this country, with no effect, except to change the affiliation of millions of hungry voters who liked the taste of federal handouts.

Then World War II broke out. Dollar-doggling was forgotten while the United States had a munitions boom. Finally, the war was over.

Dollar-doggling took on a new form.

It was called foreign aid.

THE PURPOSE now was to save the world, instead of just the nation, or the Tennessee Valley, or East Slovovia.

It was ever nobler than that, the way it was presented to taxpayers. The world had to be saved from Communists.

This was the fastest pitch since Americans made the world safe for deomcracy in World War I. But one had the crust to revive that one, not with so many dictators pocketing U.S. aid. So we made it unsafe for Communism.

We shifted the emphasis. And to add zeal to what might have seemed a humdrum caused our leaders of opinion said we were fighting to save freedom. Freedom for the Yugoslavs? The Pakistanis? Come, come, now.

Our zeal was comparable with that with which we formerly fought heathenism, when our missionaries surged forth to put brassieres on Hottentot ladies and preshrunk shorts on boy bush-leaguers.

But chiefly what we were doing was good old dollar-doggling, on the all-American assumption that if you sow enough U.S. dollars some good is bound to come out of them and in any case it's a sure way to get the attention of reluctant Yankee fans like Yugoslavia's Tito and the disenchanted visionaries who have been running India.

The American people now know what dollar-doggling is all about. It's a way for politicians to live above the national income and pile up IOUs for future generations to pay.

The end of an era has come. There will be something to celebrate when the government quits dollar-doggling. It will signify that the American people have come to their senses. Happy new era. And regards to your brood.

Lakes Strike Looms In March

By Victor Riesel

A punch in the mouth of a man going to his car in a darkened parking lot in the Canadian community of Owen Sound, Ontario, some 400 miles southwest of Montreal back in 1957 has triggered a chain reaction which may cut Russia off from a heavy tonnage of wheat, isolate Canada from the maritime world and paralyze Great Lakes shipping in a few months.

Then, on Aug. 15, 1961, Khrushchev's Communists began building their famous—or infamous — wall between East and West Berlin. If Kennedy had ordered it battered down, there might have been war.

He did the next best thing. He assured the West Berliners this country would stand by them.

While all this was keeping the world edgy, Khrushchev hit Kennedy from another direction. He announced Aug. 31, 1961, Russia would resume nuclear testing. And it did. So did the United States. That got everybody upset.

Nevertheless, on Jan. 1, 1962, Khrushchev sent Kennedy another one of his New Year's greetings. And it was that same year he tried to slip his missiles into Cuba. That was in the fall of 1962. Kennedy backed him down.

And on Jan. 1, 1963—just as if getting caught with his missiles in Cuba was hardly more than getting caught with his hand in the jam pot, which is what it may have seemed like to him—Khrushchev sent Kennedy New Year's greetings.

By this time Kennedy had about given up hope, it seems, that Khrushchev would ever agree to a nuclear test ban treaty. But Khrushchev did, and a treaty was wrapped and delivered by Oct. 7, 1963. It banned tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under the sea.

Khrushchev did more, too. He agreed with Kennedy to set up a "hot line"—a direct teletype communication — between the White House and the Kremlin so the two men could get in touch fast in case of crisis. That was in 1963, too.

By this time some other forces, with which Kennedy had nothing to do, were working on Khrushchev. His economy was in trouble — for instance, he needed a lot of wheat—and the split with his Red Chinese allies was wide open.

Khrushchev, who often appeared to be causing trouble just for the sake of it, began to look a little more reasonable. If Kennedy had lived, the two men might have made more progress. But Johnson is a new man.

He and Khrushchev probably want a close-up of each other, too, even if nothing comes of it soon. Johnson, a comparative unknown because of his vice presidency, is now a world leader. And he wants to act like one, as he has demonstrated in less than two months in office.

One good way to demonstrate it, as Kennedy decided early, is to have a summit meeting. That would attract the world's attention in a way Johnson's hammering on domestic economy never could.

And the summit—provided it didn't turn into a disaster—would give Johnson at home a stature none of his Republican competitors for the presidency could match if only because they're not in a position to.

Humphrey Leads In Poll As No. 2 Man On Ticket

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) —Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey topped the balloting, but results of a national poll of Democratic county chairman heightened speculation that President Johnson's running mate may be someone closely identified with John F. Kennedy.

More specifically, several Johnson aides suggested today that the results added up to a plus for the potential candidacy of Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director and brother-in-law of the assassinated president.

The poll, conducted by The Associated Press, turned up notable support for both Shriver and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as among the party's best choices for the November vice presidential nomination.

He said "I am honored and flattered by the national poll. It is always gratifying to have friendly consideration by your fellow Americans. The decision for vice president, however, will be made by the Democratic convention, which I am confident will respect the wishes in this matter of President Johnson."

Shriver ranked fifth with 43 votes, trailing Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York —both regarded as dark horse possibilities.

Some politically oriented Johnson associates said they were struck by the combined strength of Robert Kennedy and Shriver, as well as the scattering of votes for Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts, youngest brother of the late president, and for Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

A fire protection agreement with the West Point volunteer fire company for $3,100 was authorized. Tom Candle was reappointed road supervisor, and Clarence Ammon of Lisbon R. D. and Dudley DeBolt of East Liverpool R. D. were renamed constables.

Harold Staggers was elected secretary of the Lawrenceville volunteer fire department at a meeting Thursday night at the fire station. He succeeds Junior Keener, who resigned.

Fire Chief Clark Lively submitted the semi-annual report on fire department activities from July through December.

The report showed 26 fires and one false alarm, including 15 brush and grass fires which burned a total of 171.5 acres. There were seven fires in the immediate Lawrenceville area with a total loss of $9,300. There were four mutual aid calls to assist other departments.

Eleven attended the meeting. Jack Stover, president, was in charge. The group will meet Jan. 16.

1963 Traffic Mishaps Rose In Hancock

Boosted by a rash of fender-benders in December, traffic accidents in Hancock County during 1963 climbed to 168, probably an all-time high, the office of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny reported today. Property damage was estimated at $84,395.

This compares with 149 accidents in 1962 and 142 in 1961, the office said in a yearend report.

Due to heavy snow and slippery driving conditions, December traffic accidents zoomed to 25, involving 44 vehicles, almost as twice as many as in November.

The 168 accidents during 1963 involved 268 vehicles and brought injury to 67 persons. There was one fatality, a Newell man killed in a motorcycle-car crash.

Deputies served 1,525 papers and logged 118,419 miles on cruisers during the year. They made 534 arrests and confined 236.

Weirton police confined 109, New Cumberland police 31, Chester eight, county constables 29, and State Police 10.

Deputies made 15 trips to Weston State Hospital, two to Blackwater Falls, and others to Pittsburgh, Chillicothe, Cambridge, Michigan and Texas.

During December, the sheriff's office made 38 arrests and confined 21 persons. There were 25 accidents involving 44 vehicles during the month, and three persons were injured. Damage was set at $8,325.

Atty. Michael Blischak, 910 Banfield Ave., Toronto has been appointed as an assistant prosecuting attorney of Jefferson County to fill a vacancy on the staff of Prosecutor Joseph Loha.

The former state representative succeeds Mele Vukelic, who was elected as city solicitor of Steubenville.

Atty. Blischak has been practicing law in Steubenville for 12 years, and was state representative from Jefferson County in 1961-62. He has served three terms as Toronto solicitor.

He was graduated from the Ohio State Unviersity College of Law in 1952, and received a degree in economics from the University of Pennsylvania in 1948. He was graduated from Toronto High School in 1942.

Among his civic activities, he served as assistant scoutmaster of Toronto Boy Scout Troop 149, service officer of the Jefferson County American Legion Council, and chairman of the committee on employment of the handicapped for the Steubenville District. Atty. Blischak received the distinguished service award for community service in 1960 in Steubenville.

He is a veteran of World War II and was awarded the Purple Heart. He is married and has six children. Blischak, 39, is a life member of Disabled American Veterans.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — G. A. Spaulding, manager of the B. F. Goodrich Tire Co.'s tire plant near Fort Wayne, Ind., will become vice president - manufacturing, it was announced today. He succeeds Walter E. Head, who retires Feb. 1.

Spaulding is a native of Athens, Ohio, and joined Goodrich as a time study man in 1940 after graduating from Ohio University.

Bob Kennedy, Adlai On Top

Ohio Democrats Place 12 On Vice President List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — At least 12 names are being heard as Ohio's Democratic county chairmen begin pondering who should be their party's vice presidential candidate.

Mentioned most often — at least by those chairmen contacted in an Associated Press survey—are Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the slain president, and United Nations delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, twice an unsuccessful candidate for president.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who sought his party's presidential nomination in 1960, runs a close third.

A number of county chairmen could not be reached, or declined to name anyone, saying it still is too early.

Robert F. Kennedy 13½ (one vote split with Stevenson); Adlai E. Stevenson 11½; Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey 8; Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio 4; Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver 3; Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York 1; Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut 1; Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California 1; Former Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania 1; Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee 1; U. S. Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Ohio, 1.

Astronaut John Glenn was mentioned in a wistful aside by one county chairman, who didn't appear very hopeful. That chairman's first mention was one of the 11 just listed.

Several chairmen simply said that President Johnson will decide who is to be the No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket.

Comments included:

"I'm for whoever (President) Johnson favors. There's no doubt about Johnson's nomination, and it will be up to him to decide."

"Everything has happened so fast, I'm still aghast."

"One of the Kennedys, probably Bobby."

"I'm a liberal, I favor Humphrey."

"I'm for Adlai."

"I'd back Johnson's choice. Bobby (Kennedy) is out. Not mature enough."

"It doesn't make too much difference. Johnson's popularity will win with whoever he runs with."

I don't think Bobby Kennedy is quite ready yet, but it will have to be someone from the East. If Lausche were more of a Democrat, I think he would be the man."

"If we want to win Ohio, we need a man who can pull votes. Lausche is that man."

er the action on New Year's Eve.

Target of the surprise attack was a Viet Cong battalion in Binh Duong Province.

The rangers crossed the Saigon River without incident. When the Communists put up heavier resistance, the rangers counterattacked, forcing the guerrillas back and swarming over their foxholes and entrenchments.

But the retreat obviously was meant to draw in the advancing rangers. From dug-in positions, the guerrillas opened a barrage of fire on the rangers, who were outnumbered 2-1.

As the rangers retreated, a dozen mortars opened fire from across the river. The Communists had taken over the foxholes and trenches between the rangers and the river.

The unit fought on, moving back from trench to trench. When they finally reached the river, they were bombarded for three more hours.

After darkness, the battalion pushed into the brush and waited for another Viet Cong attack.

The attack never came. The battalion finally recrossed the river but the battle showed the Communists were as formidable as ever as the jungle war entered its fifth year.

Weaver indicated these would require relatively small spending hikes. Some can be financed out of existing programs, he said.

Homemaker Looses 44 Pounds—For Good

In 1962 a homemaker with an unsinkable spirit resolved to get down to ideal weight. To her enormous surprise, she found it brought her the greatest happiness of any project she had ever tackled. To continue her story...

Ida Jean Kain

"In trying to face all the facts before I started on my project, I had told myself to expect to hit a weight plateau and to have to ride it out. Now here is where the surprise came in. I never once hit a snag—probably because of my exercise. I kept the calories at 1000 a day and lost from 1½ to 2 pounds a week.

"Finally the day came when I reached 125 pounds. The doctor suggested that I had reduced too far and to regain 10 pounds. We compromised and I brought my weight to 130 pounds. All this I had accomplished in six months. And I felt wonderful.

"NOW CAME THE TIME of testing. Had I really learned to eat properly? Could I hold the fort and not gain it back. I was not now walking daily because of the hot weather. But I tuned in to a TV exercise program and exercised every day. I became as limber as a person half my age.

"Our diet club was made up of young married women, with only two of us older folks in it. Some of the younger ones coaxed me to ride a bicycle... and learning at age 56 is quite a challenge. But learn I did.

"It takes courage for an old, gray - headed woman to suddenly get out on a bicycle and pedal all over town! Folks love to poke fun. However, I had a goal and a dream to make come true, and I never wavered. I rode every day and soon I could pedal that bike on country road or pavement for as much as seven miles and never even be short of breath. Now, after a year and a half, I am still holding the weight line.

"I LEARNED a whole new way of eating and I believe I will always eat this way, for now it is a habit. Also, I was consistent from the first in eating a good breakfast: an egg or serving of cereal, toast, juice. I included lots of fresh fruit in my food pattern, for dessert and between - meal snacks. I have my main meal at noon, and not more than 300 calories at night. I know by trial and error that I am one person who cannot eat the big meal at night without gaining, so I do not try.

"And always I exercise. When the weather is too cold for biking, I walk. Warmly dressed, I walk two miles every morning, and sometimes two more in the afternoon.

"And I weigh 130 pounds, 35-25-36 for my 5' 2". And remember, I'm close to 60. Do you think this is a success story that might help others? I'm sorry it's so long, but I just couldn't stop, I am so enthused over it all!"

Bless you for sharing, I salute you in open admiration.

WEATHER AND THE COMMON COLD

Q. Why do people take cold when the weather suddenly changes?

A. They don't, according to Cornell University doctors. In a four-year study of students' sniffles the physicians found that temperature change, wet weather, and getting tired had very little to do with catching cold. The doctors kept a week-by-week record of students who visited the cold clinic. The records matched year after year. There were a peak number of visits after each vacation period, with the biggest peak of all at the beginning of the school year when the weather was unusually good. There were almost exactly the same number of colds at opposite extremes of weather conditions — on the hottest and coldest and on the wettest and driest days, as well as on days with the greatest and least fluctuations in temperature.

CANKER SORES

Q. What causes canker sores?

A. The exact cause isn't known. These bean-size, crater-like mouth ulcers which seem to form without any reason, are quite painful. Home remedies seem to do very little good. Ordinary canker sores usually heal within a week or so. Mouth sores which drag on should be examined by a physician or dentist.

"NOW CAME THE TIME of testing. Had I really learned to eat properly? Could I hold the fort and not gain it back. I was not now walking daily because of the hot weather. But I tuned in to a TV exercise program and exercised every day. I became as limber as a person half my age.

"Our diet club was made up of young married women, with only two of us older folks in it. Some of the younger ones coaxed me to ride a bicycle... and learning at age 56 is quite a challenge. But learn I did.

"It takes courage for an old, gray - headed woman to suddenly get out on a bicycle and pedal all over town! Folks love to poke fun. However, I had a goal and a dream to make come true, and I never wavered. I rode every day and soon I could pedal that bike on country road or pavement for as much as seven miles and never even be short of breath. Now, after a year and a half, I am still holding the weight line.

"I LEARNED a whole new way of eating and I believe I will always eat this way, for now it is a habit. Also, I was consistent from the first in eating a good breakfast: an egg or serving of cereal, toast, juice. I included lots of fresh fruit in my food pattern, for dessert and between - meal snacks. I have my main meal at noon, and not more than 300 calories at night. I know by trial and error that I am one person who cannot eat the big meal at night without gaining, so I do not try.

"And always I exercise. When the weather is too cold for biking, I walk. Warmly dressed, I walk two miles every morning, and sometimes two more in the afternoon.

"And I weigh 130 pounds, 35-25-36 for my 5' 2". And remember, I'm close to 60. Do you think this is a success story that might help others? I'm sorry it's so long, but I just couldn't stop, I am so enthused over it all!"

Bless you for sharing, I salute you in open admiration.

WEATHER AND THE COMMON COLD

Q. Why do people take cold when the weather suddenly changes?

A. They don't, according to Cornell University doctors. In a four-year study of students' sniffles the physicians found that temperature change, wet weather, and getting tired had very little to do with catching cold. The doctors kept a week-by-week record of students who visited the cold clinic. The records matched year after year. There were a peak number of visits after each vacation period, with the biggest peak of all at the beginning of the school year when the weather was unusually good. There were almost exactly the same number of colds at opposite extremes of weather conditions — on the hottest and coldest and on the wettest and driest days, as well as on days with the greatest and least fluctuations in temperature.

CANKER SORES

Q. What causes canker sores?

A. The exact cause isn't known. These bean-size, crater-like mouth ulcers which seem to form without any reason, are quite painful. Home remedies seem to do very little good. Ordinary canker sores usually heal within a week or so. Mouth sores which drag on should be examined by a physician or dentist.

Peer Into 1964 Crystal Ball

What's In Store For Us?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What's in store for us in 1964?

A deep peer into our clouded crystal ball shows we can look forward to the mixture as before—but with some surprises.

On the international front, it seems safe to predict, Soviet Premier Khrushchev will find at least 700 million reasons to grasp the Western world in an ever more cordial embrace—and all the reasons are Chinese.

In Washington, as a result of stringent belt-tightening by the Democrats in their new federal economy program, the government will announce it has used 1,364,283,195 fewer paper clips than during any year of the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

Republicans will counter with an accusation that a number of employes of the U.S. Department of Agriculture have been secretly taking home government-bought pencils and letting their children use them to do their home work.

Both political parties will call vigorously for a reduction in taxes—and 99 million taxpayers will give a big fat yawn. They know that if one level of government takes less from their pocketbooks, another level of government will take more.

In an unexpected goodwill gesture, the taxicab drivers of Paris will raise a fund to build a monument to the American tourist. As a matter of national pride, however, the statue turned out by the sculptor will closely resemble President Charles de Gaulle.

A more inexpensive way of handling the nation's grain surplus will be found. It will be stored in government-built bomb shelters. In case of an emergency, the citizen will merely shovel out the grain, or crawl in and pull it over his head.

In medicine the big news will be the discovery of two more sure cures for the common cold. After trying them both, the average man will find the only sure thing about them is that they sure don't work.

As a result of continued automation, more people will be working less — and enjoying it less, too. But business will be generally on the upgrade, and the competition for the big buck will go on unchecked.

All in all, 1964 promises to be a zany, wonderful year, and life will remain what it has always been—the only thing worth living. Be sure to do your share of it.

Fire Damages Wall, Ceiling

The broken line on a small bathroom heater at the home of Donald Humphrey, 1722 Alpha St., set fire to the wall and ceiling and the blaze burned through the partition to the outside wall of the one - story frame home, Asst. Chief Gerald Goodballet said.

The property is located outside the city limits. The alarm was received at 3:31 p.m.

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. June Burchett on Maine Blvd. at 9:21 p.m. on a smoke investigation. Mrs. Burchett reported she could detect the odor of smoke but firemen said they were unable to find any fire.

They were called at 4:47 p.m. to an apartment building at 681 Lincoln Ave. where a gas stove was leaking.

Somewhat Tougher Line Toward Cuba Due In '64

WASHINGTON (AP)—A somewhat tougher line toward Communist Cuba appears likely in 1964 on the part of both the United States and its Latin-American neighbors, several of whom have been reluctant in the past to take meaningful steps against the Fidel Castro regime.

At present there seems to be no strong prospect of any armed intervention unless Castro brings it on himself by overt aggressiveness.

Much of the U.S. effort seems likely to be directed again toward checkmating Castro's brand of communism by massive efforts to alleviate the poverty and social inequalities on which it feeds in many Latin-American countries.

President Johnson is committed to vitalizing the Alliance for Progress, a billion-dollar, cooperative annual development program which has been under considerable fire from members of Congress who feel it is not accomplishing enough and is not properly supported by those it is intended to benefit.

Some of these critics insist that tougher economic measures are needed to multiply Castro's home front problems to the point where he will have neither the time nor the money to foster Red rebellion in other Latin-American nations.

The economic news from Cuba is increasingly bad. Like the Soviet Union and other Communist countries, the Cuban Red regime seems to be having trouble keeping its agricultural production going, even after expropriating properties worth many millions of dollars.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk recently included Cuba in a list of what he termed "very large and dangerous" problems confronting the free world nations.

Diplomats here from Latin America say there is an increasing realization in that area that communism not only is menacing governments in power, but the economic and social advancement of the hemisphere countries as well.

No longer, they feel, are Communists, either Cuban or local, considered merely a nuisance created by a few left wingers with chronic complaints against the established order.

The hemisphere observers say that the more reasonable conservative elements are powerful throughout Latin America and that forays of Communist agigators, saboteurs and propagandists are now being recognized as costly, not only to day-to-day business operations, but to basic political and economic progress of their countries.

C. & O. Reports 17% Increase In Earnings In '63

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 17 per cent increase in earnings for 1963 has been reported by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway.

The carrier said in a "flash report" to shareholders Thursday that net income last year totaled $41,051,000, equal to $4.60 a share, compared with $35,394,000, or $4.30 a share, for 1962.

Operating revenues totaled $361 million last year, compared with $339 million the previous year, the report said.

It added that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is expected to show earnings of $5 million for 1963. The two railroads are affiliated, and Walter J. Tuohy, president of the C&O, has been named chairman of the B&O.

"By its own vigorous efforts and with C&O cooperation, B&O turned a loss position in 1961 into a net income position the next year," the report said. "The commendable recovery continued through the year just ending. The outlook is for results even better in 1964."

C. & O. Reports 17% Increase In Earnings In '63

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 17 per cent increase in earnings for 1963 has been reported by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway.

The carrier said in a "flash report" to shareholders Thursday that net income last year totaled $41,051,000, equal to $4.60 a share, compared with $35,394,000, or $4.30 a share, for 1962.

Operating revenues totaled $361 million last year, compared with $339 million the previous year, the report said.

It added that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is expected to show earnings of $5 million for 1963. The two railroads are affiliated, and Walter J. Tuohy, president of the C&O, has been named chairman of the B&O.

"By its own vigorous efforts and with C&O cooperation, B&O turned a loss position in 1961 into a net income position the next year," the report said. "The commendable recovery continued through the year just ending. The outlook is for results even better in 1964."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

On TV, 1964 Already Looks Like 1963 Did

Those yearend round table discussions which all three networks had their correspondents doing this week may have allayed our fears on war, taxes and automation, but they left us completely in the dark about their own medium — television.

Hal Humphrey

For example, they evaluated the impact of Pope Paul's visit to Israel this weekend, but neglected to mention that Ed Sullivan was there, too, to tape for Sunday's TV show the Israel Boys Choir.

-:-

IT'S A FAIR BET that Ed's visit is likely to create almost as much excitement in the Holy Land as the Pope's. Ed's crew also stopped off in Belgium to tape a song by Soeur Sourire, who will be billed as the Singing Nun on the show Sunday (8 p.m., Channel 8).

And what about Jack Paar? Is he really quitting at the end of the season as he threatens? My prediction is he will be persuaded to stay, and he and Peggy Cass will go to the Kremlin and ask Khrushchev to knock down the Berlin wall for Jack's first TV show next season.

Before 1964 is over, we're a cinch to see at least one more documentary on the story behind the story behind Marilyn Monroe.

Paul Henning, creator of "Beverly Hillbillies" and "Petticoat Junction," will announce another new series titled "Lulubelle and the Moonbillies."

NBC BOARD chairman Robert Sarnoff and CBS President Frank Stanton will plead that Jack Ruby's trial should be televised as a public service.

Next May the Emmy Awards will be made to all the "bests," and by June half the winners will find themselves and their shows canceled.

Congressional hearings will be held on TV violence and TV ratings, which will result in more of both.

Producers of TV series will decide that viewers are tired of psychiatrists and attorneys and come up with three new series on dentists. One of them will have a kookie dental hygienist who solves crimes on the side.

A FAMOUS movie star like Cary Grant or Liz Taylor will sign his or her first contract to do TV; then the network will hire 5 producers, 10 writers and 40 carpenters to get a show idea, write it and build the star a penthouse dressing room.

A new company will be formed to bring us pay-TV, and Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers will be on the board of directors.

Summer reruns will start in April this year, but one producer will insist his series not be rerun, and the network will replace it with Mike Stokey's "Pantomime Quiz."

DONNA REED will announce this is positively her last season on her TV series, and her husband - producer, Tony Owen, will say, "It's her decision — I never interfere."

CBS President Frank Stanton and NBC Board Chairman Robert Sarnoff will testify in Washington that the equal time rule for politicians is useless government interference.

Both political conventions will be sent to Europe via Telstar, and in return we will get Maurice Chevalier singing from Paris and Bing Crosby from London.

RICK AND DAVE NELSON will become fathers again, and Ozzie will say it's up to the babies to decide if they want to join the show or not.

Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon will challenge President Lyndon Johnson to a series of "Great Debates" on TV, then hire Loretta Young's makeup man.

Bob Hope, with blood clots in both eyes and a Gabor sister on each arm, will take off just before Christmas to entertain the troops in Liberia.

$24,151 Fund For Township

A balance of $24,151 in all Liverpool Township funds — including $10,800 in the fire fund — closed out the 1963 books of the trustees who met Tuesday night.

Simon Hall, clerk, reported expenditures last year amounted to $51,725 and receipts $56,948. The balance included the 1962 carryover, he said.

The trustees authorized three paid holidays for the workers who have not had them before. The holidays will be July 4th, Labor Day and Christmas.

A temporary appropriation of $12,500 for three months was adopted. Next meeting is Jan. 11.

Hancock Group To Confer

Plans On Home For Aged To Be Discussed At WVU

Norman D. Ferrari, president; Ray Shaw, second vice president; Miss Callie Tsapis, legal advisor; Arthur Ciervo, assistant secretary, and Michael Sinicropi will make the trip.

They will confer with Dr. Eugene Staples, director of University Hospital; Dr. Clark Sleeph, dean of the School of Medicine; Dr. David Z. Morgan, medical director of the outpatient department; Dr. Edmund B. Flink, chairman of medicine; Dr. Charles Andrews, professor of medicine, and Dr. Ernest W. Chick, assistant professor of medicine.

Shaw, chairman of the home for the aged committee, said the two groups will "have and exchange of ideas about the establishment of a home for the aged in Hancock County."

The commission has endorsed a proposal to construct facilities that would provide housing, nursing care, therapy, and outpatient service to elderly people in the county.

Shaw said the WVU Medical Center is interested in the project "because the facility would provide the school with a place to study chronic illnesses among the aged."

The estimated cost of the project would be $500,000, with the federal government providing up to two - thirds. The remainder would be financed by revenue bonds.

The exact location has not been set. The commission has announced that it probably be centrally located in the county.

Chester Fire Loss Declines To $20,685

Chester's fire loss in 1963 amounted to $20,685, Clarence Lennens, secretary of the Chester fire department, reported at a meeting of the firemen Thursday night.

The loss was a decline from the $24,790 of 1962 and the $37,470 of 1961.

There were seven house fires with a loss of $15,340, two industrial blazes costing $2,200, eight vehicle fires with damage of $445, a $700 loss at Chester High School and three garage fires with a loss of $2,000.

A $3,200 blaze at the Hancock County Children's Home was not included in the city's loss. Firemen also responded to three other mutual aid blazes, quelled six grass fires and answered nine miscellaneous calls. A total of 61 calls were received.

There were 13 resuscitator calls and seven false alarms.

Fire Chief William Glover and other officers were re-elected. They include Alton Johnson, assistant chief; Jerrold Wilson, captain, and Lennens.

Lawrence Cline was reappointed trustee of the death and emergency fund. The purchase of a set of chains for the emergency car was approved.

He asked the ways and means committee to devise some fund-raising projects because the funds in the treasury are low and money is needed for new equipment, especially first aid items.

The firemen will meet again Feb. 6.

Hancock Group To Confer

Plans On Home For Aged To Be Discussed At WVU

Norman D. Ferrari, president; Ray Shaw, second vice president; Miss Callie Tsapis, legal advisor; Arthur Ciervo, assistant secretary, and Michael Sinicropi will make the trip.

They will confer with Dr. Eugene Staples, director of University Hospital; Dr. Clark Sleeph, dean of the School of Medicine; Dr. David Z. Morgan, medical director of the outpatient department; Dr. Edmund B. Flink, chairman of medicine; Dr. Charles Andrews, professor of medicine, and Dr. Ernest W. Chick, assistant professor of medicine.

Shaw, chairman of the home for the aged committee, said the two groups will "have and exchange of ideas about the establishment of a home for the aged in Hancock County."

The commission has endorsed a proposal to construct facilities that would provide housing, nursing care, therapy, and outpatient service to elderly people in the county.

Shaw said the WVU Medical Center is interested in the project "because the facility would provide the school with a place to study chronic illnesses among the aged."

The estimated cost of the project would be $500,000, with the federal government providing up to two - thirds. The remainder would be financed by revenue bonds.

The exact location has not been set. The commission has announced that it probably be centrally located in the county.

Chester Fire Loss Declines To $20,685

Chester's fire loss in 1963 amounted to $20,685, Clarence Lennens, secretary of the Chester fire department, reported at a meeting of the firemen Thursday night.

The loss was a decline from the $24,790 of 1962 and the $37,470 of 1961.

There were seven house fires with a loss of $15,340, two industrial blazes costing $2,200, eight vehicle fires with damage of $445, a $700 loss at Chester High School and three garage fires with a loss of $2,000.

A $3,200 blaze at the Hancock County Children's Home was not included in the city's loss. Firemen also responded to three other mutual aid blazes, quelled six grass fires and answered nine miscellaneous calls. A total of 61 calls were received.

There were 13 resuscitator calls and seven false alarms.

Fire Chief William Glover and other officers were re-elected. They include Alton Johnson, assistant chief; Jerrold Wilson, captain, and Lennens.

Lawrence Cline was reappointed trustee of the death and emergency fund. The purchase of a set of chains for the emergency car was approved.

He asked the ways and means committee to devise some fund-raising projects because the funds in the treasury are low and money is needed for new equipment, especially first aid items.

The firemen will meet again Feb. 6.

The 150 member of Oil, Chemical & Atomic Workers Local 7-622 have been on strike since Nov. 26 in a dispute over a job bidding grievance.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ariane Tebbenjohanns, 34-year-old German fiancee of convicted wife-slayer Dr. Sam Sheppard, says she plans to attend his preliminary parole hearing in Columbus Jan. 15.

Sheppard is serving a second-degree murder sentence for the 1954 bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn, in their Bay Village home. He becomes eligible for parole in 1965.

Miss Tebbenjohanns was released Thursday from Bay View Hospital, where the blonde divorcee had undergone treatment for emotional exhausion brought on, she said, by her efforts to have the 40-year-old osteopath released from Ohio Penitentiary.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Something has been troubling us girls in the office. We decided to ask you to explain the mystery. A certain woman who works with us is in her late 20s. She is highly intelligent, well-read, has a lovely face and stands about 5 feet, 10 — in her stocking feet.

Three months ago she began dating a homely little dried-up runt who is at least 6 inches shorter than she is. He is a successful professional man, neat and pleasant but they make such an odd-looking couple we can't understand how she could have accepted the first date with him. The guy looks like something that should be dangling from her charm bracelet.

When they are together she stands erect, in her high heels, and seems almost proud to be seen with him. What is wrong with her? Is she blind to reality? What can she be thinking? — FLOOR 6 INQUIRY.

Dear Floor 6: She probably is thinking that he is a lovely human being with a fascinating mind and an engaging personality and that he is infinitely better company than some of the gorgeous guys who are tall, handsome and boring.

A Bark With Bite

Dear Ann: Someone asked you recently if your teeth were your own. I know good and well they are because of the unsympathetic way you answer people who have denture problems.

It's easy for you to sit there in Chicago with your own teeth and tell a woman in Texarkana that her husband is a stubborn mule because he refuses to go to the dentist and spend another $300 on a third set of choppers.

I've gone through the whole bit and it's murder. I lost 15 pounds while a certain dentist monkeyed around trying to get my teeth to fit. Finally I got disgusted, threw them in the ash can and went to another dentist.

I told him he could make me a new set of teeth and I would pay if they fit. He agreed, and let me tell you those teeth were absolutely perfect from the minute he put them into my mouth.

Please tell people, Ann, that this is the way to get teeth that fit. Thank you. — SMILING CLYDE.

Dear Clyde: My dental experts tell me that most new teeth need a minor adjustment here and there and that darned few dentists will guarantee a perfect fit from the very first chomp.

I'm glad you had such wonderful luck, however. Thank you for biting — I mean writing.

Hiring Trouble

Dear Ann: The man I'm going with was divorced two years ago. Ward's wife was a real swinger and he sued for divorce after he walked in on her and the building superintendent. Ward was given custody of their three children with no trouble.

He does not pay her alimony and she has been supporting herself.

We plan to be married in about three months. Ward has a housekeeper who is sort of half-baked but she manages somehow to keep things going. I should tell you that I own a business and definitely am not the type who could stay at home.

Ward suggested last night that it might be a good idea to hire his ex-wife as our housekeeper. He said she would love it, and it would be very good for the kids.

At first I was sure he was crazy, but after he pointed out all the advantages it didn't sound so bad. What do you think? — MAZIE.

Dear Mazie: I think he is crazy — and if you agree to this arrangement you deserve whatever happens. I can promise you it won't be anything good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

This is just an educated guess at this point, however, for no decision has been made yet.

SMOKING STUDY: A report on smoking and health by a special advisory committee will be presented to Surgeon General Luther L. Terry and to the public sometime this month.

The 10 - member group has been at work for more than a year, and the report was first expected last summer.

The board said 90 per cent—or about 40,000 — of the firemen's jobs on diesel freight and yard service could be eliminated and that the jobs of some 19,000 other train crew members could be reviewed.

KENNEDY BURIAL: President John F. Kennedy's burial at Arlington National Cemetery has led to a fourfold increase in questions about eligibility for burial at Arlington, cemetery officials report.

In general, members and honorably discharged veterans of the armed forces, their wives or husbands and dependent children may be buried at Arlington. There is no charge, nor is there one for ceremonies at the cemetery.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Over the years when making carrot curls I have used toothpicks to hold the curls in shape while they stand in ice water until ready to use. Perhaps you will agree with me that my new method is far faster, easier, and eliminates the use of toothpicks, which sometimes prove difficult to remove after crisping.

I simply shape thinly sliced carrots (which I have cut with my potato peeler) into curls and fasten them with ordinary scalded paper clips! These paper clips come off as easily as they were put on. They form no rust while emersed in the water and can be used over and over again.

MRS. ADAM BATHGATE.

Oh, gals, try it. It's wonderful and so easy and quick. Make lots of them to put on that parsley you are going to trim your Christmas turkey with.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: After I had a professional window cleaning company come in and clean my windows, I found that I can save money every six months by making a mixture of two cups of warm water and one ounce of glycerine, dipping a rag in this, wringing it out thoroughly and rubbing it over the panes.

I use this method both on the outside and inside of the windows.

The windows may be polished with either a cloth or cleaning tissue or . . . a crumpled up newspaper, as you say.

The glycerine not only prevents the steam from forming inside the windows but when the rain hits the outside of the window I find that it does not leave marks and streaks.

If you will remember that dust adheres to the outside window pane and when the rain hits it, this is what causes our streaks and dirty marks. The glycerine helps the raindrops slide off easily and they take along with them . . . the soil and dust!

APARTMENT OWNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I had a rubber-backed rug mat that has stuck to my floor. Can you or any of your readers tell me how to get the rubber marks off the floor?

MRS. Mc.

Anyone know? If so, drop your answer to Heloise. Letters do not have to be signed to appear and all suggestions are welcome and appreciated.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I removed mildew from a soiled tablecloth by pouring some hydrogen peroxide on it. The mildew disappeared and did not hurt the cloth or the color.

M. H.

Ladies, pretest a spot to be sure your cloth is color-fast. If your cloth is not color-fast the hydrogen peroxide may remove the design.

HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I have an inexpensive burglar alarm for women who don't have small children to play with it: A cow bell! Mine cost 85 cents.

This is the kind of bell people use to make noise at football games, but it also suffices elsewhere. If you have to be alone at night keep it under the head of your bed.

S. H.

DEAR HELOISE: Hang those pillowcases by the sewn end (not the stitched hem) to get the longest wear.

The hemmed end gets more strain after the pillowcases are put on the pillows and if they are hung by the same corners, too . . . it makes sense that those points will wear out first!

IDA TYSON.

MRS. ADAM BATHGATE.

Oh, gals, try it. It's wonderful and so easy and quick. Make lots of them to put on that parsley you are going to trim your Christmas turkey with.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: After I had a professional window cleaning company come in and clean my windows, I found that I can save money every six months by making a mixture of two cups of warm water and one ounce of glycerine, dipping a rag in this, wringing it out thoroughly and rubbing it over the panes.

I use this method both on the outside and inside of the windows.

The windows may be polished with either a cloth or cleaning tissue or . . . a crumpled up newspaper, as you say.

The glycerine not only prevents the steam from forming inside the windows but when the rain hits the outside of the window I find that it does not leave marks and streaks.

If you will remember that dust adheres to the outside window pane and when the rain hits it, this is what causes our streaks and dirty marks. The glycerine helps the raindrops slide off easily and they take along with them . . . the soil and dust!

APARTMENT OWNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I had a rubber-backed rug mat that has stuck to my floor. Can you or any of your readers tell me how to get the rubber marks off the floor?

MRS. Mc.

Anyone know? If so, drop your answer to Heloise. Letters do not have to be signed to appear and all suggestions are welcome and appreciated.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I removed mildew from a soiled tablecloth by pouring some hydrogen peroxide on it. The mildew disappeared and did not hurt the cloth or the color.

M. H.

Ladies, pretest a spot to be sure your cloth is color-fast. If your cloth is not color-fast the hydrogen peroxide may remove the design.

HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I have an inexpensive burglar alarm for women who don't have small children to play with it: A cow bell! Mine cost 85 cents.

This is the kind of bell people use to make noise at football games, but it also suffices elsewhere. If you have to be alone at night keep it under the head of your bed.

S. H.

DEAR HELOISE: Hang those pillowcases by the sewn end (not the stitched hem) to get the longest wear.

The hemmed end gets more strain after the pillowcases are put on the pillows and if they are hung by the same corners, too . . . it makes sense that those points will wear out first!

Ashcroft Reports To Atlanta . . .

Rich Ashcroft of near Hookstown, the former all-sports standout at South Side High School, has a triple A contract in his hand for the 1964 baseball season.

Rich, who is the property of the Minnesota Twins, having signed in 1962, has one season of pro ball under his belt playing for Orlando in the Class A Florida State League.

The first season proved to be a pretty good one and that's the reason for the promotion to Atlanta of the International League.

He has to make the club and this won't be easy, because this represents a big jump for the left-handed swinging outfielder. The International League is only one step away from the majors.

"I'll give it my best, like I have always tried to do," Rich said when asked if he thought he could make the jump successfully.

First Season Was Good One . . .

HIS FIRST season in the Twins' farm club at Orlando was impressive. For most of the year he led the team in batting and wound up with the second highest average of .293. He belted four home runs, with most of them coming at the end of the season, and his 65 RBI's, which is a big measing stick to a player's ability in baseball, led the team.

RICH ASHCROFT
Hopes To Make AAA Club.

The Orlando team did pretty well. In the first half of the season the Twins' farm club finished third, then was second in the second half of the campaign.

Orlando played 126 games and Rich played in all but four games, holding down his centerfield post almost everyday of the season.

"I think I missed four games all season because of a sprained ankle," he said.

As an outfielder, Rich, who played a lot of first base for teams around the East Liverpool area, didn't commit many errors.

He will report to the Atlanta team at its training headquarters at Fernandina Beach, Fla., located on the Florida-Georgia line, this spring.

In the off season, Rich is completing his education at Wichita University. He will finish another semester of work Jan. 20.

He has been working out during the holidays with the South Side High School team. At South Side, as a basketball star, Rich still holds several school scoring records.

While Speaking Of The Twins . . .

BERNIE ALLEN returned to East Liverpool during the holidays and hinted he may be playing a new position next season for the Minnesota Twins.

It has been reported that the Twins are attempting to trade Rich Rollins, the third sacker who has had two pretty good seasons in the big show.

The reason for trading Rollins is that the Parma lad has a bad hip and the Twins are doubtful that he will ever fully recover. It bothered him last season quite a bit, but he never mentioned the injury to anyone until after the season was over.

So far, Bernie hasn't signed his contract for 1964. The Twins have offered him a very small increase over last year's salary.

Bernie, his wife and daughter returned to Purdue where he will complete schooling this month.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WELLSVILLE'S Ed Nelson is a member of the Marietta jayvee squad—an all freshman outfit—which has gone undefeated in its first four starts and sports a 93-point scoring average.

Coach Don Schaly substitutes in a football-like platoon system that prevents any one player from playing the entire game, but five of the Pioneer reserves are hitting in the double figure averages. Nelson is one of them averaging 12 ponts per contest, while seeing action in only about one half of each game.

DON DAVIDSON of Salem is a regular with the Davidson College team which remains undefeated and rates as the best shooting club, percentage-wise, in the nation.

The ex-Salemite fired in 14 points as Davidson won the Charlotte Holiday Tournament by defeating Princeton.

Y-Church Loop To Open Cage Campaign Saturday

Play in the 16 team 1964 Junior Church Basketball League will open Saturday at 6 p. m. with eight games on tap.

With 16 teams entered, the League will be divided into a Collegiate and Inter-Collegiate Division with 8 teams in each.

The League, annually conducted by the churches and the YMCA has been in operation for many years. Each team will play a complete round-robin in their respective divisions with the winner in each being crowned either Collegiate or Inter-Collegiate Division champions.

The top and runner-up teams in each Division will then participate in a Schaughnessy playoff, the winner to be named champions of the 1964 YMCA-Church Basketball League.

The pairings for the opening night of play will be as follows:

Collegiate Division

6:00 First U.P. vs Boyce Methodist
6:15 Chester Nazarene vs First Christian

7:15 Chester First Methodist vs Wellsville Cen. Methodist

Inter-Collegiate Division

Stover Out, Potters Whittled Down To Size For Oak Glen Five Tonight

Coach Bob Starkey of Oak Glen won't have quite as much to worry about as he originally thought when he leads his Oak Glen team into Memorial Auditorium for tonight's battle with the East Liverpool Potters.

The game will mark the first competition between the Potters and the new Hancock County school.

Looking at the game earlier this week, Starkey commented: "Our big problem will be East Liverpool's big man. He will definitely hurt us in the pivot and on the boards."

Starkey was referring to Randy Stover, East Liverpool's 6-4 center. Stover sprained his ankle last week and it didn't respond to treatment this week, so that has eliminated Starkey's big problem.

The Potter pivot man isn't scheduled to see action tonight or Saturday at Youngstown South. Coach Jim Harris doesn't expect him back in the lineup for about two weeks.

"This hurt us. We had just started looking like a ball club now we'll have to start over again," Harris said.

Frank Taylor will be moved in to the starting lineup to give the Potters a little extra-rebounding help. Bill Hall will take over the pivot tonight, with Frank McComas, Bob Forzano and Bob Maltarich rounding out the starting five.

Meanwhile, Starkey is certain of four starters in Sam Simmons, 6-3½ pivot who was a top scorer at Newell last season, Bill Manley 6-1, Tom McKitrick 5-10 and Terry Robinson 6-9.

The fifth man will be chosen from one of three — Tom Franczek 5-11, Tom Smusz 5-11 or Gary Mayhew 5-8½. Mayhew hasn't practiced much over the holidays after fighting the flu.

Dennis Carnes, 6-2½ junior center, and Mike Clutter, another junior, also are expected to see a lot of action, Starkey said.

Oak Glen can use about 10 different players and not hinder its offense too much since they are all of about equal ability.

With Stover out of the lineup, the Golden Bears will show a slight edge in height.

Oak Glen has lost four straight to Weirton, Triadelphia, Wellsburg and Wellsville.

"I look for a close game," Starkey said. The Oak Glen coach also pointed out he had much respect for Stover, along with McComas and Forzano, who he rates as fine outside shots.

As far as Oak Glen is concerned the team has been getting the shots. Against Wellsville the Bears launched 83 attempts and against Wellsburg shot 95 times.

Saturday night the Potters meet Youngstown South at the South Fieldhouse. A reserve game will open the action at 7. The varsity game should get under way about 8:30.

South, under Pete Popovich, new head coach at the Youngstown school this season, has lost four games in five starts. Playing some pretty fair clubs, South defeated Girard, 58-39, but lost to Youngstown Chaney, Cuyahoga Falls, Woodrow Wilson and Sharon, Pa.

Three regulars are back in the starting lineup — John Turner, who stands an even 6 feet, Willy Bryant 6-1 and Jerome Straughter 6-2. All three are seniors, with Turner and Bryant the leading scorers.

Completing the starting lineup will be Allen Smith, a 5-11 junior, and Bob Hageman, 5-10 senior, or Randy Tremba 5-11 junior, at the other guard spot.

Chiefs Pay Dentist's Bill To Land Pitt's Borghetti

By The Associated Press

The American Football League is starting to pull teeth for a share of this season's collegiate talent package.

Kansas City literally paid a dentist's bill Thursday to land a draft choice as AFL clubs made some headway in their uphill signature struggle with the rival National Football League.

The Chiefs shelled out $42,500 to Pittsburgh tackle Ernie Borghetti, a 1962 "future" selection, but the big lineman cost them more than the announced figure. Borghetti's two-year, no-cut contract also stipulated that the club would pay his three-year tuition at dental school.

The Oakland Raiders signed another 1962 "future," 270-pound tackle Rex Mirich of Arizona State College at Flagstaff, and the Houston Oilers bagged Alabama halfback Benny Nelson, their No. 5 pick in last year's draft and the No. 13 choice of the NFL Detroit Lions.

Fullback Mike Fracchia, another member of Alabama's Sugar Bowl champions, took the NFL road, agreeing to a St. Louis Cardinals' pact. Fracchia, who was hobbled with injuries the past two seasons after an outstanding sophomore showing, was another 1962 "future."

The NFL also collared Nebraska's Dave Theisen. The Cornhuskers' defensive specialist, whose pair of field goals provided his team's victory margin over Auburn in the Orange Bowl, signed with the Los Angeles Rams. Theisen was the Rams' 11th 1963 draft choice.

Canada lured Memphis State fullback Dave Casinelli, the nation's major college rushing leader in 1963, from both U.S. professional leagues. Casinelli okayed an Edmonton Eskimos' contract.

Independent Network May Carry Boxing

NEW YORK (AP) — There may be weekly network television of boxing even if the American Broadcasting Co. drops the weekly Friday night show.

There's a possibility that Madison Square Garden, which holds the contract for television's Fight of the Week, may set up its own independent network and continue with the boxing program. The National Basketball Association has done it this season and other groups have signed up individual stations to form their own networks for certain types of shows.

ABC recently announced it was dropping the fight program this year. It may be done by April 1 though the Garden has a contract through September. CBS and NBC, the other major networks, carried boxing for a long time before dropping the sport.

The sponsoring Gillette Co., which has bankrolled boxing telecasts since 1943 has said it would like to continue the program.

Garden officials stressed that the formation of an independent network was only in the talking stage.

THE NATIONAL Football League Players Association recommended unanimously Thursday that Alex Karras (left) of the Detroit Lions and Paul Hornung (right) of the Green Bay Packers, both suspended last February for gambling, be reinstated. The petition for reinstatement of the two players would be forwarded immediately to Commissioner Pete Rozelle. (UPI Telephoto)

Furman Surprises Mounties, 65-57

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It never should have happened to West Virginia, especially with the Mountaineer basketball team helping the state celebrate its 100th birthday.

But it did, and West Virginia distinctly shows the effects. The effects, that is, of playing without a Rod Hundley, a Jerry West or a Rod Thorn.

This is the first season in 10 that the Mountaineers don't have one of those stars or one of similar ability. The results so far: a 6-6 record following the latest loss, a 65-57 upset at home by weak Furman Thursday night.

The start is West Virginia's worst since the 1953-54 season. Not too coincidentally, that was the season before Hundley started playing varsity basketball. West followed Hundley and himself was followed by Thorn, who graduated last year.

None of the nation's top 10 teams were scheduled on the light basketball night.

In other major games, Pitt trampled winless Dartmouth 107-78, Virginia Tech squeezed by Virginia 62 - 60, Richmond whipped Florida State 69-65 and Houston edged Air Force 64-63.

Independent Network May Carry Boxing

NEW YORK (AP) — There may be weekly network television of boxing even if the American Broadcasting Co. drops the weekly Friday night show.

There's a possibility that Madison Square Garden, which holds the contract for television's Fight of the Week, may set up its own independent network and continue with the boxing program. The National Basketball Association has done it this season and other groups have signed up individual stations to form their own networks for certain types of shows.

ABC recently announced it was dropping the fight program this year. It may be done by April 1 though the Garden has a contract through September. CBS and NBC, the other major networks, carried boxing for a long time before dropping the sport.

The sponsoring Gillette Co., which has bankrolled boxing telecasts since 1943 has said it would like to continue the program.

Furman Surprises Mounties, 65-57

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It never should have happened to West Virginia, especially with the Mountaineer basketball team helping the state celebrate its 100th birthday.

But it did, and West Virginia distinctly shows the effects. The effects, that is, of playing without a Rod Hundley, a Jerry West or a Rod Thorn.

This is the first season in 10 that the Mountaineers don't have one of those stars or one of similar ability. The results so far: a 6-6 record following the latest loss, a 65-57 upset at home by weak Furman Thursday night.

The start is West Virginia's worst since the 1953-54 season. Not too coincidentally, that was the season before Hundley started playing varsity basketball. West followed Hundley and himself was followed by Thorn, who graduated last year.

None of the nation's top 10 teams were scheduled on the light basketball night.

Koufax Selected '63 Male Athlete

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, a Brooklyn boy who didn't really make good until the Dodgers moved west, was named Male Athlete of the Year for 1963 today in The Associated Press year-end poll, capping a long list of honors he has received for his amazing pitching feats.

Koufax, a left-hander reputed to throw a baseball faster than anyone in the major leagues, led the Los Angeles Dodgers to the National League pennant, winning 25 games and then won two more in their four-game sweep of the World Series against the New York Yankees. Previously he had been selected as the National League's Most Valuable Player and had been awarded the Cy Young Award as the top major league pitcher.

In recognition of his selection as Male Athlete of the Year, Koufax will be presented The Associated Press Eagles Trophy at the Chicago Baseball Writers Dinner Jan. 12.

In the voting by sports writers and broadcasters in the AP poll, Koufax outdistanced two of the top quarterbacks of the 1963 football season, Y. A. Tittle of the pro New York Giants and Roger Staubach of Navy.

Sandy's name was first on 93 of 147 ballots. Tittle, who passed the Giants to the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship, received 22 first place votes. In point scoring on a 3-2-1 basis, Koufax was an easy winner with 341 points to Tittle's 170. Staubach was a distant third with 84 points.

Puerto Rican Title Fight Set Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Jose Torres and Jose Gonzalez, a couple of boxers from the sunny Caribbean, meet here in the frigid north tonight for the middleweight championship of Puerto Rico.

That may seem odd. But stranger still is the fact that Torres, the champion, is guaranteeing Gonzalez $10,000 and is gambling the television 10-rounder will draw about 8,000 fans to Madison Square Garden. The fight is rated a toss-up.

If 8,000 show up, Torres will collect some cash for the lumps he will receive and a possible prestige victory over his ranking opponent.

To make the $10,000 guarantee, Torres is turning over his $5,000 share of the TV receipts to Gonzalez, who will get $5,000 for his end of the video money.

Torres, for his end, will receive 50 per cent of the net gate. Some of the Garden gates have grossed no more than $6,000 or $7,000.

The 27-year-old Torres, determined to make his bid for recognition against ranking fighters, has broken with his manager, cautious Cus D'Amato. D'Amato, who managed former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, refuses to do business with the Garden.

Torres has a 27-1-1 record. The lone loss was a fifth round knockout by Florentino Fernandez in San Juan, P.R., last May 26.

Gonzalez, 23, has a 26-8-1 record. He is ranked ninth among the contenders while Torres is unranked.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

NBA All-Star Teams Ready For Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — National Basketball Association coaches completed the East and West teams which meet in the NBA's 18th annual All-Star game at Boston Jan. 14 by selecting two Detroit players and one each from New York and Philadelphia to the squads Thursday.

The coaches' poll tabbed Bailey Howell and Don Ohl of the Pistons, the Knickerbockers' Tom Gola and the 76ers' Chet Walker. They join 16 players selected last week by NBA writers and broadcasters.

Red Auerbach of Boston will coach the East, which holds an 8-5 edge in All-Star victories. Los Angeles Coach Freddy Schaus will lead the West.

The Celtics' Bill Russell and Baltimore's Walt Bellamy were the only unanimous picks in last week's poll. Bob Pettit of St. Louis was named for the 10th straight year while Walker, New York's Len Chappell and Cincinnati's Jerry Lucas will be appearing for the first time.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—William P. Harding, 19, of Rt. 1, Vermilion, died in Aultman Hospital Thursday of injuries suffered in a collision Dec. 26 involving his car and a halted coal truck on Ohio 43 near Canton. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Harding, formerly lived in Stark County.

San Diego Coach Warns Of Defense

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Coach Sid Gillman firmly believes his San Diego Chargers will run into "about as good a defense as there is in professional football" when they play the Boston Patriots for the American Football League championship Sunday.

"They talk about the defenses of the Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers and the New York Giants. But that Boston defense is about equal to any," Gillman said today.

The Chargers, nevertheless, are favored by about six points.

Gillman's estimate of Boston's defensive strength is not likely to be endorsed by aclamation in National Football Football League circles. But, so far as it pertains to the AFL, his finding his unassailable.

The Patriots ranked first in the league in total defense, allowing an average of 265.3 yards per game. They were first in rushing defense with an average of 79.1 yards allowed, and fourth in pass defense—only 6.2 yards behind the leader—with an average of 182.6 yards allowed.

The Chargers flattened the Patriots 50-17 in a pre-season game and barely beat them twice, 17-13 and 7-6, during the regular season. Gillman was asked to explain the high score of the pre-season game.

"They don't play much of a pattern in pre-season games," he said. "They play you about as simply as you could hope they would. But when the bell rings things change a little bit."

Gillman said trying to get a good running game going will not be San Diego's only problem Sunday. "We've got to run a little and we've got to be able to throw," he said. "And if any phase of our game suffers, we'll suffer.

This will be the third title game for the Chargers. They lost one to Houston in 1960, when they were still in Los Angeles, and another to Houston in 1961.

No Blow Up Over AAU Expected At NCAA Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association heads into its 58th annual convention facing its biggest challenge ever and shackled by an agreed-to dictum that says "thou shalt not."

Affiliates of the mammoth, complex organization started their meetings today with the parent organization very much in evidence—unofficially — but standing by until the group starts its official convention next Monday.

The challenge and the dictum both involve the temporary truce with the Amateur Athletic Union over their struggle concerning the sanctioning and accredition of amateur meets and athletes throughout the country.

The squabble threatened to wreck the United States' team for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo until Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at the request of former President Kennedy, stepped in and forged an agreement between the warring parties to cease fire until after the Olympics.

Both groups agreed to abide by the agreement and the NCAA through Executive Director Walters Byers, says it will observe the truce in its convention.

"A number of organizations plan reports and we may have some action," Byers said, "but nothing to disturb the truce."

Aside from the in-fighting involving the AAU, the major developments were expected to concern reports and recommendations by the NCAA Council and the Football Rules Committee.

The Council, executive ruling body of the organization, is expected to consider and rule on a number of alleged violations of the recruiting code. It has the power, among other things, to suspend from membership a school found to be violating the code.

The Football Rules Committee has circulated a questionaire concerning the controversial substitution rule used this year for the first time. Results of the questionaire may be made public, but the Committee recommendation may be withheld for some time.

Difference Wasn't Tittle's Injury, Claims Bears' MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Linebacker Larry Morris, most valuable player in Chicago's National Football League title victory over New York, thinks a lot of Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle but believes Tittle's injury wasn't the difference in the game.

"I think we would have beaten them with or without Tittle," Morris said Thursday. "But I admire him for coming back to play. That's a tough injury for a quarterback because he throws off his left foot."

Morris spoke at a luncheon where he received a new car for having been selected MVP by Sport Magazine. He explained how Tittle's left knee was injured.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed the Fountainblue Restaurant on Ohio 8 in Northampton Twp. early today. Damage estimates ranged from $60,000 to $150,000.

A Summit County sheriff's deputy spotted flames in the one-story frame building and summoned firemen. Volunteers from six departments responded.

Koufax Selected '63 Male Athlete

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, a Brooklyn boy who didn't really make good until the Dodgers moved west, was named Male Athlete of the Year for 1963 today in The Associated Press year-end poll, capping a long list of honors he has received for his amazing pitching feats.

Koufax, a left-hander reputed to throw a baseball faster than anyone in the major leagues, led the Los Angeles Dodgers to the National League pennant, winning 25 games and then won two more in their four-game sweep of the World Series against the New York Yankees. Previously he had been selected as the National League's Most Valuable Player and had been awarded the Cy Young Award as the top major league pitcher.

In recognition of his selection as Male Athlete of the Year, Koufax will be presented The Associated Press Eagles Trophy at the Chicago Baseball Writers Dinner Jan. 12.

In the voting by sports writers and broadcasters in the AP poll, Koufax outdistanced two of the top quarterbacks of the 1963 football season, Y. A. Tittle of the pro New York Giants and Roger Staubach of Navy.

Sandy's name was first on 93 of 147 ballots. Tittle, who passed the Giants to the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship, received 22 first place votes. In point scoring on a 3-2-1 basis, Koufax was an easy winner with 341 points to Tittle's 170. Staubach was a distant third with 84 points.

Others in the top 10 in the voting were Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Masters and PGA golf championships, with 40 points; heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston, 27; pole vault record breaker John Pennell, 23; U.S. Open golf champion Julius Boros, 22; Milwaukee Braves pitcher Warren Spahn, 19, and golfer Arnold Palmer and Cleveland Browns fullback Jimmy Brown, 17 each.

Gonzalez, 23, has a 26-8-1 record. He is ranked ninth among the contenders while Torres is unranked.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

Gillman's estimate of Boston's defensive strength is not likely to be endorsed by aclamation in National Football Football League circles. But, so far as it pertains to the AFL, his finding his unassailable.

The Patriots ranked first in the league in total defense, allowing an average of 265.3 yards per game. They were first in rushing defense with an average of 79.1 yards allowed, and fourth in pass defense—only 6.2 yards behind the leader—with an average of 182.6 yards allowed.

The Chargers flattened the Patriots 50-17 in a pre-season game and barely beat them twice, 17-13 and 7-6, during the regular season. Gillman was asked to explain the high score of the pre-season game.

"They don't play much of a pattern in pre-season games," he said. "They play you about as simply as you could hope they would. But when the bell rings things change a little bit."

Gillman said trying to get a good running game going will not be San Diego's only problem Sunday. "We've got to run a little and we've got to be able to throw," he said. "And if any phase of our game suffers, we'll suffer.

This will be the third title game for the Chargers. They lost one to Houston in 1960, when they were still in Los Angeles, and another to Houston in 1961.

No Blow Up Over AAU Expected At NCAA Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association heads into its 58th annual convention facing its biggest challenge ever and shackled by an agreed-to dictum that says "thou shalt not."

Affiliates of the mammoth, complex organization started their meetings today with the parent organization very much in evidence—unofficially — but standing by until the group starts its official convention next Monday.

The challenge and the dictum both involve the temporary truce with the Amateur Athletic Union over their struggle concerning the sanctioning and accredition of amateur meets and athletes throughout the country.

The squabble threatened to wreck the United States' team for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo until Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at the request of former President Kennedy, stepped in and forged an agreement between the warring parties to cease fire until after the Olympics.

Both groups agreed to abide by the agreement and the NCAA through Executive Director Walters Byers, says it will observe the truce in its convention.

"A number of organizations plan reports and we may have some action," Byers said, "but nothing to disturb the truce."

Aside from the in-fighting involving the AAU, the major developments were expected to concern reports and recommendations by the NCAA Council and the Football Rules Committee.

The Council, executive ruling body of the organization, is expected to consider and rule on a number of alleged violations of the recruiting code. It has the power, among other things, to suspend from membership a school found to be violating the code.

The Football Rules Committee has circulated a questionaire concerning the controversial substitution rule used this year for the first time. Results of the questionaire may be made public, but the Committee recommendation may be withheld for some time.

Difference Wasn't Tittle's Injury, Claims Bears' MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Linebacker Larry Morris, most valuable player in Chicago's National Football League title victory over New York, thinks a lot of Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle but believes Tittle's injury wasn't the difference in the game.

"I think we would have beaten them with or without Tittle," Morris said Thursday. "But I admire him for coming back to play. That's a tough injury for a quarterback because he throws off his left foot."

Morris spoke at a luncheon where he received a new car for having been selected MVP by Sport Magazine. He explained how Tittle's left knee was injured.

Cincy Betting On Rookie To Win Third Base Post

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Reds are betting on Chico Ruiz to win the battle of third base on the Cincinnati club.

Ruiz is a 25-year-old bolt of lightning from Puerto Rico who in five years led five leagues in stolen bases and five times was named on an all-star team, either as a shortstop or third baseman.

"Every club we talked trade with at the winter meetings in Los Angeles mentioned Ruiz," said Bill DeWitt, president of the Reds. "But he's not available. We intend to keep him. He's going to be a fine player."

The 6-foot switch - hitter led the San Diego club in batting with .298 last year. He led the Pacific Coast League in stolen bases with 50 and was named co-winner, along with second baseman Bobby Klaus, of San Diego's Most Valuable Player award.

Klaus, a brother of Billy Klaus, former major league infielder, was runner-up to Ruiz on the Padres with a .288 batting average. He led the league's second basemen in fielding with a mark of .986.

Pete Rose winner of the National League's Rookie of the Year award in 1963, will have his hands full fighting off competition for the regular second base job. Still another second base candidate is Cesar Tovar, a 23-year-old Venezuelan who led the PCL in runs, 115, and doubles, 41, with Dallas - Ft. Worth, where he batted .297.

"Cesar is one of those rare, exciding players," said the Reds' farm director, Phil Seghi. "Along with being fast and daring on the bases, he's a classy glove man-and the fans love him."

Seghi also is high on Tony Perez, a 21-year-old third baseman from Cuba who batted .309 for Macon last year and was named to the Sally League all-star team. Tommy Helms, a 22-year-old shortstop, batted only .225 at San Diego but was the best player in the league the last three weeks of the season, according to the Padres general manager, Eddie Leishman.

Eight rookie pitchers will be seeking a spot on the Reds' staff. Back for another shot is Sammy Ellis, 22-year-old right-hander who was a sensation in spring training of 1962 and was elevated to the Reds' roster just prior to the opener. He later was optioned to San Diego. In 1963, Ellis was 12-10 while leading the PCL in earned run average with 2.62. He struck out 192 in 192 innings.

Dan Neville, a Cincinnati boy who's 22 and stands 6-foot-3, was 13-9 with Macon and posted the league's fifth best ERA 2.70. John Flavin, 21-year-old southpaw who was 8-10 for San Diego already has been optioned three times and must be kept or be thrown up for grabs. Ted Davidson, a 24-year-old left-hander, was 6-4 with a fine 2.15 ERA at Macon. Larry Doval, a 24-year-old right-hander, was 10-6 at Macon.

Bill McCool, a 19-year-old southpaw, and Link Curtis, a 21-year - old outfielder, are first year players who must be kept on the roster or disposed of on waivers.

Outfielder Mel Queen, 21-year-old son of a former big league pitcher, batted .260 at San Diego but hit 25 home runs Outfielder Art Shamsky, 22, batted .267 with 18 home runs for San Diego. The Padres' third outfielder, Deron Johnson, led the league in home runs with 33, and drove in 91 runs on a .277 average.

Larry Hines, a 23-year - old catcher who hit .242 at Macon, was a member of the University of Southern California's national collegiate champions of 1961.

Concannon, Mira Duel Again In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A possible repeat of the George Mira-Jack Concannon duel of Miami's North-South game was put in the hopper today. The two ace passers were named for the starting duties in the 15th annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday.

Concannon, of Boston College, passed and ran the North team to a 14-0 lead at Miami. But Mira took charge and passed the South to a 23-14 come-from-behind victory.

Mira, the University of Miami whiz the past three years, completed 27 of 42 passes for 336 yards, all records for the game. His passes were good for two touchdowns and he set up a third.

Backing up Concannon for North Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions in Saturday's game will be Dick Shiner of Maryland and Bill Munson of Utah State, both topnotch passers themselves.

Lothridge also has been picked as a safety man on the defensive unit.

The South has won nine of the 14 Senior Bowl games and the North has taken five.

The game will be nationally televised with an area within 100 miles of Mobile blacked out. A near sellout is expected in 40,605 capacity Ladd Stadium. Kickoff is at 1 p.m., CST.

Arthur Craven Elected New Head Of Wellsville Boat Club

Arthur Craven of Gaston Pl., a letter carrier in East Liverpool, was elected new commodore of the Wellsville Boat Club at the annual meeting Thursday night in the clubhouse.

The club also changed its policy on enrolling out - of - town members in an attempt to lure more boaters to this area.

Craven succeeds Mike Frontone of Wellsville. Homer Fultz of Wellsville was elected vice commodore. Re - elected were Charles Stone, secretary, and Ott Weekley, treasurer.

Plans were made to restrict regular membership to boaters within a 20-mile radius.

But those outside the 20-mile radius may become social members in 1964 for an annual fee of $15. In the past, out-of-town visitors were charged $1 each time they used the club facilities to launch their pleasure craft.

A complete revamping of the boat dock, to provide additional space for new members besides general repairs, is to get under way when weather permits.

Purchase of a supply of oil drums for construction of the dock float was approved, a yearly practice.

New insurance for the club is to be purchased from the William T. McNutt agency in East Liverpool. Miller's of Wellsville furnished insurance last year.

A coverdish dinner will be held later in the month. Twenty-five attended the three - hour long meeting. Lunch was served.

Cincy Betting On Rookie To Win Third Base Post

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Reds are betting on Chico Ruiz to win the battle of third base on the Cincinnati club.

Ruiz is a 25-year-old bolt of lightning from Puerto Rico who in five years led five leagues in stolen bases and five times was named on an all-star team, either as a shortstop or third baseman.

"Every club we talked trade with at the winter meetings in Los Angeles mentioned Ruiz," said Bill DeWitt, president of the Reds. "But he's not available. We intend to keep him. He's going to be a fine player."

The 6-foot switch - hitter led the San Diego club in batting with .298 last year. He led the Pacific Coast League in stolen bases with 50 and was named co-winner, along with second baseman Bobby Klaus, of San Diego's Most Valuable Player award.

Klaus, a brother of Billy Klaus, former major league infielder, was runner-up to Ruiz on the Padres with a .288 batting average. He led the league's second basemen in fielding with a mark of .986.

Pete Rose winner of the National League's Rookie of the Year award in 1963, will have his hands full fighting off competition for the regular second base job. Still another second base candidate is Cesar Tovar, a 23-year-old Venezuelan who led the PCL in runs, 115, and doubles, 41, with Dallas - Ft. Worth, where he batted .297.

"Cesar is one of those rare, exciding players," said the Reds' farm director, Phil Seghi. "Along with being fast and daring on the bases, he's a classy glove man-and the fans love him."

Seghi also is high on Tony Perez, a 21-year-old third baseman from Cuba who batted .309 for Macon last year and was named to the Sally League all-star team. Tommy Helms, a 22-year-old shortstop, batted only .225 at San Diego but was the best player in the league the last three weeks of the season, according to the Padres general manager, Eddie Leishman.

Eight rookie pitchers will be seeking a spot on the Reds' staff. Back for another shot is Sammy Ellis, 22-year-old right-hander who was a sensation in spring training of 1962 and was elevated to the Reds' roster just prior to the opener. He later was optioned to San Diego. In 1963, Ellis was 12-10 while leading the PCL in earned run average with 2.62. He struck out 192 in 192 innings.

Dan Neville, a Cincinnati boy who's 22 and stands 6-foot-3, was 13-9 with Macon and posted the league's fifth best ERA 2.70. John Flavin, 21-year-old southpaw who was 8-10 for San Diego already has been optioned three times and must be kept or be thrown up for grabs. Ted Davidson, a 24-year-old left-hander, was 6-4 with a fine 2.15 ERA at Macon. Larry Doval, a 24-year-old right-hander, was 10-6 at Macon.

Bill McCool, a 19-year-old southpaw, and Link Curtis, a 21-year - old outfielder, are first year players who must be kept on the roster or disposed of on waivers.

Outfielder Mel Queen, 21-year-old son of a former big league pitcher, batted .260 at San Diego but hit 25 home runs Outfielder Art Shamsky, 22, batted .267 with 18 home runs for San Diego. The Padres' third outfielder, Deron Johnson, led the league in home runs with 33, and drove in 91 runs on a .277 average.

Larry Hines, a 23-year - old catcher who hit .242 at Macon, was a member of the University of Southern California's national collegiate champions of 1961.

Concannon, Mira Duel Again In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A possible repeat of the George Mira-Jack Concannon duel of Miami's North-South game was put in the hopper today. The two ace passers were named for the starting duties in the 15th annual Senior Bowl football game Saturday.

Concannon, of Boston College, passed and ran the North team to a 14-0 lead at Miami. But Mira took charge and passed the South to a 23-14 come-from-behind victory.

Mira, the University of Miami whiz the past three years, completed 27 of 42 passes for 336 yards, all records for the game. His passes were good for two touchdowns and he set up a third.

Backing up Concannon for North Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions in Saturday's game will be Dick Shiner of Maryland and Bill Munson of Utah State, both topnotch passers themselves.

Lothridge also has been picked as a safety man on the defensive unit.

The South has won nine of the 14 Senior Bowl games and the North has taken five.

The game will be nationally televised with an area within 100 miles of Mobile blacked out. A near sellout is expected in 40,605 capacity Ladd Stadium. Kickoff is at 1 p.m., CST.

Arthur Craven Elected New Head Of Wellsville Boat Club

Arthur Craven of Gaston Pl., a letter carrier in East Liverpool, was elected new commodore of the Wellsville Boat Club at the annual meeting Thursday night in the clubhouse.

The club also changed its policy on enrolling out - of - town members in an attempt to lure more boaters to this area.

Craven succeeds Mike Frontone of Wellsville. Homer Fultz of Wellsville was elected vice commodore. Re - elected were Charles Stone, secretary, and Ott Weekley, treasurer.

Plans were made to restrict regular membership to boaters within a 20-mile radius.

But those outside the 20-mile radius may become social members in 1964 for an annual fee of $15. In the past, out-of-town visitors were charged $1 each time they used the club facilities to launch their pleasure craft.

A complete revamping of the boat dock, to provide additional space for new members besides general repairs, is to get under way when weather permits.

Purchase of a supply of oil drums for construction of the dock float was approved, a yearly practice.

New insurance for the club is to be purchased from the William T. McNutt agency in East Liverpool. Miller's of Wellsville furnished insurance last year.

A coverdish dinner will be held later in the month. Twenty-five attended the three - hour long meeting. Lunch was served.

SECTION 7. Subject to the rejection of said notes by the Treasurer as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, said notes are hereby awarded and sold to The First National Bank of East Liverpool in the amount of $173,393.00, and to the Potters Bank and Trust Co. of East Liverpool in the amount of $175,000.00, at par value thereof, in accordance with their written purchase proposals dated December 20, 1963. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of said notes shall to the extent necessary be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

SECTION 9. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of said notes at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in said City for the payment of such notes and the interest thereon; provided, however, that during the year or years while such notes run there shall be levied on all the taxable property in said City, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually not less than that which would have been levied for the City's portion of said notes, if bonds had been issued therefor without the prior issue of said notes.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Today is Friday, Jan. 3, the 3rd day of 1964. There are 363 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1831, Thomas Sidebotham's tavern in Frankford, Pa., was the site of the organization of the Oxford Provident Building Association — the first building and loan association in the United States.

On this date:

In 1777, American Colonial soldiers defeated the British in the Battle of Princeton, N.J.

In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson named Herbert Hoover director-general of the international organization for the relief of liberated countries.

In 1950, the U.S. State Department ordered the closing of Hungarian consulates in New York City and Cleveland in retaliation for the imprisonment of American businessman Robert Vogeler.

Ten years ago — Fifteen persons were trampled to death and 43 injured as crowds of Japanese well-wishers collected around Emperor Hirohito's palace in Tokyo.

One year ago — The U.S. expressed sharp concern for three bombing and strafing attacks by United Arab Republic military jets in connection with the fighting in Yemen.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: Is it true that amber is found in water?

ANSWER: Perhaps our questioner is referring to ambergris, which is a valuable substance formed in the intestines of sperm whales, and which is sometimes found floating on the surface of the sea. It is used in the making of perfume.

Amber, however, is something entirely different. Between 60 and 70 million years ago, there were heavy pine forests in northern Europe. Upheavals of land, especially in the area around the Baltic Sea, led to he burial of many such forests, under water or land or both. The pine trees had a resinous sap which, under pressure of land or water and over the long period of years, hardened into lumps which are almost like stone. These lumps are amber. Some amber is light colored and this is known as "bone amber." But the most beautiful pieces are clear, like crystal, and are in many shades of yellow and gold; they have been used from 9000 B. C. as ornaments.

A remarkable thing about amber is that insects of prehistoric days were often trapped in the sticky resin and were thus preserved when the resin hardened. It is one of these that big John is showing his little brother. As the picture to lower right shows, every detail of such an insect may be visible. Amber is sometimes mined from the ground, sometimes fished up from the Baltic Sea.

FOR YOU TO DO: An insect in amber is a great prize for your rock or fossil collection. Try to get one, by buying it from a rock dealer or swapping.

★ ★ ★

Charles Hadden Mills of Vandalia, Ill., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

A remarkable thing about amber is that insects of prehistoric days were often trapped in the sticky resin and were thus preserved when the resin hardened. It is one of these that big John is showing his little brother. As the picture to lower right shows, every detail of such an insect may be visible. Amber is sometimes mined from the ground, sometimes fished up from the Baltic Sea.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: An insect in amber is a great prize for your rock or fossil collection. Try to get one, by buying it from a rock dealer or swapping.

Lagging Child Needs To Be Checked

We may be hopeful that any child lagging at school, who gives evidence of ability to learn from books, can with adequate help and motivation do much better. We can usually be still more hopeful of helping the child who lags or fails around the third or fourth grade, after having done average or better work during his earlier school years. I'm hearing from many mothers about this type of child. Sometimes the slump occurs in a higher grade.

Dr. Garry Meyers

This child deserves special study. There could be physical causes for a sudden slump. There could be emotional ones growing out of all sorts of experiences at school, home or in the community, which may not easily be discerned, even by an expert.

—:—

THEN, TOO, IN the earlier grades, he may have been passed along regardless of his achievement, as is done in some schools. He could have been lagging then without his parents knowing about it.

More likely than not, this child is a poor reader. He may have learned to pronounce words at oral reading without being able to get meaning well from them.

By the third or fourth grade, the student may have lessons assigned in history, geography or elementary science. In order to master these, he must be able to read intelligently. He must be able to turn a paragraph or a page of assigned reading into a few words of his own. Being a poor reader, verbal problems in arithmetic may frustrate him, for how can he solve them without first ascertaining what they mean?

By this time, too, the child is expected to do simple addition — subtraction, multiplication and division rather skillfully. But he may still be counting on his fingers when he adds or subtracts. Trying then to speed up, he may be tempted to guess and make many errors, slowing up his speed in turn.

If your child's rather sudden slump in school achievement comes, say around the middle elementary grades, then:

1. HAVE HIM checked by your physician; also by the school psychologist if there is one, otherwise by a psychologist of a nearby college or university; consult a psychiatrist if the physician or psychologist so recommends.

2. Have an expert look into his learning difficulties, especially in reading. A teacher or reading clinic authority might do this well.

You yourself might easily discover where some of his trouble lies in reading or other subjects. Almost surely you will discover that he can't do well what he is now supposed to do in the subject. Just keep going back and back to find at what stage of difficulty he can do very well, and bring him forward from there.

3. Don't waste your time and his telling him, or trying to force him, to work harder at school.

No Rush Seen In Memorial To Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took 57 years for the United States to honor Abraham Lincoln with the majestic Lincoln Memorial, and some congressmen consider this proof there's no need to rush with a memorial to John F. Kennedy.

The long, frustrating, and finally triumphant story of the Lincoln Memorial will figure prominently in the first debate to face Congress after it returns on Tuesday.

First order of legislative business for the House will be a bill that would rename the national cultural center in memory of Kennedy and would provide $31 million in grants and loans for its construction. A similar bill has passed the Senate.

Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, president of the Capitol Historical Society and a Lincoln buff, will lead opposition to the bill.

"As a historian," Schwengel says, "I am interested in having adequate and appropriate memorials to our great leaders." In the case of the Lincoln Memorial, he continues, the nation, by waiting and not rushing, finally got "one of the greatest memorials in the world."

Schwengel proposes that Congress establish a presidential commission to study proposals for a Kennedy memorial and recommend one. This was the procedure that, after several tries, led to the Lincoln Memorial.

Tavern's Permit Lifted By Board In Sale To Minor

Two concurrent 7 - day suspensions in the permits of the Shamrock Grill, 115 E. 6th St., decreed by the State Liquor Control Board at Columbus, went into effect at noon yesterday and will continue until noon next Thursday.

Police Chief A. J. Radeschl received notice of the suspension from the board in a letter which said the action was taken on a charge of sale of malt liquor to a minor, 19, last July 11.

The second suspension, running concurrently with the first, was based on an employe's conviction in Municipal Court in connection with the same alleged sale, the notice said.

The tavern's ownership was listed by the state as Fulmer Bar, Inc., doing business as Shamrock Grill. The notice said the tavern has four permits: D-1, D-2, D-3 and D-3-A. All are covered by the suspension, it said.

Clevelend Man Dies After Being Stabbed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Raymond Trivett, 37, of Cleveland died in Polyclinic Hospital Thursday night of wounds he received when stabbed with a screwdriver while trying to break up a fight early Wednesday.

Police said six or seven persons were involved in the fight in front of a tavern at East 66th Street and Euclid Avenue.

5th Try Made On Life Of Ghana Chief

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—President Kwame Nkrumah escaped a fifth attempt on his life when a gunman fired five shots at close range as Ghana's leader was walking to his car Thursday.

Nkrumah was not hurt but a security guard was fatally wounded. The Ghana government said the gunman was arrested immediately but did not identify him.

The government said the shooting occurred as the 54-year-old strongman was leaving Flagstaff House, his official residence.

The brief announcement did not explain how the assassin gained access to the sprawling, walled grounds of Flagstaff House or eluded the constant patrol of hand-picked guards, most of them from the President's Nzima tribe.

The security guard died in a nearby military hospital.

Nkrumah, who already possesses virtual dictatorial powers over his nation of 7 million, on Monday announced plans to have his Convention Peoples Party made the only legal political organization in Ghana. On Wednesday he announced plans for a referendum to increase his powers, particularly over the courts.

Lisbon Youth Injured

Man's Fined $150 In Staging Cockfight

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A fine of $150 and costs, with $50 of the fine suspended, was imposed on Virgil (Doc) Roach Thursday on charges involving the staging of an unlawful cockfight.

Roach, 67, told Municipal Court Judge Forrest C. Ashcraft that he was moving to California.

Roach had admitted staging gamecock bouts in various rural barns. His arrest came Saturday night when his show attracted a crowd of whom 62 were arrested as spectators.

Four of the spectators forfeited bonds of $25 each and local authorities said the other 58 will be subpoenaed into court to answer the charges.

Pope Opens Historic Pilgrimage In Holy Land With Plea For Peace

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pope Paul VI opened his historic pilgrimage in the Holy Land today with an expression of hope for all men to "attain to universal peace in true brotherhood."

The 66-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic church told Moslem King Hussein of Jordan the three-day visit is "a spiritual one, a humble pilgrimage to the sacred places made holy by the birth, the life, the passion and ascension."

"At each of these venerable shrines," the Pope said, "we shall pray for that peace which Jesus left to His disciples, that peace which the world cannot give, but which comes from the fulfillment of His commandment: To love one another as He loved us."

Shrines on the Pope's itinerary today included Christ's Way of the Cross through the Old City of Jerusalem, the Church of the Holy Sepulcher and the Garden of Gethsemane. Sunday he visits holy places in Israel, across the no man's land dividing Palestine. He goes to Bethlehem Monday before returning to Rome.

The spiritual leader of the world's 550 million Roman Catholics was garbed in simple vestments of white as he alighted from an American-built airliner to the cheers of thousands waiting in Jordan's capital of Amman.

A driving northeast wind and a low ceiling over the airport made the landing uncertain until the last moment. But clearance was given, and the big DC8 jet set down at the airport at 1:15 p.m. (6:15 a.m., EST) after a flight of 3 hours and 20 minutes from Rome. The temperature was 44 degrees.

A 21 - gun salute boomed across the field, welcoming the Pope as head of the Vatican City state and 15 white pigeons were sent aloft.

"This visit is an occasion we will always remember and treasure," Hussein told the Pope.

By the time he returns to the Vatican late Monday the Pope will have traveled 3,500 miles by plane and car, possibly the longest papal trip in history. He will have visited Moslem Jordan and Jewish Israel and will have had the first meeting in five centuries between a Pope and the spiritual leader of the Orthodox churches.

Departing from Rome, the Pope emphasized the religious aspect of his trip, which he described as "a pilgrimage of prayer and of penance."

POPE PAUL waves to well-wishing faithful as he departed early today from Vatican City for the airport. The Pope began his historic pilgrimage to the Holy Land. (UPI Telephoto)

Goldwater Determined In GOP Bid

Will Stick To Race For Nomination, Senator Declares

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)— Conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, seeking the Republican presidential nomination to offer the nation "a clear choice" of philosophies, is determined to go all the way in his bid for the White House.

Win or lose in the presidential primaries he enters, Goldwater will stick with his race for the nomination until the Republican national convention chooses its candidate next July.

Nevertheless, Goldwater announced also for re-election to the Senate seat he has held for 12 years.

"I find no incompatibility in these two candidacies," he said.

The filing deadline for the Arizona senatorial primary is July 10, three days before the GOP convention opens in San Francisco.

Goldwater, who had insisted he would not run for both the Senate and the White House, would not say whether he will withdraw from the Senate race if he wins the presidential nomination.

"I will cross that bridge when I come to it," he said.

Four years ago, Goldwater called President Johnson a political trickster when the Texan ran for both the vice presidency and the Senate.

Kitchel said both he and Goldwater are confident the senator can win the nomination.

9 Firemen Treated For Inhalation

Thick Smoke Over City; 9 Units Fight Flames For 5 Hours

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)— A fire official said today a gas explosion apparently caused Friday's fire that destroyed three buildings and damaged others in downtown Beaver Falls.

Fire Chief Ed Phillips said he believes the blast let loose in a furnace under repair in the basement of a building housing a women's shop.

Mayor Evelyn F. Javens and Police Chief Martin Breit said the fire damage approximated $500,000.

Thick smoke spread over a large part of the city and sickened several firemen. Nine firemen were treated for smoke inhalation.

At least nine fire companies battled the flames five hours before bringing it under control about 6 p. m.

According to authorities, the flames broke out in the basement of the Jean Froch women's store, spread through the shop and into the adjoining Dell Millinery Shop in the same building.

Flames spread to an adjoining building that housed a vacant store room on the ground floor and Mildred's Beauty Shop on the upper floor.

The fire then spread to a third building that had a Woolworth's dime store on the first floor and a Household Finance Corp. office above.

Several offices and two apartments were destroyed. All occupants escaped.

Council Plans To Fill Vacant Seat Monday

Filling the vacant Second Ward seat will be one of the first items of business when City Council organizes for the 1964-65 biennium Monday night at 8.

The councilmen will vote to name a member to serve the full two years in the term of Kenneth C. Berg, Republican, who died in November shortly after he had been named to a second term.

It's almost a foregone conclusion the new member will be a Democrat. In the present line-up, Democrats out-number Republicans, 5-1.

One of the leading contenders for the post is expected to be James F. Cunningham, 149 Reynolds St., Beechwood, who lost to Mr. Berg in the Nov. 5 general election after winning the Democratic nomination in the May primaries.

Council also will name a clerk to succeed Lawrence J. Zollinger, Republican. Zollinger resigned Tuesday to assume office Wednesday as city auditor. He had served two years as clerk.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., veteran member - at-large, is the only GOP voting member beginning a new term. President George E. Willshaw also is a Republican, but he has a vote only in case of a tie.

Sledding Death Case Referred To Brokaw

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, said today he has referred the traffic death of Tommy Van-Dyke, 14, of Wellsville to County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, but added he feels "there was no negligence on the part of the driver involved in the mishap."

The boy died Friday at South Side Hospital in Youngstown with injuries suffered Thursday night when his sled coasted into the path of a car driven by William R. Dold, 20, of Industry R. D. 1. The mishap occurred at the intersection of 5th and Lisbon Sts. Police said driving conditions were slippery at the scene. The child was the son of Mrs. Patsy VanDyke, 603 Commerce St., Wellsville.

Over 100 Injured

Yugoslavia Rail Mishap Kills 40

BELGRADE, Yusovlavia (AP)—At least 40 persons were killed today when a crowded commuter train ran into a passenger train standing in the Jajinci Station nine miles south of Belgrade.

More than 120 people were injured, and by noon 12 had died in hospitals. Workers were still recovering bodies from the wreckage and many of the injured were in critical condition.

Official sources said they did not know of any foreigners among the dead so far.

Officials proclaimed a day of sorrow throughout the state of Serbia. All entertainments were canceled and flags were half staffed.

The commuter train from Pozarevac was more crowded than usual because of the New Year holidays. Most shops and factories in Yugoslavia have been closed for the past three days.

Eight coaches were crushed in the impact. Workers from a nearby factory were the first on the scene and started rescue operations. Forty ambulances were called in and hospitals in the area appealed to the population for blood donations.

Most of the dead and injured came from the commuter train, witnesses said. They said the train was moving at full speed, which usually is about 40 miles an hour.

Top Hancock Courthouse Jobs At Stake In Primary

By CHARLES CRONIN

Virtually every top Courthouse post will be at stake in elections in Hancock County this year, and filing for the primary May 12 will begin Monday in New Cumberland.

Observors watching behind-the-scenes jockeying for position in the various political factions by candidates feel the primary will be one of the hottest in years.

CANDIDATES may file at the Courthouse Monday through midnight, Feb. 1, for the primary.

County residents will nominate candidates May 12 for the general election Nov. 3.

The only Courthouse job not up for grabs is clerk of Circuit Court. Dan Grossi, Democrat, was elected in 1962 and began a six-year term Jan. 1, 1963.

Besides nominating to the posts of sheriff, prosecutor, assessor, county clerk, one county commissioner, justices of the peace and constables, county residents will also fill two seats on the Board of Education.

A RULING is expected soon on whether Hancock County will be allowed a second member in the House of Delegates in 1964. With a population of 40,000, the county is now permitted only one delegate. Under the reapportionment act still snarled in legal proceedings, the county would be entitled to a second delegate, and small counties with no delegates would get at least one each.

Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester, Democrat, is presently the county's lone representative to the House. She receives $1,500 yearly.

A long list of candidates is likely to be on the ballot for the office of sheriff, now held by Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny, who cannot succeed himself under state law.

The prosecutor's post, held by Atty. Floyd R. Tarr, Democrat, pays $5,400 a year.

Salary of the assessor is $4,800. Arnold Anderson, Democrat, is the present assessor. He was named by county commissioners the past year to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Anthony Leon.

The post of county clerk pays $6,000, a year. The present clerk is Mrs. Mary Stewart, widow of Donald G. Stewart of Pughtown. Mrs. Stewart was named to the post by commissioners after her husband died the past fall.

ONE SEAT on the County Court is to be filled by Grant District voters. The term of William C. Graham, president, expires. Graham is a Chester resident, and his commissioner's salary is $2,700 annually. He is also a Democrat.

The incumbent justices of the peace are W. Eugene Allison

26 Cases Now On Docket For Grand Jurors

New Term To Open Monday; County's Bar Group To Elect

LISBON — Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today over 26 cases will be presented to the Grand Jury when it is seated Tuesday after the opening of the January term of Common Pleas Court Monday.

At present, there are 21 defendants and cases include burglaries, auto thefts, assault, grand larceny, failure to provide and sodomy.

The January term of court will officially open at noon Monday with the Columbiana County Bar Association dinner at the McKinley Room of the VFW Post Home.

Bar members will then return to the Courthouse for their annual business meeting and election of officers, with Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, president, presiding.

The 15 - member panel of Grand jurors will be picked Tuesday morning and will be sworn in by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will handle criminal cases in the new term.

The jury is expected to visit the County Jail and then return to court to begin hearing approximately 40 witnesses. Jury sessions are set up for Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday, but it is not known if the panel can report late Wednesday or will return Thursday, Brokaw said. Additional cases may arise over the weekend.

Spring—It's Lovely; But Cold Spell's Due

Relish that spring - like weather while you can because the Ohio weatherman said the temperatures are due to return to a more seasonable range.

The mercury exceeded 50 degrees Friday, hurrying the melting of snow and ice that accumulated from recent storms, and the downtown had a mild 34 degrees at 6 a.m. today. The mercury will climb to 40 or so today for another balmy day then drop to the mid 20's tonight.

Skies will clear tonight and Sunday will be fair and on the crisp side. The high yesterday was the warmest reading in a month.

Doctor To Say If Hays To Be In Dedication

Whether Rep. Wayne L. Hays will be able to participate in the Wellsville Post Office dedication Sunday will depend on a physician's checkup of his head injury resulting from a fall on the ice at his home Friday morning at Flushing.

Rep. Hays was unconscious briefly after the fall, but was not hospitalized. He is scheduled to appear at the dedication of the new Post Office tomorrow afternoon at 2, but this will largely depend on what his physician says, according to Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman.

Gosney said he talked with Rep. Hays this morning. The congressman wants to attend the dedication, but will comply with his physician's orders. Hays is slated to return to Washington Monday.

Other dignitaries at the ceremony will be Walter Splar, director of community programs for the Post Office Department in Washington, and William J. Rahter, assistant to the regional director.

The Wellsville Chamber of Commerce and Postmaster E. J. Evans have arranged the program. It will open with a formal dedication in the Daw Junior High School, followed by a flag raising at the building and an "open house" for the public.

Solution To Jobless?

Hike In Overtime Pay Is Suggested

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)— President Johnson's demand for new thinking in devising solutions to the nagging unemployment problem has produced a hint of possible action that could affect virtually every American worker.

After conferring with Johnson at the LBJ Ranch, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz suggested to newsmen it might be wise to study the present time-and-a-half pay rate for overtime work.

If the rate were raised, Wirtz said, employers might be encouraged to eliminate overtime chores and hire additional workers.

He said elimination of overtime would open up the equivalent of 919,000 full-time jobs.

Wirtz' suggestion came three days after a Johnson aide had told newsmen the President wanted new thinking on possible ways to cope with persistent unemployment troubles.

Johnson indicated Friday he is trying hard to keep his new budget, for the 1965 fiscal year that begins July, below $100 billion. He even said it might wind up one or two percentage points below that level.

A cut of two per cent from $100 billion would yield a spending blue-print of $98 billion, or less than the record-breaking budget of $98.8 billion submitted to Congress a year ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.

However, it seemed unlikely that Johnson could avoid a budget bigger than ever.

And he reported that he had sliced several hundred million dollars each from the spending requests of the Agriculture Department, the Atomic Energy Commission and the space agency.

But he didn't say whether he was cutting these programs below current totals or simply reducing requests that traditionally exceed going levels.

He did state there will be no pullback from the commitment to put an American on the moon by 1970, a project that could cost as much as $40 billion.

And Wirtz, meeting with reporters at press headquarters in Austin, said that in his department there will be no cuts in "human needs" activities. He said these will proceed "full speed ahead."

Budget problems were due for another airing today at a ranch get-together of Johnson and Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Calcutta Girl Hurt In Crash

2 Cars, Tractor Rig Involved In Mishap

Judy Green, 16, of Calcutta suffered a scalp laceration in a collision involving two cars and a tractor-trailer truck Friday at 1:30 p.m. on Route 170 at the intersection with County Rd. 430.

Miss Green, who was treated by her family physician, was a passenger in a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Marian Green, 45, of Calcutta. Officers said Mrs. Green pulled from a stop sign into the path of the truck driven north by Charles Wright, 24, of Toronto. Her car was knocked into another driven by Charles Hays, 44, of R. D. 2.

Mrs. Green was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Garth French, 25, of Lisbon R. D. 4 escaped injury when his car rolled over on Route 172 eight-tenths a mile southeast of Route 9 yesterday afternoon at 2:45. The patrol said French went off the right side of the highway, struck an embankment and then rolled. He was cited for speed in excess of conditions.

4 Arrested In Raid At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—FBI agents, prosecutor's detectives, city detectives and sheriff's deputies all had a hand in this city's latest gambling raid, arresting convicted gambler Joey Naples and three associates.

Evidence furnished by the FBI was the basis for Friday's simultaneous raids against Naples' Center Sandwich Shop, Naples' home in a fashionable section on the north side, and a neighboring residence.

The raiding party included the prosecutor's detectives, members of the city's intelligence and security squad, and Mahoning County's newly formed intelligence and information squad.

The FBI, which is investigating a series of gangland slayings, including the deaths of two members of the Naples family, did not take part in the actual raids.

It was the second gambling raid in the last few weeks for which the FBI had furnished evidence.

Considerable gambling paraphernalis was confiscated, according to Sheriff Ray Davis. The sheriff said equipment for conducting a numbers operation was found in a second-floor room at the Sandwich Shop, where Bonner, a Negro midget, was arrested.

Police said numbers slips, a pistol and a hypodermic were in the second floor room, along with adding machines and telephones.

Prosecutor Clyde W. Osborne said the four arrested will be investigated by the grand jury directly. All four were released several hours after the raid.

At Naples' home, police seized racing and policy slips and numbers work sheets. An adding machine was seized at the home of a cousin next door to the Naples residence on Carlotta Drive.

Naples has been convicted and sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for receiving stolen goods and promoting a numbers game. The convictions stemmed from a 1962 raid on Naples' home during the investigation of the bomb death of Joey's older brother, Billy.

Raiders found guns and gambling paraphernalia in a secret basement room at the house. Naples has appealed his conviction to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Winter and Your Septic Tank

Unlike humans, who heat their homes in winter, or even animals, who have hairy bodies to keep them warm, the poor little bacteria in septic tanks and waste disposal systems have no protection against those harsh winter months ahead.

Since a temperature drop of only a few degrees will kill billions of these hard working microbes, the reduced bacteria population becomes incapable of disposing of the waste which enters such systems, resulting in clogged and unsanitary conditions.

These bacteria, mainly the colon-type, are produced in the human body at a temperature of 98.6° F., and lose their ability to produce their own enzymes for solids liquification as the temperature drops, literally starving to death. Quoting from SEWERAGE and SEWAGE TREATMENT: (1)

"Temperature of sludge digestion — the most practical optimum known as the Mesophilic Range, is between 80°F. and 90°F., preferably about 85°F. As the temperature drops, bacterial action diminishes almost in proportion until at about 50°F. it practically ceases."

Naturally, since the temperatures in unheated sewage systems average between 50°F. and 60°F. in winter, it may readily be seen that trouble can be expected.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help

Enzymes are not as susceptible to low temperatures as are bacteria, and it has been proven that their liquifying ability continues as low as 35° F. Therefore, SEA-CAL takes over the reduction of the solids, producing food in AVAILABLE form for the reduced bacteria population, enabling them to continue their valuable work, and to produce clear effluents for transmission to drainfields and cesspools. Since SEA-CAL also contains strains of virile bacteria by the million per gram, fresh populations are added each time a treatment is made.

For only a few pennies per treatment, for the average home system, SEA-CAL insures year - round protection from costly service problems, and unsanitary conditions.

USE SEA-CAL ENZYMES REGULARLY ALL YEAR, INCREASING DOSES IN WINTER.

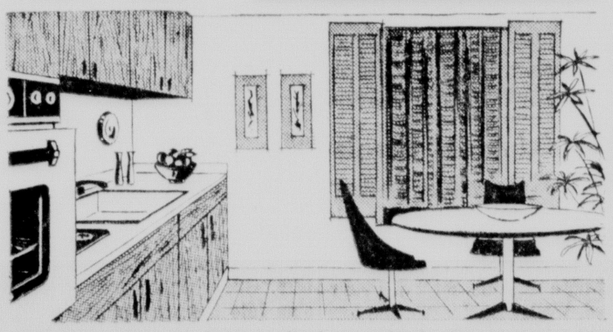
Decorating IDEAS

by Evelyn Fersch



Kitchens are no longer the home decorator's stepchild. Today's smart kitchens are coordinated with the home's overall decorative plan and more frequently than not have drawing-room charm. And what an excellent innovation this is when we consider the amount of time we spend in them.

In the past, efficiency took precedence over beauty in the kitchen, but today that is all changed. Beauty and efficiency go hand-in-hand.

The kitchen sketched above is a prime example. Natural wood cabinets and cupboards in rich, gleaming birch have been made to look even more important by painting the surrounding walls a pale driftwood color. Shutters in the same rich birch tone as the cabinets flank the wide window.

The tile floor repeats the driftwood tone of the walls. Blue accessories complete the color plan. Wheat color would be equally effective on the walls in this room.

If you are planning to do your own painting, we have all the materials and equipment you will need. Or, if you wish, we will be happy to do the work for you. Remember, you can always depend on us for quality and value.

Borrow our Dutch Boy Color Harmony Book at no charge and plan your new color scheme in the convenience of your own home.

Handshaking Launched By Rockefeller

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York moves into the streets today on a handshaking tour in pursuit of votes in the first-in-the - nation New Hampshire presidential primary.

Rockefeller, joined Friday by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in the race for the Republican presidential nomination, turned to the personal approach after a speech in Portsmouth Friday night.

Earlier he renewed his challenge to Goldwater that they debate the issues. He wired the Arizona senator his congratulations and urged Goldwater "to debate the issues with me—personally—in New Hampshire."

Cheers and applause greeted Rockefeller's declaration that he was entering the race for the presidency not to "stop anyone else within my own party."

Said Rockefeller: "I want to help build a Republican party that rejects the extremism of both the left and the right—a party that is moving forward in the broad mainstream of American political thought."

Rockefeller criticized the Democratic administration for what he said was a failure to speed up the nation's economic growth.

Among measures he advocated were:

Immediate federal income tax cuts.

Removal of racial barriers in schools and in the labor force.

Strengthening educational systems to meet the nation's needs for more professional and technical manpower.

At the meeting Monday, Council is expected to act on a temporary appropriation ordinance, providing funds for routine expenses in the first three months of the new year.

Meanwhile, the finance committee will draft the appropriation for the full year, working on estimates made by the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. The full year's appropriation generally is ready for action by late March.

Visits To East Sector Near End

Huge Human Tide Pours Through Wall In Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A huge human tide poured through the Berlin wall today as the Communist concession of holiday visits to the East sector neared its end.

By noon over 100,000 people had surged through the Communist control points, the official East German news agency ADN reported.

While the Berliners made the most of their last 48 hours of visiting, politicians of East and West jockeyed for political position.

Both sides have called for negotiations to allow West Berliners to visit the Soviet sector of the divided city after the present holiday crossings of the wall end at midnight Sunday.

The United States, Britain and France authorized West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt to negotiate a new agreement within carefully defined limits.

In East Germany, Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht, seeking full Western recognition for his regime, called for far-reaching East-West agreements to settle all problems of divided Germany.

Communist authorities prepared to handle the biggest single-day flow of West Berliners through the wall since the visits began Dec. 19.

Teams of workmen, watched by armed border guards, further enlarged the five crossing points in the wall after authorities predicted that a record 200,000 West Berliners would visit relatives in the eastern sector today.

There was little doubt that the wall would close again Sunday as scheduled under the current agreement. There was no indication when new talks would begin to reopen the wall to West Berliners, who saw their relatives during the holidays for the first time since the barrier went up 28 months ago.

Extra Policemen Guard Mummers Annual Parade

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The annual Mummers Parade, a welcome to the new year, was on today as extra policemen stood by to enforce court orders banning blackface makeup by marchers and threatened demonstrations by civil rights groups.

Starting time for the six-mile parade up historic Broad Street was 8:30 a.m. Clear and warm weather was forecast for the 64th annual parade, postponed from New Year's Day because of snow and ice.

Officials said some 2,000 policemen would be on duty throughout the city today — twice the normal force — with most of them lining the parade route of the 12,000 to 15,000 marchers. The parade annually attracts more than one million spectators.

A Common Pleas Court issued the injunctions Friday. One barred any participant from wearing minstrel makeup. The other barred civil rights groups from staging any demonstrations.

Magistrate Elias Myers, who announced he was retiring as parade director, said the Mummers would comply.

There was no immediate word from leaders of the Congress of Racial Equality or the Committee for Freedom Now, which threatened the demonstrations. They had, however, earlier withdrawn objections to the suits seeking the injunctions.

Auto Of Wellsville Man Hits Gas Meter

A car driven by a Wellsville man broke off a gas meter in the yard of an Empire area home Friday night at 11:25, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said Fred Congo, 71, of 929 Commerce St. was backing down Connor's Hill Rd., just west of Empire, to start the motor of his car. As he backed into a driveway, the brakes failed and the car drifted into the yard of the Joseph T. Stone residence, striking the gas meter.

Congo was cited for driving with defective brakes.

City To Begin Tree Pickups

East Liverpool householders were reminded today the annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees will open Monday, continuing through Friday.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin reminded householders to place the trees outside the night before the scheduled pickup. Trees should be placed at the curb or the rear property line so that they are readily visible to collection crews, he said.

Two street department trucks will be used for the collection. A third is available if the schedule lags because of bad weather, Laughlin said.

The pickup will follow the usual trash collection routes, but will cover in one day the streets the incinerator crew normally covers in two days. In that way, the tree pickup will be completed in a week.

Here's the schedule for the collection Monday:

Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave., Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St., St. Clair Ave.

The Tuesday collection will cover: Almont St., Gaston Pl., Lincoln Ave., Woodlawn Ave., Rigby St., Green Ln., E. 8th St., E. 9th St., Grant St., Garfield St Peake St., Wall St., Norton St., Ogden St., Prospect St., Ray St., Sarah St.

Khrushchev Relaxing At Poland Lodge

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Premier Khrushchev relaxed at a secluded hunting lodge in northern Poland today while world leaders digested his proposal for an agreement renouncing the use of force to settle territorial disputes.

There was no official information concerning the discussions between Khrushchev, his host, Polish Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka, and other Polish and Soviet leaders in the thatched-roof hunting lodge in a forest region about 100 miles northeast of Warsaw.

Western observers in Moscow believe the talks center on the Chinese-Soviet ideological dispute in preparation for a possible showdown meeting of world Communist leaders on Peking's threat to the Kremlin's leadership.

Gomulka was expected to try to dissuade Khrushchev from calling such a meeting, arguing it would threaten unity in the Communist camp. The Moscow observers say the Soviet leader had been toying with the idea since it was suggested last fall as a means of settling the Moscow-Peking quarrel.

Khrushchev and Gomulka are expected to mix hunting with their talks, as they have done every winter since 1956, but there was no word of such sporting activity Friday.

Little Boy's Plea Opens Doors Of Jail

William R. Merrill, 28, was in jail in Circleville, 150 miles southwest of here, Friday and had not seen his family since October, when he left home in Painesville to look for work.

His son, John, 3, was in Children's Hospital of University Hospitals, critically ill with meningitis. He had been calling for his father.

Merrill's mother, Mrs. Frank Beaumont of Perry, asked Lake County Sheriff Edwin H. Cunningham to notify her son that John was critically ill. Cunningham called Pickaway County Sheriff Walton Spangler, who in turn notified Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

The judge freed Merrill with a one-month suspended sentence put him on three-years' probation and sent him on his way.

Sheriff's deputies drove Merrill to Mansfield, where he was met by Cuyahoga County Sheriff's deputies and brought on into Cleveland.

Merrill told reporters he had found work in Kansas City and was returning home when Circleville police stopped him Nov. 11 for driving with only one headlight. Police then found that he was using fictitious auto license plates and had a suspended driver's license.

Merrill was fined $225. Unable to pay the fine, he was working it out in the Pickaway County jail. He had 30 days to go when Judge Lamb freed him.

Doctors said John showed some improvement after seeing his father Friday night, but the boy remained on the danger list.

Goldwater Had No Choice

Sen. Barry Goldwater says he is running for the Republican presidential nomination, as most of his fellow citizens believed he would be when the right time came.

The Arizonan had no choice if he was taking himself seriously. Either he had to seize the tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads to fortune, or step aside as a contender for leadership.

He was 55 years old on Jan. 1. The next president of the United States can be expected to serve two terms, as can all presidents now that a two-term limit has been written into the Constitution. Time was running out.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, the contender Sen. Goldwater has pledged himself to block this year, already is off and running. The Republican party's titular leader, Dwight D. Eisenhower, has been urging everybody and his brother to try for the nomination, though he had no personal appetite for competition in 1952, it is recalled.

Moreover, the conservative element of the Republican party had shown more interest—both ideological and financial—in a Goldwater candidacy than had been shown for any candidate since Democrats became the majority party.

If there ever had been a time, this was it.

THE ASSASSINATION of President Kennedy and the elevation of Lyndon G. Johnson to the presidency hurt Sen. Goldwater's prospects in the forthcoming national election. But what has been foolishly overlooked is that they hurt his prospects no more than they hurt the prospects of any other Republican who might get the nomination. And Sen. Goldwater, unlike the others, has the ready-made backing of many ultra-conservative Republicans.

We have no idea how the senator's bid will turn out, but we feel it will be good for the Republican party for him to make it with full backing by his friends. We have faith in the two-party system and in the intraparty struggles that make the system work so well.

When Ohio's Robert A. Taft was the spokesman and symbol of Republican conservatism, we backed his bids for a presidential nomination and regretted the me-too candidacies of Thomas E. Dewey. We believe Sen. Goldwater, to quote his own words, would be a "choice, not an echo." We think voters are entitled to a choice.

WHETHER Barry Goldwater can win his party's nomination is a problem for the GOP convention delegates who must make that difficult decision.

But of this much we feel certain—that any Republican who thinks he can do better will find himself humping because Barry Goldwater, the man to beat, now is in the race officially.

Lack Of Good Faith

The rest of us would be more than a little foolish if we took seriously his proposal to build a new peace pact.

The United Nations Charter embodies everything in the premier's proposal. The United Nations promises everything that would be contained in a new peace pact.

The Soviet Union could gain no security in a new pact it does not have in the United Nations. A new international peace organization could do neither more nor less than is being done by the United Nations.

The U.N. Charter pledges all signatories to maintain international peace and security and to outlaw war as an instrument of national policy. It declares that armed force shall be used only in the common interest and that mankind shall use henceforth "international machinery" for the promotion of the economic and social advancement of all peoples everywhere on earth.

NOTHING that could come to the mind of any peace-loving human being has been omitted in the U.N. Charter. It is comprehensive. It is complete. One of its founders is the Soviet Union.

Why, then, should the Soviet Union be proposing a new world pact on territorial disputes when the United Nations already has authority to cope with such disputes and the International Court of Justice has authority to adjudicate them? What is Premier Khrushchev fishing for that he does not already have in his catch?

The answer is not at hand. Like the explanation for Soviet proposals in general, it is not easy to decide what goal is in the official mind — perhaps some special problem concerning China, perhaps some test of international stresses and strains, perhaps a test of intent in some other nation.

BUT CERTAINLY the purpose cannot be to propose that the United Nations be duplicated by some other international organization pledged to do the same thing.

There is room for only one organization of this kind, as even the Kremlin would have to admit.

As for renouncing war as an instrument of national policy, that has been going on since the Kellogg-Briand Pact in 1925. The League of Nations renounced war as an instrument of national policy, and when the League was destroyed by bad faith the United Nations filled the vacuum.

There has been no lack of pacts, only a lack of good faith. The world needs no more pacts.

Pet Poisoning

One of the most shameful violations of human decency and one of the most outrageous crimes in the eyes of animal lovers is the deliberate poisoning of dogs.

In the past few months there have been several cases of such pet poisoning in East Liverpool, Salineville and elsewhere.

Dogs, valuable for lengthy pedigree or just long-standing love, have fallen victims to strychnine, ground glass or arsenic compounds. Innocent dogs have died in agony because of a neighborhood squabble or misunderstanding.

And the remote chance that a child, attracted to a tidbit on the street or in a yard, may swallow the deadly bait, makes such heartless, cruel act even more offensive.

On behalf of not just dogs and dog lovers, but parents of small children, we appeal for an end to such poisonings. If you get mad at your neighbor, don't take it out on his pet.

If his dog barks or tracks through your yard, don't rush off to buy some poison. Either tell your neighbor or call the dog warden or police.

Give Rover a chance and don't risk being caught as the killer of an innocent dog or an innocent child.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

This little note, written hurriedly, is going to overtax (if you'll pardon the expression) your fatigued memory.

It has to do with the late evening and early morning of two days on the Left Bank (if you'll pardon the expression) of the River Seine in Paris a long time ago —November 1925.

Not to flog a dead horse too much, but Left Bank is a contradiction in terms. Who ever heard of a radical bank? That kind is out of business.

What prompts this letter is a little note in a magazine written by a gentleman named Carl Winston, who described a riotous evening spent in Paris with the late great writer Francis Scott Key Fitzgerald, better known as F. Scott Fitzgerald.

The night was so riotous that Mr. Winston became confused and left his gloves and cane in the possession of Mr. Fitzgerald.

In his magazine item, Mr. Winston says he would like to know who, if anybody, was there on that memorable, or immemorable, night in Paris. And that is where you and I come in.

TO TELL the truth, the way things went that night I am not too sure about you, but I feel relatively sure I must have been there. You probably gave up the ghost early and retired to your digs, but as usual I stuck it out to the bitter end and it was quite bitter.

It left me with a monumental headache —which persists to this day.

Mr. Winston seems to have been impressed by that encounter with the late noted Mr. Fitzgerald, and I was, too. I have been regaling my grandchildren for years with the story of that night I spent with Scott—on the Left Bank.

Whereas Mr. Winston lost only a pair of gloves and a cane, my tangible evidence of that night are a glass eye (bloodshot) and a Harvard class ring on which the century is obliterated but the year is '03.

EVERY TIME I try to tell my grandchildren about that night with Scott, they always say, "But Grandpa, if he was Scotch, what was he doing in Paris?" And, "Grandpa we didn't know you were that old."

They will learn the difference between Scotch and Scottish, later, I suppose.

So I patiently explain that I am not talking about Sir Walter Scott, but Mr. F. Scott.

Still and all, the events of that night left me in such a predicament that possibly you could help me out.

Did you know anyone there that night with a glass eye or a Harvard class ring of '03? I don't know actually anyone from the Harvard class of '03 either 1903, 1803, or 1703. Do you?

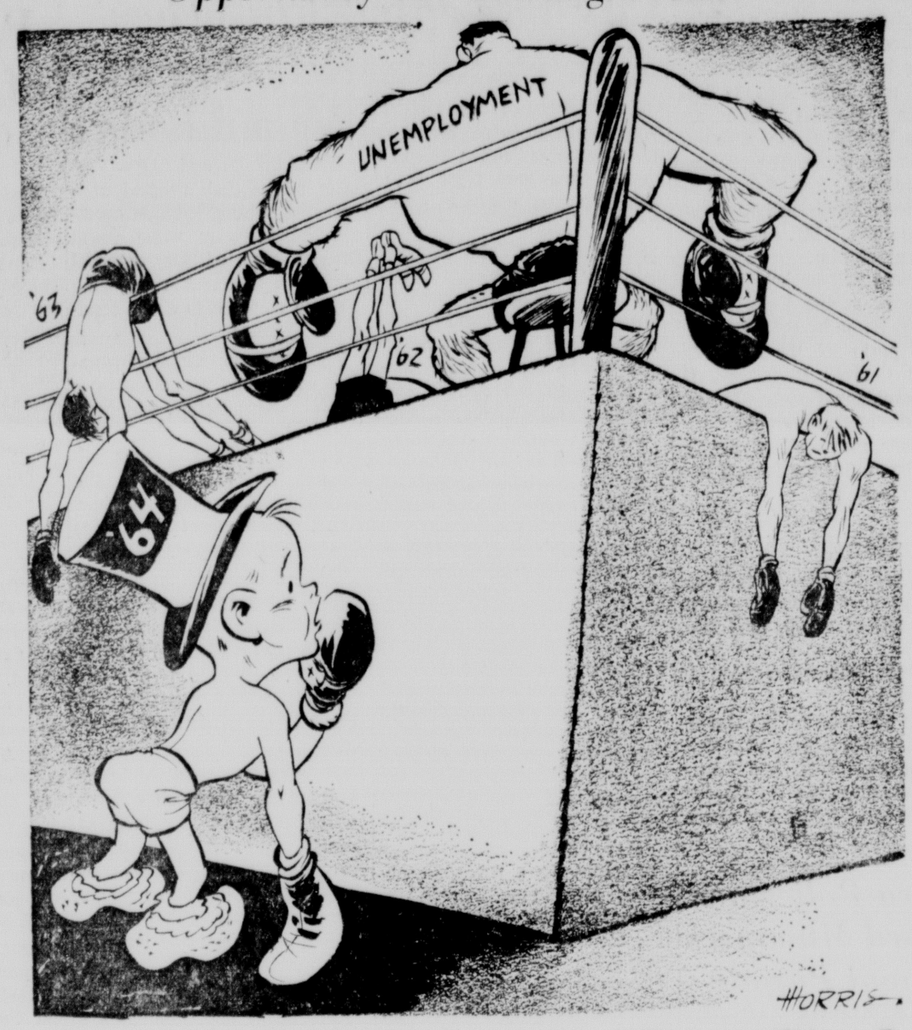
That glass eye (bloodshot) and class ring are among my most cherished possessions and proof of one lovely night in Paris when we both were young.

If this rings any bells with you ring me up; I won't call you.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

In 1908, the Wright Brothers built an aircraft for the U. S. Army at a cost of $30,000 — the first airplane ever purchased by any government. It was tested before large crowds at Fort Myer, Virginia. The craft could carry two persons at a speed of 42 miles an hour.

Opportunity For The Right Man!



Navy Sub Construction Costs Cited

By Victor Riesel

It has been costing the Defense Department — the public really—$3 million more to build a single Polaris nuclear submarine in a U. S. naval yard than to construct such a craft in a privately owned shipyard. And we the people do not even get green stamps for the wasted money.

Victor Riesel

Costs in the federal yard are higher, too, for new fighting ships, ranging from frigates to aircraft carriers. Thus, the nation appears to be throwing away scores of millions of dollars for reasons which a congressional committee should search out.

There is a documented report on such expenditures in the Pentagon files. It's based on a long and objective cost accounting analysis ordered by the Defense Department to determine whether it is cheaper for the government to run its own installations or to use private corporations.

There are, of course, many reasons for the excess costs. The government investment in land and equipment is heavier. The Navy yards allegedly spend more money to look spic and span.

THERE ARE a greater number of "overhead" employes per productive employes in the Navy yards than in the private yards.

But, says the report, the fringe benefit costs represent the most significant factor in the higher average overhead rates at the naval yards.

"This difference in fringe benefits," the report adds, "is attributed primarily to the relatively higher payment for time not worked such as annual leave, sick leave and holiday pay, at naval shipyards."

These are better benefits than the private yards give. And perhaps they should be. But there is such a phenomenon as pricing an installation out of the market—and that is what the Navy yard workers appear to be doing.

Labor leaders in the field argue that their members deserve such benefits. But whether they deserve them or not is not the primary question when it comes to the defense of the land.

THESE EXCESS costs in some Navy yards are awesome. It has been costing the Pentagon 25.4 per cent more to build an attack aircraft carrier in a Navy yard than at a private dock.

The cost for guided missile frigates is 16.4 per cent higher in a government yard; at least 12.4 per cent more for nuclear ballistic missile submarines; and 10 per cent more for nuclear attack submarines.

This report by the accounting firm of Arthur Andersen and Co. is as objective as a surgeon's scalpel. It cuts to the core. It reports, for example, that five private shipyards built 14 ships at a lower cost to the Defense Department than a comparable 10 ships constructed in six Navy yards.

The story is the same in repair yards—though the margin is smaller. The difference is 3.4 per cent. On conversion, the Defense Department runs about even, or perhaps gets a better break in its own yards.

THE GOVERNMENT has been a generous employer. Its fringe benefits have run $1.29 an hour compared with 84 cents in private yards on most work.

This means the public pays at least $18 a week more for fringe benefits alone to each Navy yard worker for a 40-hour week than they would pay if the government contracted all its work to a private yard. This is a new work—such as the construction of a Polaris sub—the fringes run much higher. They are estimated to cost 57 cents an hour more in the Navy yards than in the private ones—or about $22.80 a man higher per standard work week.

THESE ARE cold figures. Emotions would get too hot if any attempt were made to compare the speed of work in a Navy yard with that in a private yard. Or, if one were to get into a discussion of grievances, time off, number of hours actually worked during an eight hour shift, and skills in the federal yards as compared with the private operations.

Perhaps those matters can't be measured. But cash can.

Resentful Congress

By David Lawrence

Foreign Aid Pressure Brings Reaction

Congress has come and gone —but in an unhappy mood. Resentment is privately expressed by a number of the members. They do not see any reason why they should have been called back here under presidential pressure after they had gone to their districts for the Christmas recess.

David Lawrence

Again and again senators and representatives have said privately that the foreign aid bill could just as well have waited until January 7, because there was ample money in the till to carry on these operations. Expressions of disapproval were numerous in both parties.

It's too early to say how much of an effect this is going to have on the fortunes of the Johnson administration in the future, but it would not be surprising if there were outcroppings of dissatisfaction here and there when the new session starts.

The calling back of Congress is, of course, a two-sided controversy. Actually, from a legislative standpoint, immediate action on the foreign aid bill was not necessary.

President Johnson, however, was repeatedly told by his advisers it would make an unfortunate impression abroad if he did not come out on top in a showdown with Congress at this time. It was supposed to be vital to his prestige and influence in world affairs.

WEIGHING, therefore, the inconvenience involved in disrupting the family plans of members of Congress as against the desirability of presenting a favorable image in Europe, the administration chose to pressure Congress to put through the measure before adjourning.

One major effect of the episode has been to focus attention on President Johnson's relations with Congress and the methods he may use hereafter in trying to get his way.

One senator—after a conversation with the President on a subject pertaining to his own state —is reported to have told colleagues that the President was very graceful about it but did not fail to mention that he expected a bit of help himself on Capitol Hill.

The friction over the amendment to the foreign aid bill which would put certain restrictions on lending to Communist countries is an example of the kind of cleavage that may occur again and again.

Congress likes to manifest its independence. Many members feel, moreover, that in the coming political campaign the sale of wheat to Russia will be an important issue. If the administration, under the discretionary powers just voted to it, does go through with its plan to help finance the transaction with government credit, there will be more criticism heard.

MEANWHILE, Congress is getting ready for a big battle when the sessions are resumed on Jan. 7. No subjects are more complicated than the tax bill and the civil rights measure. Amendments galore will be offered to each one. Neither bill will be passed without several weeks of debate. There also is bound to be an accumulation of political grievances growing out of various aspects of the legislation.

Up to now, the foreign aid bill has been the only really controversial question in which President Johnson has become involved. The issue of fiscal economy has yet to crystallize. All the talk has been in more or less unintelligible language as far as the public is concerned. For there is a difference between the amount authorized to be spent and the actual appropriation of public funds. The President wisely has talked a good deal about economy and the importance of holding down expenses, but the opinion of competent observers is that the amount of the budget will be around the $100-billion mark just the same.

EVERY ADMINISTRATION does a lot of budget-cutting in theory. This usually happens when the Treasury estimates have been submitted to the president and before they are formally sent to Congress.

Congress itself, however, has to do the actual cutting job. There are signs that economy will be a major issue this year and that Congress will attack the budget on many items.

The original argument for a tax-reduction bill was that a business recession would thereby be avoided.

Now that business is supposed to be going ahead into something of a boom, Congress might just take it upon itself to do a little cutting of tax rates beyond the administration proposals and still not run up a bigger deficit than was planned. There is a temptation, too, to modify various rules and regulations that limit taxpayers' deductions.

Congress has been represented as at odds with the Kennedy administration on many issues, and lately the impression has been given that President Johnson, because of his experience in the legislative body, will get along better with Congress than did his predecessor. This view is questioned by those who believe Congress is reflecting a discontent prevalent throughout the country, not only over high taxes but over excessive expenditures by the federal government.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I am writing in reference to the letter of J. George Torrence which appeared in the Dec. 30 Review.

I fully realize that all Americans are privileged with the right to state their convictions, but, nonetheless, I was appalled that The Review had chosen to honor what I regard as tripe. I have never before witnessed such a nonsensical conglomoration of fanatic ravings. Surely, I am not the only Review reader to protest this man's criticisms of the government.

Does Mr. Torrence possess the superior intellect and foresight to so judge and pass sentence on the decisions of our late president, our top military leaders, our political advisers and the Supreme Court? I think not.

I can think of no citizen who doesn't disagree with some points of our governmental system; it is only natural. But, in finding fault with so many government functions and decisions, Mr. Torrence has taken a truly unrealistic stand.

In writing this letter, it is not my intention to deride Mr. Torrence or to be unduly caustic. I am merely trying to point out that a collection of such beliefs tend to stifle the very ideals of our democracy. The leaders of our nation are deserving of laudation rather than condemnation. It is their wisdom that insures the strength and freedom of our nation.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The dog catcher of children's stories and cartoons who is out to get every dog or cat he sees is a myth. Instead, we have dog wardens whose duty to pick up stray animals is, in theory, a kindness to the animal, giving many cold, hungry animals an opportunity for a warm, well-fed, loved position with a family.

The dog warden performs this duty as a courtesy to the taxpayer. Without this service the home owner who likes to work with shrubs and perennials is hopelessly outnumbered and lost.

I love animals. However, in the last few years we have had what would seem to us at least a small fortune worth of plants destroyed in our yard by the continuous hordes of dogs in our neighborhood. There are times when it is impossible for my whole family to drive an animal from our front porch.

No one wants the fabled, nasty dogcatcher of children's stories, but with the New Year and the new administration taking office let's have effective enforcement of the dog warden's office.

Polar Bear Camp Opens For Area Boy Scout Units

Weather conditions are nearly ideal for the Polar Bear camp which opened today at the Beagle Club on the Y. & O. Rd. near East Liverpool for approximately 200 Boy Scouts in the Cherokee District.

There's plenty of snow and ice in the country to provide a real wintry atmosphere, and the weatherman has promised a weekend of fair skies and cool temperatures for the young adventurers.

Theme of this year's camp is "Survival," and all the youngsters will sleep in sleeping bags laid on a cover of straw and papers on the ground, sheltered by tents.

William Rayburn, camp master, said each unit will prepare its own meals, and all units will judge projects set up for the weekend camp.

Cherokee District Cub Scout Packs have been invited today as guests to observe the winter camp activities. A hot meal prepared on an open fire was to be served today at noon to the Cub Scouts, most of whom will attend winter camps in the future after attaining the rank of tenderfoot.

Sale Ends Bitter Fight Between 2 Papers In Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The end has come to the prolonged and bitter struggle between the two evening newspapers in this western Ohio city of 51,000.

Sale of the 6½-year-old Lima Citizen to the publishers of the Lima News was announced Friday by J. A. Howenstine and Sam Kamin, co-publishers of the Citizen which will cease publication Tuesday.

The purchase price was not disclosed. Howenstine denied reports that the figure was between $ 2million and $2½ million, and would say only it was "considerably less than $2 million."

E. Roy Smith, News publisher, said if the price was announced, it would have to be by the Citizen.

R. C. Hoiles of Santa Ana, Calif., heads Freedom Newspapers, Inc., Publisher of the News and 11 other papers in Ohio, California, Colorado, Texas, and New Mexico.

The Citizen's staff of 162 was told of the sale at a meeting late Friday, although rumors of the deal had circulated for several weeks.

Staff members are to receive vacation pay, two weeks' severance pay, and any back pay that may be due, Kamin promised. In addition, stockholders—some of them Lima residents—will receive from six to seven per cent interest on their stock, and all debts will be paid, he added.

'Governor Didn't Ask To Be'

Rhodes Is 'Favorite Son' At My Request, Bliss Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes became Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for the Republican nomination for president at the request of State GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

Bliss told reporters Friday: "Rhodes did not ask to be a favorite son. I asked him. I believe him when he says he is not a candidate for national office."

The chairman said the idea of the governor's favorite son role is to spare the state from a battle of the national convention delegates in the May 5 primary.

Bliss' comments came after a closed session of the State Republican Committee at which Rhodes was selected unanimously. Lt. Gov. John W. Brown was the committee's second choice.

His selection was not intended as a move to stop Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater or any other GOP presidential aspirant, Bliss said. Goldwater announced for the nomination Friday but did not indicate whether he is considering the Ohio primary.

Some backers of Goldwater in Ohio gave the impression they are skeptical of Rhodes' favorite son role. Roger Yorchuck of Columbus, counsel for the Ohioans for Goldwater, said his group will wait and see "what the senator wants to do."

State delegations to the national convention often cast a complimentary ballot for their favorite son, but are not required by Ohio law to do so.

Ohio delegations never have observed the so-called unit-rule under which all delegates are bound by a majority vote.

The state committee, meeting at a luncheon at the Neil House, also selected 12 candidates for delegate-at-large at the convention. Delegates-at-large will be elected by voters statewide in the May 5 primary. Forty - six delegates will be elected in the congressional districts also.

John W. Bricker of Columbus, former U. S. senator and governor; Ray C. Bliss of Akron, Republican state chairman and national committeeman; Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, 7th District congressman and national committeeman; Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, national committeewoman; Roger Cloud of Bellefontaine, Ohio House speaker; C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville, Ohio Senate majority leader.

Mrs. Florence G. Morris of Toledo, committee vice chairman; State Auditor Roger Tracy of Columbus; State Treasurer John Herbert of Columbus; Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxbe of Mechanicsburg; H. Richard P. Niehoff, state finance chairman; and Rhodes.

Delegates at large four years ago but omitted from the list this year were Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of Columbus and Congressman-at-Large Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati. Both are candidates for the U. S. senatorial nomination in the primary and they were omitted because of their candidacy.

Alternate-at - large delegate candidates named by the committee were:

Mrs. Lila Black of Avon Lake, 13th district committeewoman and state committee secretary; John Marshall Briley of Toledo, 1962 nominee for U. S. senator; Mrs. Maxine H. Charlton of Lancaster, 10th District committeewoman; Ted Hysell of Columbus, president of the War Veterans Clubs of Ohio; Richard Krabach of Lima, state finance director; William H. Kreidler of Cincinnati, First District committeeman; Mrs. Sue L. Little of Cleveland, 22nd District committeewoman;

William L. McGrath, Cincinnati businessman; Miss Kay Stephens of Dayton, co-chairman of the Ohio League of Young Republican Clubs; Isadore Topper, Columbus Attorney; William O. Walker of Cleveland, state industrial relations director; George F. Wright Jr. of Akron, co-chairman, Ohio League of Young Republican Clubs.

A 1939 graduate of Wells High School, he is a son of Mrs. Agnes Pifko of Grant St., Newell, and the late Pete Gogol. He was a navigator for three years in World War II and was graduated from Houston University in 1948. He received a master's degree in mechanical engineering at Houston, and later studied managerial procedure at Stanford.

Gogol is married to the former Kate Foyt of Houston and they have a daughter and two sons.

Goldwater Gets Support Pledge By Ohio Backers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has received pledges of support "in any capacity assigned" from his organized Ohio backers in his bid for the GOP presidential nomination.

The Ohioans for Goldwater organization, which claims 65,000 members, sent a telegram Friday to the Arizona conservative after he had announced officially his intention to run for the presidency.

Ohio Republicans' action in naming Gov. James A. Rhodes as their "favorite son" for president in the GOP national convention may keep Goldwater from running in the Buckeye presidential primary.

Goldwater said that there were situations in some states involving "favore son" candidates that would have a bearing on his decision about entering primaries in those states.

Serbians Turn To Ancient Customs As Christmas Nears

Other Orthodox Faiths Await Festivities

By TOM BAKER

The Yule log, the breaking of a wheatcake, the roasting of a succulent pig are part of the long-standing traditions of Orthodox Christmas which will be observed next week at Midland and in some other district communities.

The festive season, with colorful customs dating back to the time of Christ, is part of the Orthodox practice based upon the Julian calendar which is 13 days later than the Gregorian calendar more commonly followed in America.

Serbian communities at Midland, Weirton and Steubenville and the Greek Orthodox congregations at Toronto and elsewhere will start the holiday with Christmas Eve Monday.

In Midland, the caroling parade of the Serbian Orthodox Church congregation is an auto caravan lighted by bright red flares, in accordance with long - standing custom. The procession leads to the Serbian National Home on Midland Ave., where the familiar Yule log is blessed by Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church.

The log is then burned, with the presidents of the various Serbian organizations placing the log upon the flames, symbolic of the fire around which the shepherds received word of the birth of the Christchild while in the fields tending the sheep.

In the "old country", when houses were distant from each other and each household had its own yule log, the man of the household rose before dawn the day before Christmas to go into the woods and cut the log, making sure that it was felled to the East to assure a lucky year for the household. The belief was that if the log fell toward the West the household would have only bad luck.

BEFORE THE log was cut, three handsful of wheat were tossed on the tree, with a "happy Badnyi Dan to you," which means, "Happy Christmas Eve." The log is known as a "Badnyak".

Before the log was taken into the house, a "Pogacha", which is a pure wheaten flower flat cake, was broken over it and it once again was wished a "Happy Badnyi Dan."

The parade itself may have evolved from the custom of the children of the villages long ago going from house to house on Christmas Eve, serenading with "Colleda Songs", which involved a goddess named Colleda.

On Christmas eve walnuts are flung into the corners of the kitchen — east, west, north and south — so that "Christmas comes to every part of the earth", and a box of wheat is placed in the middle of the room, with a tall candle of yellow wax placed in the middle, over which the family prays to God, asking that they might have health and happiness in the coming year. The candle is kept lighted continually, signifying the "Christian Light of the World".

THE PREPARATION of the Christmas feast is begun on Christmas eve, also, with the main meal being a roasted pig. This is one of the customs which is still actively practiced in this country, with many a backyard in Midland filled with activity on Christmas Eve around a roasting pig. Christmas Eve itself is a fasting day for the Orthodox faith, however, and the main meal on this day is a specially prepared feast of fish. The pig cannot be eaten until after midnight.

Tradition has it that the practice of eating pork on Christmas day dates back to before the faith became Christians, and worshiped the sun, with a pig being sacrificed to the sun god every Christmas.

With Christmas eve a frenzy of activity, many children stay up very late and most of the adults stay up all night to keep the yule log burning.

AT MIDLAND, following the burning of the yule log, a party is held for the children of the congregation, complete with the passing out of gifts by Santa, followed by Midnight church services at the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church.

Early Christmas day activities again resume in an undertone of excitement, with the lady of the house quickly completing preparations for the Christmas meal.

The first cupful of water drawn in the morning is used to make a special Christmas cake called a "Chestnitsa", in which coins are placed before baking. With great excitement, the children look forward to the cutting of the cake to see who will get the coins. Those getting coins are supposed to have good luck for the coming year.

MEANTIME, each member of the family eagerly awaits the "plozajnik", who has come to "let in Christmas", the "polozajnik" being the first male to enter the house on Christmas Day. Supposedly, if a male enters the house first he will bring with him luck for the household for the coming year.

Each Christmas day in Midland is marked with the 10 a. m. church services at St. George's Church and the Christmas meal in the afternoon.

Part of the three-day celebration of Christmas, which starts on Christmas day, is the Feast of St. Stephen, the First Martyr (who is the patron saint to many of the faith). This day is featured with holy services and the breaking of the "Chestnitsa".

THE ORTHODOX New Year's Eve — Night on the Adriatic (Noc Na Juduanu)— is celebrated Jan. 13 with musical programs and dancing. New Year's Day is observed Jan. 14.

The Vigil of Theophany (Drstovdan) is a strict fast day, when the blessing of the water is observed, and the Fr. begins the annual blessing of each household of Orthodox families of the area.

TRADITIONAL COOKIES, nuts and fruit used in the celebration of the Orthodox Christmas celebration are being prepared by Protinica Dobrota, wife of Fr. Dobrota.

FR. DOBROTA has prepared a special ceremony for Christmas eve ceremonies, including the blessing of five types of bread, representing the five loaves broken by Christ.

BPW Sponsors Many Projects

This is another in a series of stories on district clubs, organizations and lodges which will appear on these pages from time to time.

Out of the myriad of projects and activities sponsored by the East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club have developed many worthwhile community services.

In the fall of 1939 when it was founded, the club began the first project by conducting a comprehensive survey of job opportunities for women in this area. Arrangements were made for a two - day series of "Career Conferences" in 20 vocations with girls of the 8th, 9th and 10th grade attending. Fourteen of the speakers were BPW members.

THE FOLLOWING year the conferences were enlarged to include boys, and the 21 conferences were attended by 2,000 students. After two more successful years, the school superintendent appointed a teachers' committee to handle conferences, and today they are a vital part of the high school curriculum.

The Tri - State Science Fair was launched by the club in 1959 with 225 students competing from 30 area high schools. The popularity skyrocketed so that in recent years it has been held at the Steubenville Arena to accommodate the many science projects. It is now a highly successful venture with an active Board of Directors from the area.

The Child Health Clinic, remaining under complete supervision of the club, was established in 1947 with medical aid given to countless pre - school children.

The club also holds a party annually for the children and parents, with gifts supplied by the members. Supported wholly by the club and contributions from community residents, the annual fund drive has been discontinued and the clinic added to the East Liverpool Community Fund campaign.

THE CLUB'S purpose, "to provide a medium for individual growth and group understanding through which members take responsibility in leadership", is demonstrated forcefully in countless projects.

They include establishing foster homes for wards of the County Juvenile Home, assisting with the formation of the Child Counseling Center and the City Recreation Council and contributing to the erection of road standards as well as the city beautification program.

The group has instituted a program of scholarships and other awards for commercial students of the area high schools. It sponsors the Future Business Women's Club at the local high school.

Participating on an international basis, the BPW Club entertained a teacher from Guatemala for several days, taking her on a tour of area business places and holding a reception.

At present, the club has a member serving on the local Board of Education and members are designated to sit in on the regular sessions of City Council.

About 20 attend the annual state conventions and the president generally goes to the national event.

On May 16, 1939, when the club was chartered, there were 37 members enrolled. The present membership is 117.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, instrumental in organizing the group, served as charter president and then again for the 20th anniversary year. She prepared the editorial content compiled for the 1949 tabloid commemorating the 10th anniversary and again for the 20th anniversary booklet, when the club celebrated with a dinner party.

She has served as director of District 8 and at present is state personal development chairman. Mrs. Wambaugh planned and arranged two successful personal development conferences in 1962-63 at Columbus.

Who was Midland's first police chief?

Charles McNeil, a farmer, served as constable during the early days of the borough, and later became burgess. The first chief, however, was J. C. Atkinson, appointed by Council in 1907.

Area Man Made Mark In Science

By GLENN H. WAIGHT

One of America's noted scientists and educators who in the late 19th century helped to broaden understanding of nature's basic laws was Thomas Corwin Mendenhall, born and raised near Hanoverton.

Prof. Mendenhall, who taught at various high schools, including Salem, was superintendent of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, served as president of two technical institutes and was on the faculty at Ohio State University where the Mendenhall Laboratory of Physics is named after him.

Born Oct. 4, 1841, the youngest of five children of Stephen and Mary Thomas Mendenhall and of Quaker stock, from childhood he showed a fondness for mathematics and natural science. He was largely self-educated, his formal learning obtained at the local public schools and Southwestern Normal College at Lebanon, from which he was graduated in 1861.

HE TAUGHT at area schools while studying advanced math and physics, and was elected to the faculty of Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College (now Ohio State) in 1873.

He helped to popularize science through small organizations and his lectures through the Midwest where there was scanty technical knowledge. Through his interest in research and his charm on the platform, he greatly aided the spread of scientific understanding.

In 1878, Prof. Mendenhall was called to the faculty of the Imperial University at Tokyo, where he served three years, establishing a lab and a meteorological observatory and conducting research on gravity and siesmological study.

He returned to Ohio State in 1881, teaching for three years and organizing and directing the state weather bureau, and in 1884 was named professor of electrical science for the U. S. Signal Corps at Washington.

TWO YEARS later he accepted the presidency of Rose Polytechnical Institute at Terre Haute, Inc., where he wrote his noted, "A Century Of Electricity".

In 1889, President William Henry Harrison appointed him superintendent of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey where he made his influence felt as a scientist and administrator. He designed an improved apparatus for measuring gravity, and planned a transcontinental series of gravity measurements.

He was the first to propose the use of the ring pendulum for measuring the absolute force of gravity, and also set new higher standards of scholarship requirements for entering the Survey service.

WHILE IN Washington, he served upon various important boards and commissions, such as the U. S. Lighthouse Board, the Board of Geographic Names, the first Bering Sea Commission and the Alaska Boundary Commission.

In 1894, Mendenshall became president of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, where he served until ill health forced him to resign in 1901. He went to Europe to recuperate, remaining there 11 years.

Upon his return in 1912, he settled in Ravenna, where he died in 1924 at the age of 83.

The professor published numerous monographs and papers on science, receiving wide recognition. He was not a college graduate, but held many honorary degrees, and was elected to the National Academy of Sciences.

HE WAS president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and was awarded the noted Franklin Institute Medal of Philadelphia. A bronze tablet memorial to him is in Salem High School, where he taught early in his career.

Barleycorn's Birthday

State Liquor Monopolies Started 30 Years Ago

By The Review Staff

John Barleycorn, a happy shadow of illegality in the Tri-State area during the era of Prohibition, returned 30 years ago wearing a business suit and the bored expression of a state employe.

Banned for 13 years by national law, liquor became legal and bottled whisky began to be dispensed through state monopolies in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

On Jan. 2, 1934, Pennsylvania became the first state in the nation to open a state liquor store system. Ohio followed in March.

HOWEVER, sales of "hard liquor" were under way in some places in Ohio and Pennsylvania the day after the November 1933 election, which saw 37 states vote to repeal the 18th Amendment, ending the Great Drought of Prohibition.

Legal sales in Ohio were not officially permitted until Dec. 23 when druggists were allowed to sell whisky under 60-day permits.

Some 63 state stores in Pennsylvania began sales the first day permitted in that state. Midland's store at 739 Midland Ave., with James Miller of Monaca in charge, did not open its doors until Jan. 9, a delay due to remodeling and stocking the outlet.

The Midland store remained at that site for 29 years, transferring last May to 508 Midland Ave. John Walsh is the present manager. There are now 682 Pennsylvania stores.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S first store began sales in April 1934, with Millard E. Blythe, former manager of the Community Bank, as manager.

It was located on W. 5th St. at the site of the present Sears Roebuck Co. store.

The outlet was later transferred to the corner of Walnut at W. 5th St., where it remained for about 20 years before moving to the bus terminal building in September, 1962.

WELLSVILLE'S store was opened in June 1955 at the present location, 1245 Main St. Bernard Ferrence is the manager.

Wellsville had liquor agencies in the early 1930's. One was in the McLaughlin Drug Store, where the Julius Goetz Co. is now, and another was at Brennan's Drug Store, now the Culp Pharmacy.

The first state store in Chester began business in 1935 at Carolina Ave. near 6th St. where Wilson's Tavern is now located. Richard Banfield was the manager.

Paul Edwards, current manager, said the state store was suspended during World War II when liquor became scarce, but an agency was licensed in the Gordon Building of Carolina Ave. near Dunn St.

The store was reopened after the war, and moved to the present site near 5th St. about 1948.

Sales at the Chester store have almost tripled since the first store began, and it for many years led the state in the highest average price per bottle. The Chester store still sells a higher price brand of liquor than most West Virginia outlets.

LISBON'S state outlet sold its first bottle in 1935 — in the Hamilton's Drug Store of W. Lincoln Way where it remains. It has been in the drug store all but three months of its thirst-quenching career. It is under the direction of Adam Rudibaugh, owner of the drug store.

Pennsylvania's dollar sales volume of liquor in 1934 amounted to $41 million. In 1962 it was $308 million.

Ohio and West Virginia show similar increases, reflected in the sales of the area outlets whose managers are not permitted to release sales figures without approval of top officials.

Mr. Barleycorn, since he joined the state payrolls and became legal three decades ago, has become "big business".

Last year, Norman Meyers, a 27-year-old Kenya schoolteacher dressed in shorts and field hockey boots, hiked to the summit of Mt. Kilimanjaro in record-breaking time — 13 hours and 40 minutes.

Wanted: A Trip To America

Japanese Girl Seeks To Further Education Here

By ARTHUR THOMAS
Editor, The Review

There's a 16-year-old girl in Japan who wants to come to the United States in the worst way. And — if possible — she would prefer living in East Liverpool or the immediate area.

Her name is Setsuko Hosokawa. Her reason for wanting to leave her native land—to further her education in America and to learn first-hand about our way of life.

Two obstacles must be overcome before Setsuko's dream can come true. She must have a sponsor — someone or some group which will be responsible for her during her stay in America — providing food, clothing, shelter, etc. And she must have permission of the U.S. State Department to enter the country under the student exchange program.

THE REVIEW first became interested in the young lady, who resides in the city of Takarazuka in Hyogo prefecture, through a letter which arrived early in November.

Addressed to the editor, it said in part: ". . .Although I realize it is very presumptuous of me, I have a great favor to ask of you. I wonder if it would be possible for you to find a sponsor.

"You may be interested to know that Japanese boys and girls are very eager for knowledge of the United States. Not the kind of knowledge that one finds in the geography and history books. I want to see the life of America through my eyes. And I want to study in your country. . . .Please, will you help me?"

THE APPEAL had such a note of sincerity about it that we decided to follow through and see what could be done for Setsuko, who now is attending a high school in Japan and whose hobbies are painting in oil and playing tennis.

SETSUKO HOSOKAWA
Dreams Of Coming To Ohio.

A letter to Japan followed, with a request that Setsuko forward a picture of herself to be used with this story.

Late in November came a reply, which expressed "deep gratitude for the kind letter you wrote me".

It went on, "Well, today I want to write about my family and life simply.

"In my family there are five, my father and mother, two brothers and myself.

"Father is 51 years old and mother is 42. Father works in a spinning company at Osaka. My elder brother is eight years older than I am. He works in a bank.

"My younger brother is 14 years old. He is good at playing tennis.

"Allow me to tell you about myself. I am in the first year of Kobe college, senior high school. My school is a Christian high school for girls and a private institution. I go to school only five days a week. Sometimes I go to church on Sunday.

"Now, I have two questions. First, I want to ask you about school. What high schools or colleges are there in East Liverpool? And tell me something about the city of East Liverpool. I want to know it best. I should be very happy if you could see your way clear to complying with my request. I am enclosing a snapshot of myself."

SHORTLY, another letter was on its way to Japan, with brochures and other material supplied by the Chamber of Commerce describing East Liverpool and the surrounding area.

Then, in a letter dated Dec. 21, came the third note from Setsuko.

It contained a "thank you" for the information which we had forwarded about East Liverpool and included this remark: "I could know the city of East Liverpool fully. I want to live in East Liverpool very much."

We were interested in knowing why the Japanese girl had selected The Review as the recipient of her first letter. She explains in her own words: "I wrote letters to three newspaper offices in the United States, but I have heard nothing from two newspaper offices yet. So, when I received your first letter I was very glad and happy.

"The reason why I selected your newspaper office among the newspaper offices. I especially wanted to go to Ohio in the United States. When I was a junior high school student, I heard that Ohio is a very good place in which to live and study. Your name and address were given in the newspaper thesaurus, so I wrote you."

If any group or individual is interested, please contact me at The Review and we'll see what can be done about lending a helping hand to a Japanese girl who wants to come to America very badly.

Walters Takes Over As Superintendent

By BYRON EELLS

A mist shrouds the air, equipment has been stored and benches are blanketed with snow as winter grips Thompson Park where Joseph W. Walters has taken over as superintendent, replacing William Bell who retired reluctantly after 34 years.

A former fire inspector, Walters, 44, officially assumed his duties Wednesday after working three days a week during the fall to become acquainted with his work. He was appointed by the Board of Thompson Park commissioners late in August.

BELL, WHO has seen virtually every major improvement take place at the park, has moved with his wife to Sugar St.

When Bell first went to the park in 1929, only the upper pavilion had been erected and the roads were almost impassable, he recalled.

During his superintendency, the extensive expansion of the park facilities has seen construction of the municipal swimming pool, two more pavilions, the superintendent's home, three tennis courts, horseshoe courts, baseball diamonds, playgrounds, outdoor cooking facilities and the acquisition of equipment and launching of various athletic programs in the summer.

Signed by W. Leland Thompson, secretary, the letter said: "In your 34 years as superintendent, Thompson Park has grown into a well-known place of beauty offering comfort and pleasure to thousands who visit it yearly."

THE BOARD also paid tribute to Mrs. Bell, declaring she deserves considerable credit for the efficient scheduling of the many reunions and picnics held at the park.

A native of Pleasant County, W. Va., one of Bell's first jobs in this area about the end of World War I was as a nurseryman when the late C. A. Smith was establishing his apple orchards at Hillcrest Farms.

Following his marriage, Bell and his bride went to South Bend, Ind., where he joined a brother in operation of Spring Brook Park, which also featured an auto race track with a seating capacity of 9,000. "That was a big place in those days."

Perhaps his finest tribute as park superintendent is in the final sentence of the board's letter: "We and thousands in the tri - state district are indebted to you."

Roll dough into balls the size of walnuts. Dip tops in sugar, place, sugared - side - up, three inches apart on greased baking sheet. Sprinkle each cookie with two or three drops of water for a crackled surface.

Bake 10 to 12 minutes — just until set but not hard. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

SCALLOPED ONIONS

3 lb. yellow cooking onions
½ lb. mild cheese
¼ lb. snappy cheese
1 cup milk

Peel and cook onions in salt water until tender. Drain in colander, fluffing occasionally to insure dry onions.

Tri-State Tidbits

The 75,000-pound Diesel electric locomotives operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. in this area run continuously in the winter months to prevent the engines from freezing. The company finds it cheaper to keep the engines in operation all winter long than to crank them up each cold morning and waste fuel in the process. Eight large batteries are used in the water-cooled engines.

The bill forming Columbiana County was signed by Gov. Edwin Tiffin April 16, 1803. It extended to most of Carroll, all of present Stark to Tuscaroras River and southern part of present Mahoning. There were five subdivisions — St. Clair, Springfield, Middleton, Salem and Center Townships.

Burbick Will Graduate In June

Local Student At Navy Awaits 'Hats Aloft' Cry

By CHARLES R. CRONIN

In just a few more months, Craig Burbick of East Liverpool will toss his hat in the air.

But not in dismay. "Hats aloft" is a tradition followed at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis by first classmen like Craig when they receive commissions and diplomas in colorful ceremonies.

ALONG WITH the commission will come a diploma for completing studies constituting a degree in electrical engineering.

Now 6-4, 225 pounds, Craig feels he has really matured both physically and mentally at Annapolis, thanks to "exceptional" food and a rigid discipline system rivaled perhaps by only two other military schools.

"LIFE AT the Academy revolves around the discipline system," Craig says. To the midshipment, this means shaving twice a day, shining shoes and brass, and inspections, inspections and inspections.

"I don't come home anymore and throw stuff all over the house like I used to. Also, I stand straighter, practice good table manners and dress as neatly as possible."

CLASSES begin at 8 a. m. and continue each morning to noon and 1 to 3 in the afternoon. There are no studies on Saturday for first classmen.

The curriculum, basically

CRAIG BURBICK

electrical engineering, includes such tough courses as fluid dynamics, thermo dynamics, chemistry, calculus and physics. "Everybody has to study hard, but its a matter of application, really," Burbick asserts.

His study load is 23 hours, with 21 hours considered normal. He enrolled in some special courses, like public speaking, to add depth to his background.

Craig has maintained about a B average and no doubt has frequently tossed a few pennies at Tecumseh, the bronze figurehead of the USS Delaware that is one of the academy's most famous landmarks. Tecumseh is known to the middies as the "God of 2.5," the minimum passing mark.

The professor - student ratio at Annapolis, Craig says, is very good. "There are only 12 in the largest class, and most of the time there are only eight to 10."

CRAIG usually spends his free time in physical activities, such as basketball and golf.

It has been in golf that Craig has really excelled and gained local prominence as an athlete.

He's been the No. 1 man on Navy's team the past two years, and hopes to maintain that position in the spring.

Making the academy golf team provided Craig an opportunity to travel extensively to schools along the East coast. And he's played in two NCAA tournaments, at Wichita, Kan., and Durham, N. C.

Only 21, Craig has golfed with some noted personalities. They include crooner Perry Como and Johnny Unitas and Gino Marchetti of the Baltimore Colts.

In addition, Craig has been associated rather closely with two of the last three Heisman Trophy winners — Joe Bellino and Roger Staubach — from Navy.

BUT HIS most treasured possession is a large gold ring set with a ruby and flanked by his class crest and naval crest. "This means the worst three years are behind me," he says.

Colorful June Week ceremonies on the campus along the Severn River will end Craig's "trial by inquisition" and such routine as dress parades, "bracing" at the command of upperclassmen, "lights out" in Bancroft Hall, and "close your papers and fall in" will become only a memory.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burbick of Garner Ave., Craig plans to wed Miss Debby Dawson of East Liverpool after he leaves the Academy.

St. Clair—A Familiar Name

But few know the history of the plain - spoken Scotchman whose strange career made him the scapegoat of two publicly-denounced military defeats, who helped organize the Northwest Territory, who was removed from office by a president and who died in near poverty in Pennsylvania.

It was Thomas Fawcett, founder of the present East Liverpool, who designated his little village as St. Clair after Gen. Arthur St. Clair, then governor of the Northwest Territory.

He was born at Thurso, Scotland, March 23, 1736, of now uncertain parentage. He was the son of either Margaret Balfour and James St. Clair, a French army officer, or of Elizabeth and William Sinclair, a merchant.

St. Clair became an ensign in the British Army in 1757, serving with Lord Amherst in Canada. In 1760, he married Phoebe Bayard of Boston, and in time fathered seven children.

HE RESIGNED from the Army and purchased 4,000 acres of land in the Ligonier Valley of western Pennsylvania where he became a representative of Gov. William Penn.

With the outbreak of hostilities in the Revolution, St. Clair was made a colonel and sent to take part in the retreat of American forces from Canada.

In 1776-77 he was made a brigadier general and was with Gen. George Washington at Trenton and Princeton. Promoted to major general, he was ordered to the defense of Ft. Ticonderoga, then considered impregnable, but he evacuated the fort, to the dismay of the public, because he felt the defense did not justify the expected casualties.

FOR THIS, he was recalled from duty by Congress, but was exonerated in a court martial in 1778. However, he was not placed in any conspicuous command for the rest of the war.

Returning to civilian life, St. Clair entered Pennsylvania politics, and was named a state delegate to the American Continental Congress in 1785-87. He was president of the Congress in 1787.

In this post, he was obliged to defend the treaties with the Indians which deprived the red men of much of their lands north of the Ohio River. The Indians claimed the agreements had been made by fraud and military pressure, and wanted the river as the boundary.

This dissatisfaction led to wilderness fighting, and St. Clair was directed in 1791 to erect a chain of forts from Fort Washington to the mouth of the Maumee River, in the heart of the Indian Confederacy.

ST. CLAIR himself was ill with gout, and had to be helped onto his horse, and there was friction between him and his second in command, Gen. Richard Butler, who had more experience on the frontier but whose advice St. Clair ignored.

The federal army of about 1,400 men pushed on toward Ft. Wayne, and on Nov. 4, on a branch of the Maumee after St. Clair had sent his best regiment in pursuit of a group of deserters, the Indians charged out of the woods in a fierce attack, and routed the American troops.

Harsh criticism over the military disaster came from all sides, but President Washington and a committee of the House of Representatives absolved St. Clair from blame. He resigned from the Army however, and devoted his duties to the governorship.

St. Clair sought to enforce the spirit and letter of the Northwest Ordinance which established a highly centralized and undemocratic government.

By 1801 followers of Thomas Jefferson moved to oust St. Clair and form Ohio. They succeeded in creating a state, and after the governor refused to sign 11 of the 30 bills passed by the first legislature and denounced the state enabling act of Congress, President Jefferson withdrew him from office.

St. Clair returned to his Ligonier area home, aged, infirm and poor, and made an effort to develop his real estate, building an iron furnace to produce stoves and castings.

But due to generous lending of money, signing of notes for friends and the failure of the Republican Congress to reimburse him for funds he had advanced for a government expedition against the Indians, he lost his whole fortune.

HE STRUGGLED in Washington to get recognition of his claim to the funds, wrote a defense of himself in 1812, but the House of Representatives rejected 50-48 on third reading a bill which would have given the old veteran an annuity.

He went back to the Ligonier Valley, and lived in abject poverty with a widowed daughter and her family, also destitute. Pennsylvania finally granted him an annuity of $300, later $650, to provide a comfortable subsistence for the rest of his few years.

In August 1818 the old Scotchman, always "plain and simple in dress, open and frank in his manners," was injured when his horse ran away with him near Greensburg, Pa., and he died at the age of 84.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I safely test for a leaking gas connection in my home?

A. Never, of course, test with a lighted match! The results could be disastrous! Instead, make a strong solution of soap and water, of glycerin and water — such as children use for blowing bubbles. Brush this over the suspected connection and if there really is a leak, the gas will blow some bubbles for you.

Q.—How can I remove crayon marks from wallpaper?

A.—All traces of this kind of "artwork" are usually removed when lightly rubbed over with very fine steel wool. If done carefully, this will not damage your wallpaper.

Q.—How can I clean ebony brushes and mirrors that have become dull looking?

A.—Rub them with a soft cloth and white petroleum jelly. Rub until the wood has absorbed all the grease and acquired the gloss you are seeking.

Q.—What can I do about shoe polish stains on rugs?

Forzano, Maltarich Team For 41; Bowersock Is Sparkplug

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Bob Forzano and Bob Maltarich combined for 41 points and little Dave Bowersock, coming from a battle with the flu, supplied a sparkplug performance to engineer the East Liverpool Potters to a victory over Oak Glen, 66-46, Friday night at Memorial Auditorium before a packed house of some 1,500.

The contest marked the first meeting between the two schools and the performance of both teams was below par.

East Liverpool, capturing its third victory in seven starts, has a chance to even the season record tonight at Youngstown South. The Warriors show a 2-4 record after defeating Youngstown North, 66-61, last night.

TONIGHT'S action will open with a reserve game at the South High Fieldhouse at 7 followed by the varsity contest at 8:30.

Oak Glen's many turnovers and poor shooting led to its fifth straight defeat. Coach Bob Starkey's Golden Bears had 72 cracks at the hoop and hit on 18 for 25 per cent, while the Potters netted 25 of 71 for 35 per cent.

The first half was close most of the way, with East Liverpool gaining the upper hand in the closing minutes to grab a 29-22 margin at intermission.

Coach Jim Harris' team broke the game wide open in the third quarter when Bowersock, the 5-6 guard, pumped in eight points, making four of five shots, to push the Potters in front 46-33 at the end of the period.

FORZANO, the Potters' leading scorer, picked up the slack in the fourth period by scoring nine points to push the Blue and White to a better advantage over their neighbors from West Virginia.

Forzano scored 14 of his 21 points in the second half and made nine of 26 shots for the night. The 21 markers were his biggest output of the season.

The best marksman was junior Bob Maltarich, who came up with his first 20-point performance. He made 7 of 11 attempts from the field and dropped in six of nine from the foul line.

MALTARICH did most of his scoring in the first half when the game was in danger for the Potters. He scored 14 points in the opening half, then Forzano and Bowersock carried the Potters into the winners circle the second half.

Frank McComas, following a 23-point performance against Massillon, added six points to the attack, all in the first half. He was valuable in the second half also with several assists.

THE POTTERS played without the service of Randy Stover, the 6-4 pivot and leading rebounder. Bill Hall, who started in his place, added but two points to the attack.

As a result of Stover being out of the lineup, Oak Glen won the battle of the rebounds, with Tom Franczek leading the way. Franczek did an outstanding job of controlling the boards for the Golden Bears, especially in the first half, and wound up with seven points.

SAM SIMMONS, a leading scorer at Newell last season, topped Oak Glen in the point department with 14 and was the only Golden Bear in the double figures.

Simmons made six of 17 attempts, but missed on several shots near the bucket.

THE FIRST HALF ended with the Potters in front 15-9. Maltarich had his finest eight minutes when he drilled home 10 points in the second quarter to push the Potters in front at halftime 29-22.

Franczek with a field goal and foul, plus Robinson's foul brought the count down to 29-26, but Bowersock made his appearance with two quick field goals to push the count to 33-26.

THAT LEAD looked comfortable until Simmons hit for two quick goals, McKitrick followed with a foul and Carnes a bucket to put Oak Glen back in the contest at 36-33.

East Liverpool closed out the third quarter by scoring the last 10 points with two field goals by Maltarich, a pair by Bowersock and one by Forzano.

Oak Glen will entertain Beaver Local tonight on the Chester court.

Toronto Rallies To Top Tigers, 55-41

Coulter Nets 28; Midland Next Foe

Bogging down in the second half, Wellsville High dropped a 55-41 Buckeye Border Conference battle at Toronto Friday night.

The Red Knights, led by Tom Coulter's 28 points, came up with their first victory over the Tigers since Jan. 2, 1959.

Wellsville blew a six - point halftime lead, and was held to only 15 points in the entire second half as the Red Knights of Coach Paul Kalivoda won going away.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers (3-3) return to action tonight in hosting unbeaten Midland (9-0) at Beacom Memorial gym. Midland rules a big favorite by virtue of experience, height and poise.

Against Toronto, the Tigers worked well enough to pull ahead to a 26-20 lead by halftime. At the outset of the third period, Ernie Saxton tallied two quick goals, and Coulter hit from outside to tie at 26-26.

Lester Bennett of Wellsville connected on a foul shot, giving Wellsville a one - point lead, 27-26. Then Saxton hit again and Toronto picked up a lead it never relinquished again.

Wellsville's promising Dick Call, 5-11 junior, sat out some of the second quarter, most of the third, and fouled out in the final quarter. He finished with 11 points.

Pivot Terry Flesch tallied 11, and no others were in double figures for the Tigers. Pat Welch was the chief rebounder, and made six points.

Cincinnati Nips Oregon Five, 57-53

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oregon State's eighth-ranked Beavers probably wouldn't have minded at all if Cincinnati basketball ace Ron Bonham had been even rougher on them in the first of the teams' two-game series.

Bonham, a vital cog in fourth-ranked Cincinnati's attack, came close to being ejected for his rough play in the early minutes of Friday night's contest. But he cooled down, got hot and sparked the Bearcats to a 57-53 victory.

At the same time, wizardous Walt Hazzard bounced UCLA, the nation's number two team, to an 88-83 triumph over stubborn Washington State on a night when just about all of the major action took place on the West Coast.

The 6-foot-5 Bonham, an All-America last year, scored 28 points and brought Cincinnati from an early 10-point deficit to its eighth victory in 10 contests. His performance overshadowed that of Oregon State's seven-footer Mel Counts, who tallied 33 points.

Down 18-8 midway through the first half, the Bearcats rallied behind Bonham and tied the game 28-28 at halftime.

Then, with the score tied again at 32-32 early in the second half, Gene Smith and Bonham broke loose for layups and a Cincinnati lead that Oregon State never headed. The loss gave the Beavers a 9-2 record.

UCLA was well on the way to its 10th victory without a defeat when Washington State rallied late in the second half. Five quick baskets helped cut UCLA's lead from 14 points to six at 81-75, and the West Coast's top team appeared wobbly.

At this point Hazzard, the Bruins' backcourt whiz, took control of the ball and, as it turned out, the game. For 90 seconds, just about half of the time remaining, Hazzard dribbled the ball.

When he finished he plunked in two free throws and a 10-foot jump shot that sealed the victory. He had 18 points in all while teammate Gail Goodrich scored 28.

South Side Goes To Foul Line For 55 To 54 Victory

South Side High's Rams let the visitors do nearly all of the fouling and it meant a victory in the opening of Section 15-B play Friday night, 55-54, over Snowden Township.

The host Rams were outgoaled from the floor by seven, but poured 19 of 34 free throws through the hoops for a one-point verdict.

Snowden was accorded only seven free throws, and made four. The losers had 25 field goals to only 18 by the Rams.

Dawson Frasier popped in 22 points to lead Coach Dave Nichol's squad to its first league victory, and fifth in 10 games overall. Bill Powell and Dave Ashcroft hit 13 each.

Lewis led Snowden Township with 20 points. Finch, Ackerley and Taylor, all starters, fouled out in the final period.

South Side came from behind in the third quarter and remained in front the rest of the way, although the lead was never big enough to be termed comfortable.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — The College of William and Mary has hired Marv Levy for the sizable task of giving the college something it hasn't had for more than a decade—a football winner.

Levy, 39, was appointed head coach at W&M late Friday, less than one month after his resignation as football coach at the University of California. He succeeds Milt Drewer, who in seven years of trying could not restore the Indians to their eminence of the 1940's.

Midland Remains Undefeated In Section Play, 69-41

★ ★ ★ Western Beaver 4th Cage Victim ★ ★ ★

By ANDY NUZZO

The all-around power of the Midland Leopards proved too much for the young Western Golden Beavers, and Hank Kuzma's outfit trounced their backyard rival by a 69-41 score before an enthusiastic throng at Midland Friday night.

The win was the fourth straight in Section 8 for the Leopards and their ninth straight for the season. They remain tied with the Hopewell Vikings for the league lead.

Coach George Hromanik's Western five suffered their fifth section setback in as many starts. The overall season slate of the Golden Beavers stands at 2-6.

Four players scored in double figures to pace the powerful Midland machine. Junior Sim Hill, who did not start the game and sat out the majority of the last two quarters, led the way with 17 points. The 6-5 center meshed eight fielders and one of three free throws.

Junior Norman Vanlier, the 5-11 playmaking guard of the Leopards, ripped the cords on six field goals and one of two charity tosses for 13 markers.

Junior forward Ron Brown followed with 12 points on five fielders and two of five from the free throw line. He twisted his ankle near the end of the first quarter and did not see any action until the second half.

Senior forward Rod Alston chipped in with 10 markers and junior Rich House, who drew his first starting assignment of the season, played well and added nine points.

Midland was in complete control of the boards, grabbing 46 rebounds to Western's 21. Hill pulled down 14 strays and Brown grabbed nine.

The 6-3 senior center meshed field goals and two of three free throws for 12 points. He was the only Western player to score in double figures.

Midland held a hot hand from the field, hitting on 27 of 52 field goal attempts for a torrid 54 per cent. Western canned 16 of 68 tries for 24 per cent.

The Golden Beavers played a slow and deliberate type of game at the outset, but it did not bother the Leopards who jumped out to a 14-3 first quarter lead.

They increased their margin to 31-8 at the half and 52-21 after three periods of play.

In the last period, Western outscored Midland, 20-17, but it was to no avail as the game was already out of reach.

In the reserve contest, the Midland JV's swamped the Western Reserves of Richard Shingler, 55-31. Brent Lake of Midland led all scorers with 23 points. Jim Miller added 10 markers to the Leopard attack. Ray Hendershot was high for the Golden Beavers with 10 points.

Tonight Midland will travel to Wellsville for an exhibition contest with the Tigers. Next Tuesday the Leopards return to Section 8 play when they play host to the Riverside Panthers.

Western entertains New Brighton on the same night.

Brown-Taylor Battle Looms In Playoff Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The prospect of a fierce struggle between fullbacks Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns and Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers added interest today for the pro Playoff Bowl game Sunday and sponsors predicted a 50,000 crowd in the Orange Bowl.

It will be the first meeting of the season between Brown and Taylor, two of football's greatest ground gainers. Brown rushed for 1,863 yards this season and Taylor 1,018 yards, the fourth straight year he passed the 1,000-yard mark.

Green Bay, with a season's record of 11-2-1, remained a six-point favorite in the fourth annual affair matching runners-up of the Eastern and Western divisions of the National Football League.

The Packers failed to repeat as champions because they lost to the Chicago Bears twice and that alone may give them the edge.

"In a game like this, it becomes a matter of personal pride," said Packer Coach Vince Lombardi; "A matter of each man saying to himself that he'll give it all he's got, all the way.

"This club has played in three championship games in three years and many of the same players are on the team. We aren't playing for a championship in the Orange Bowl, but the fellows seem to be ready."

Lou Groza, Cleveland's placement specialist, thinks the Browns are ready, too, with a healthy mental attitude and quiet confidence. Groza has kicked 1,246 points in his 18 years with the Browns and at 39 is conditioning himself for the game with as much enthusiasm as he did as a rookie of 21.

"Truthfully, I feel fine," he said. "As far as age goes, some people are old when they're 25, whether they're playing football or a violin. Attitude has the most to do with it."

Both Lombardi of the Packers and Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns have worked on pass patterns and the Browns are expected to throw more than usual, with Frank Ryan doing the tossing.

Noting that the Browns led the league in rushing, Collier said "we'll have to throw more to beat the Packers. The attack has to be better balanced."

Kickoff time is 2 p.m. EST and the game will be televised over 210 stations by CBS, with the local area blacked out.

Chargers Slight Favorite To Win AFL Title Sunday

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The four-season-old American Football League settles its 1963 championship Sunday with the slightly favored San Diego Chargers meeting the Boston Patriots, losingest finalist in major pro grid history.

The Western Division champion Chargers, finishing with an 11-3 record, are pegged a 6½-point choice in the title showdown before an expected 30,000 in Balboa Stadium.

The game will be televised and broadcast nationally by the American Broadcasting Company, beginning at 4:30 p.m. EST.

Although Boston is making its first championship try, San Diego will be striving to win a title game for the third time in the AFL's brief existence.

Defensive-minded Boston clawed its way to the Eastern crown after losing all five preseason games by whipping Buffalo in a regional playoff after each finished with a feeble 7-6-1 record.

Sunday's attendance will fall well below last year's record crowd of 37,891 at Houston as Dallas nipped the Oilers 20-17 for the title. Not only is the Balboa Stadium capacity limited to 34,500 but San Diego football fans will be able to get TV reception of the game from Los Angeles.

Because of the annual stepup in title game proceeds from the AFL's five-season TV package, each player's share will top the $2,206 per winner and $1,471 per loser last year. This time, each winning player may pocket about $2,500 and each losing player about $1,700.

It is quite a tribute to the Patriots, who arrived in this sunny city Wednesday after three weeks of practice wearing sneakers on frozen turf, that they are only a one-touchdown underdog.

Boston already has lost three times to the Chargers. San Diego walloped Boston 50-17 in a pre-season clash and then whipped Mike Hotovak's Patriots twice in regular season play, 17-13 and 7-6.

However, since losing the 7-6 game in Boston Nov. 10, the Patriots have been bolstered by return of fleet halfback Ron Burton and the late season blooming of quarterback Babe Parilli.

Bork-Carlisle Passing Duel Expected In Challenge Bowl

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—A rip-roaring passing duel between George Bork of Northern Illinois and Beau Carter of Fresno State, with Duke Carlisle, passing star of the Cotton Bowl, standing in the wings, was the prospect today as the Southwest met the Nationals in the Southwest Challenge Bowl.

Carlisle, who passed and ran Navy into the ground for national champion Texas, is here to play defense—he hopes—but all indications are that he'll be persuaded to go on offense before the day is over. Carlisle wants to confine his activities to defense because that's where he'll try to play in pro football, probably with the Green Bay Packers.

Coaches Al Davis of the Oakland Raiders and Pop Ivy of the Houston Oilers, handling the Nationals and Southwest respectively, have indicated they want to keep the ball in the air and each have the passers and catchers to do it.

Hugh Rohrschneider, Brok's favorite target while passing to the national small college leadership, will be on the receiving end along with Dick Limerick of Iowa State, Don Caun of Penn State and Matt Snorden of Michigan State.

Carter, John Jacobs of Arizona State University and Carlisle, if he unlimbers his passing arm, will have Nick Spinelli of Miami, George Mira's favorite catcher; Pete Jacquess of Eastern New Mexico, and others with outstanding pass-catching ability.

There were a couple of last-minute changes. Bobby Brown, the All-Ameria guard from Nebraska, said he would be unable to come here and Gus Kasapis, Iowa guard, was substituted for him on the Nationals squad.

But otherwise, all the players expected are here and ready for the second annual Challenge Bowl that pits players from the Southwestern states against the rest of the nation. A crowd of 10,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. CST kickoff.

Ginsberg, Black Lead In LA Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roger Ginsberg of New York and James Black of North Carolina led the way into the second round of the $50,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament today after an opening round which left most everyone flabbergasted.

Everyone includes Black, a 23-year-old ex-caddy from Charlotte, N.C. who astonished himself Friday with a sensational finish in which he birdied the 17th hole and flagged in an eagle-three with an 80-yard approach on the final hole.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leading scorers in the first round of the $50,000 Los Angeles Open Friday:

Must Fight More Often, Torres Says After Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Jose Torres hopes to shake off more of his ring rust and fight his way to a middleweight title fight. There's a lot to be scraped off, and Jose is the first to admit it.

"I was only 60 per cent of myself at most," said the Puerto Rican middleweight champion Friday night after he gained a unanimous decision over Jose Gonzalez in a bruising, butting brawl at Madison Square Garden.

"I must fight more often," said Torres. "I only had two fights last year and three the year before. You begin to lose your skills when you don't fight regularly."

Torres said he'd like to meet Joey Archer, the No. 2 contender from New York next. Archer is a fancy dan boxer, and Jose figures to look better against him than he did against the strong, awkward, mauling Gonzalez.

Gonzalez, conqueror of top-ranking Rubin Carter of Paterson, N.J., and Archer, is the No. 9 contender while Torres, despite a better numerical record, is unranked.

South Rated Favorite In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The passing and kicking combination of George Mira and Billy Lothridge established the South as a seven-point favorite to win the 15th annual Senior Bowl football game today.

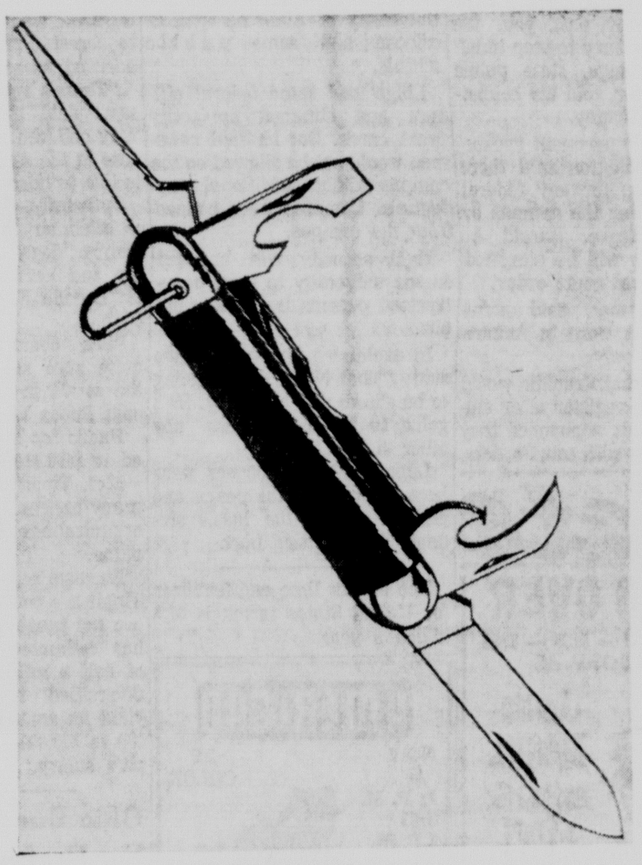
The South leads 9-5 in the series which began in 1950.

South Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys sought his first victory in the classic. He coached the North in 1962 and 1963 and was defeated both times.

This year's North Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions, making his first Senior Bowl appearance, hoped to snap the string of three straight South victories.

Wilson's hopes rode on Jack Concannon, Boston College's ace passer, who opposed Mira in what may prove to be a replay of the North-South game at Miami. Mira led the South to a 23-14 victory.

If the South attack bogged down, Landry could call on the accurate toe of Lothridge, who led the nation in field goals this season with 12.



SHARP KNIFE
SHARP BOY

The average boy takes considerable pride in having a knife of his own. He handles it umpteen times a day, making sure that it is clean and free from moisture, as he protects it from abuse. He realizes that he must take care of it if it is to serve him well.

In like manner, a boy takes a great deal of pride in his newspaperboy business. Moreover, if he takes good care of his business it serves him well. What he learns supplements his school work. The personal traits which he develops—thrift, friendliness, punctuality, and willingness to accept responsibility—will benefit him all his life. The practical business experience he gains will help him in any career which he may choose.

Compass Errors Need Clarifying

By JOHN BOHANNAN

Some boat owners never seem to understand compass errors or what to do about them.

Much of the confusion arises from the compass image formed in boyhood days — a tiny, dancing needle hovering over a card printed with cardinal and intercardinal points and subdivisions.

In this type of compass the needle was supposed to be held reasonably stationary by the earth's magnetism and the user rotated the case until the north point on the card was directly under the north end of the needle. Then the directions could be read.

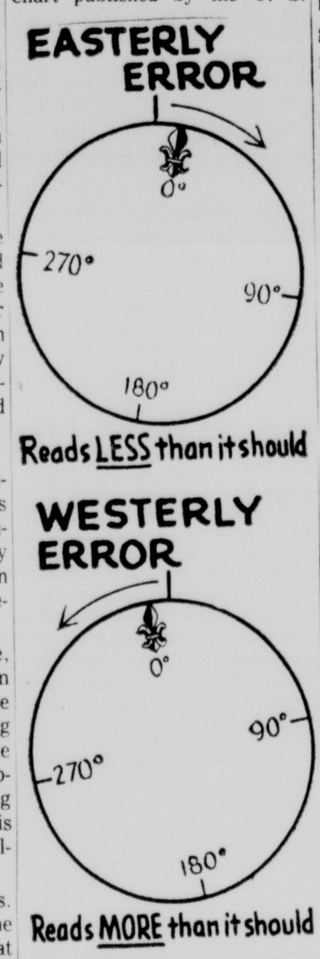
A MARINE compass is entirely different. The needle is attached to the card and the entire card is held stationary by the earth. As the boat is put on her various courses, she revolves around the card.

A mark, called a lubber line, is inscribed on the adjacent rim of the compass to pinpoint the reading. Instead of dancing around in a jittery fashion, the marine compass card is damped as it floats on a non-freezing solution. The only difficulty is that the marine compass seldom points to the true north.

There are two types of errors. One is in the earth itself. The magnetic lines of force vary at different points on the earth's surface, sometimes pointing east and sometimes west of true north. This error is called variation and can be found by looking at the compass rose on any chart published by the U. S. Coast & Geodetic Survey, U. S. Army Engineers, or Canadian Hydrographic Service.



The other error is called deviation. It is caused by magnetic materials carried aboard the boat. Most potent is the engine, representing the largest mass of iron. As the boat swings around in a circle, the combined magnetism of all ferrous objects on the boat is either in line with the earth's magnetic north and south, causing no deviation, or it is to the east or west, pulling the north end of the card to one side or the other.

WHEN THE north point on the card is pulled to the east (clockwise rotation), the card reads less than it should in degrees; when it's pulled to the west (counter-clockwise) the reading is more than it should be.

If you will think about this a minute, you'll find that one sentence memorized will clear up all the confusion — "add easterly when correcting". This gives the clue to the entire procedure. Naturally, you subtract westerly errors when correcting.

Correcting is the process of translating a compass course to a true course. First apply deviation to get the magnetic course, then variation to get the true course.

"Uncorrecting" is just the opposite. You lay out a true course on the chart. To find what compass course to steer, apply variation to obtain the magnetic course, then deviation is applied to learn the compass course. When "uncorrecting", you subtract easterly errors and add westerly errors.

Questions and Answers

Q.—How can I obtain personal help in learning to use the compass and charts?

A.—Inquire at your marine dealer's or at a boat club to contact the nearest unit of the U. S. Power Squadrons or U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. Both organizations hold classes.

A.—It must be set to true north at the beginning of a passage, then reset at intervals to compensate for drift.

Compass Terms

Magnetic course — The direction the compass should show if there were no deviation errors from local attraction on the boat.

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—A hundred state troopers took up positions today around Auburn University under strict orders to bar federal agents from the campus when the school's first Negro student registers.

"If any federal agent tries to force his way past you, use force if necessary to stop him," Col. Albert Lingo, state public safety director, told his helmeted troopers Friday.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said there were no plans for any federal officers to enter the campus or escort the Negro, Harold A. Franklin, who will be admitted under a federal court order.

The spokesman said some federal agents were in Auburn as observers only.

Lingo said that Franklin would be allowed to register after university officials announced they would comply with court orders.

While Lingo's action raised the possibility of a new federal-state confrontation, the federal reaction apparently erased the threat of a showdown similar to Gov. George C. Wallace's use of troopers last fall to temporarily block Negroes from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa and some public schools.

Lingo said some federal officers had obtained university press cards. But he said newsmen would not be allowed on the campus without additional credentials. Cameras were banned from the campus.

Tight security was imposed on the university to keep unauthorized persons from the campus.

In explaining his order, Lingo said: "That Negro is not going to be shown any partiality. He's going to be treated like any other student."

Lingo said his troopers were here to preserve the peace and prevent any of the 10,000 students from getting hurt.

Fund Increases To $498,110 For Tippit's Widow

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. J. D. Tippit has received almost half a million dollars in 43 days. But she says she wants to live as she did when her husband made just over $100 a week.

The slight, dark-haired woman has sought privacy since her husband was slain as he tried to arrest President Kennedy's accused assassin.

"There's really nothing I can say," said the Dallas widow. "My children and I plan to stay here in the same house, and try to live as normally as possible."

Outwardly, Mrs. Tippit pays no attention to the day-to-day count of donations to a fund for her and her children—Charles, 13; Brenda Kay, 10, and Curtis Glen, 5.

Funds for Mrs. Tippit mounted to $498,110 Friday.

Mrs. Tippit also has received many notices of contributions to organizations in her husband's name.

Because contributions to Mrs. Tippit are considered gifts, they are not taxable. A bank official has estimated that investment of half a million dollars in a diversified trust fund would yield an annual income of $18,000 to $20,000—about triple Tippit's salary.

Ohio Due 3 Offices For Drafting Lodge

BOSTON (AP) — A projected chain of offices planned across the country to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination will include at least three in Ohio.

Robert R. Mullen, national coordinator of a drive to obtain signatures, announced Friday that offices will be opened next week in Cleveland, Elyria and Springfield, Ohio. Mullen said his headquarters will be in Washington, D. C.

Mullen said the group sponsoring the drive, "The Committee to Secure Delegates for Lodge", has not been in touch with Lodge, who presently is U. S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Kentucky County Tabs Negro As Candidate

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — O. M. Travis Jr., a Negro insurance man who was educated and formerly lived in Ohio, has been selected by the Fayette County Republican Party as its candidate for the 53rd District seat in the Kentucky House of Representatives.

Travis, who graduated from Wilberforce University in 1947 and took graduate work at Ohio State University before going into the insurance business in Columbus, will vie for the seat with Democrat H. Foster Pettis in a special election Jan. 16.

GASOLINE ALLEY

OFF THE RECORD

"All we got left is the goulash."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What causes the whitish bloom that appears on furniture after washing, and what can I do about it?

A.—Usually this happens on furniture with a poor finish. Polishing usually corrects it. On varnished surfaces try wiping the furniture with a soft cloth moistened with pure raw linseed oil. For a shellacked piece use a cloth barely dampened with alcohol, wiping the surface slightly in order not to remove any of the finish. Polish afterwards.

Q.—How can I remove discolorations in aluminum kitchen vessels, caused by food or water containing iron?

Q.—Is there any way I can repair asbestos roof shingles that have become broken at the corners?

A.—You can make them look almost as good as new by gluing the broken piece back into place with white or matching calking cement.

A.—By painting over the woodwork with a solution of starch and water. After this has dried, rub it off with a soft brush or clean cloth. This also removes the stains. Woodwork treated in this manner doesn't harm the paint, and it stays good-looking for a longer time.

A.—These floors should be brushed with a soft-hair broom, or cleaned with the floor brush of your vacuum cleaner. Mop them occasionally with clear water or light suds. Rinse and dry. Do not wax.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: Why can cats see so well in the dark?

ANSWER: Cats are descended from animals who were especially clever in hunting at night. Their padded feet enabled them to make very little noise when moving, and the powerful hind legs gave them an ability to spring suddenly on their pray. The eyes of the cat family were and are of special value to them in their prowling and hunting at night.

Cats' eyes, like our own, have a dark inner pupil, and a colored ring around this, the iris. The iris can contract and can also open wide. This regulates the amount of light let into the eye. The cat can see better than we and most other animals can at night because its iris can open so very wide, allowing the greatest amount of light in when it is dark. By day, the round pupil in our own eyes grow smaller to shut out some of the light, but a special arrangement in the cats' eyes permits the iris to close so that the black pupil is in the shape of a slit. The reason that cats' eyes sometimes shine so brilliantly at night is that there is a layer of cells, or "tapetum," inside the eye colored green, gold, pink and blue, and it reflects these colors when light is shined into it.

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch the pupils of your cat's eyes change in shape as the light is changed from bright to dim.

★ ★ ★

It's A Miracle, Coach Says As Jet Crashes Near School

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—"Anyone who doesn't believe in God after today must be out of their minds," a high school coach said yesterday after an Air Force jet crashed a few feet away from a crowded high school.

Norman Ashworth, head basketball coach at Beavercreek High School, was joined in his amazement by Principal Roger Sweet. "It's just a miracle nobody got hurt," Sweet said.

More than 2,000 students and teachers were in the building when the plane—identified as an RB57D high altitude test craft—crashed in the center yard of the U-shaped building. The pilot had bailed out safely.

Several windows of the school were shattered by the impact which also knocked several students from their seats. The wings of the craft, which was on an experimental flight from Wright - Patterson Air Force Base, had fallen off at about 50,000 feet.

One wing was found in an orchard six miles from the school. A base spokesman said there might have been an explosion had the wings not fallen off. Fuel is stored in the wings of the plane which is similar in appearance to a U-2.

The pilot, Capt. Gerald E. Lyvere, 45, landed in a snow bank northwest of Xenia. He was listed in satisfactory condition.

Cleveland Boy, 17, Killed Accidentally

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 17-year-old east side youth was shot and killed accidentally Friday night by a 14-year-old companion, police reported.

Watts and the Adkinses were visiting at the Hager Home when the two youths went to an upstairs bedroom where they found a loaded 16-gauge shotgun. Police said Arlie was holding the gun when Randall grabbed it from him, accidentally pulling the trigger.

Car Fumes Blamed In Death Of Couple

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Lorain County Coroner Paul Kopsch has ruled accidental carbon monoxide poisoning caused the deaths of a man and a woman whose bodies were found in a car parked in a garage.

The bodies of Flor Lopez Alisea, 35, an unemployed steelworker, and Miss Rita Flores, 26, apparently had been in the car for three days before they were discovered Friday, Dr Kopsch said. Alisea's landlord found them in the steelworkers's garage.

Rhodes Says New Industry Goal In Depot 'Phasing Out'

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) —Gov. James A. Rhodes says the Defense Department's planned "phasing out" of the Erie Ordnance Depot here has launched Ottawa County on a determined effort to obtain new industry.

For that reason, the governor told about 40 business leaders here Friday, the planned closing of the depot, which employs more than 1,900 civilians, may be a "blessing in disguise."

"The spirit here and the enthusiasm is enough to recover from any catastrophe that hits Ottawa," the governor said. "The enthusiasm here is as great as in any county in the nation."

He said everything possible will be done to keep the depot open but added that Ottawa County residents should push hard to get new industry so that if the depot is closed in three years as planned new plans already will be in existence to take up the slack.

Rhodes and Development Director George Wilson said several industries outside Ohio have indicated an interest in Ottawa County, but said they were not at liberty to divulge their names.

Cyprus Parley Is Called Upon To 'Free' Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, has called upon the coming London conference to free the embattled Mediterranean island from foreign "intervention and interference."

His demand, aimed mainly at ending Turkey's special role in Cyprus, was certain to meet bitter opposition from the Turkish Cypriots at the conference opening later this month.

In his first general news conference since fighting broke out Dec. 21 between the island's Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities, Makarios expressed confidence peace would be restored between the ancient rivals.

To accomplish this, he said, the London conference must create "a really independent and unified state free from any form of outside intervention and interference."

He promised to seek such a solution, even if the London talk fail, "with all peaceful means at our disposal," including recourse to the United Nations.

Mother Of Child Actress Sought In Child Stealing

Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Manley J. Bowler issued the complaint after seeing a letter which he said indicated the mother, Mrs. Barbara Gardner, 30, has the child somewhere in California.

Accidental Shooting Fatal To Ohio Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eugene Ramsey, 24, of Columbus died Friday night of a head wound he received from a .22 caliber rifle fired by his brother Raymond, 32.

Raymond told authorities he had been teasing his brother with the rifle when it accidentally went off. No charges were filed pending investigation.

Mayor's Bid For Pay Cut To Be Reviewed

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Thomas Downing's request for a salary cut—vetoed by his predecessor—is to be reviewed by the state attorney general's office.
